CAN a beaten prize fighter come back? Jack Dempsey, decided by Tex Rickard, will try to answer "yes" in another fight with Tunney. The fight will be profitable and for Dempsey to win it would mean a third fight and more profits.

But the real answer ito the comeback, mental or physical, is NO. You can put a new main spring in a watch, but not in a man. You can renew the vigor of a worn out and tired out muscle but men fight with their nerves not with muscles. Once the nerve, mental or physical, is gone, it does not come back.

Henry the Second, of England, beaten, turned his face to the wall, said, "Shame on a beaten king" and died. That's the wise course.

THE Reverend Dr. Hall, whose murdered body was found beside that of his choir singer, Mrs. Mills, spoke of himself in letters to that lady as "your babykins." That sounds even worse than the little language that made the great Dean Swift seem silly.

Middle-aged gentlemen, clergymen especially, referring to themselves as "babykins" when writing to ladies in their choir, may expect trouble that particularly in "babykins" tragedy is one of the most dreadful in all records of jealous crime.

That the man and woman should have been shot dead is part of the regular procedure. But that the woman should have had her throat cut and her tongue cut out with a pair of shears after she was dead seems horribly unbelievable.

Rightly or wrongly the world will say "that was a woman's work."

Woman or man, everybody will know that it was the work of jealousy. In hellish hatred and cruel plotting, jealousy inspires the very worst. Let him beware who invites or risks that hatred.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—President Coolidge's special train, on which he went to Northampton, Mass., struck and demolished an automobile near Aberdeen, Md., early this morning, train officials said when the special passed through New York.

Two soldiers from the Aberdeen proving ground drove their automobile through the lowered gates at a crossing and crashed into the train, which was traveling at 45 miles an hour. They were only bruised, according to the train crew.

The front trucks of the locomotive were derailed, but prompt application of the brakes brought the train to a stop without more than a severe [illegible] after a delay of 15 minutes.

Vote "Straight G. O. P." Ticket.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 2.—With flashlights flaring and cameras clicking, President and Mrs. Coolidge in Memorial hall today cast ballots 309 and 310 for a "straight Republican ticket."

Arriving home at 9 a. m. on a special train from Washington to vote for Senator William M. Butler and Governor Alvan T. Fuller, the Coolidges were met at the railroad station by a reception committee, headed by Acting Mayor Samuel Dyre.

They went to the voting rooms in Memorial hall by automobile. A large crowd was on hand.

The president voted ballot 309 and his wife ballot 310.

On the way out of the voting room, the president and his wife stopped to exchange a few words with an old friend, Allen Clark, a voting inspector.

Accompanied by an escort of 15 mounted state police, the Coolidges went to their home in Massasoit avenue, a two-family house, where they were greeted by Mrs. Coolidge's mother, Mrs. Elmyra Goodhue.

Returns to White House.

After a brief rest at Mrs. Goodhue's home Mr. Coolidge returned to the Northampton high school and for an hour greeted his old constituents. The party then boarded the special train and started the return trip to Washington.

Among those who greeted the president here were former Mayor Harry E. Bicknell, who several times was beaten for that office by President Coolidge; Ralph W. Hemenway, the executive's law partner, and Judge Henry P. Field, in whose office Mr. Coolidge had read his first law.

FREE COOKING SCHOOL OPENS IN EAGLE HALL

HOME BUDGETING

Completely Furnished Kitchen is Stage Setting.

There was a great turnout of the East Liverpool women for the opening session today of the Free Cooking School which has been arranged under the auspices of the Review-Tribune at the Eagles' temple, Broadway.

The program selected for the opening of the school was replete with interesting things and the talk of Mrs. George O. Thurn was filled with just those bits of knowledge that you have been seeking for many years.

A rousing welcome was given Mrs. Thurn as she stepped upon the platform in her snow white garb.

The stage setting was a completely furnished modern kitchen equipped with every conceivable kind of device for the purpose of lessening woman's labor in the home.

Mrs. Thurn won her audience at the very start. She impressed everyone with the fact that she knows her art. And she certainly knows how to handle all that goes into a modern kitchen. At the close of the session, women flocked about the platform to get a close glimpse of the many varied things Mrs. Thurn used in preparing the delightfully tasty dishes and also to ask additional intimate questions.

For those who had been looking forward to the day on which Mrs. Thurn was to give her ideas on budget making in the home, today proved a gala day. She talked freely on how to relieve that state of frenzied finance in the home. Her simple method of tabulating was one of the most beneficial hints yet given out. She has made a special study of this all important phase of home keeping.

Tomorrow Mrs. Thurn will talk on "Our Children—Suggestion versus Punishment." On this subject she will discuss in detail varied phases of the subject the while she will do some interesting cooking and baking as well. There will be many market baskets filled and given away. More will be distributed each day. Come early.

REPUBLICANS CLAIM THEY WILL SWEEP STATE, DISTRICT AND COUNTY

Vote Board Instructs Precinct Judges to Count City Bond Proposal and School Tax Issue After Tabulation of Other Ballots, While Speed in Making Returns is Urged.

Approximately 15 per cent of the registered electors of East Liverpool had voted in the general election up to the noon hour today, according to reports from 15 of the 21 polling places.

The precincts, from all four wards, reported 900 ballots in the boxes. This is an average of 60 votes per precinct. If this ratio were maintained in all polling places, just 1,260 of the 8,000 qualified voters had exercised the suffrage privilege.

The largest vote was reported from Precinct B of the Second ward—Thompson hill—where 105 ballots had been marked. The poll in the two precincts on the Northside was fair, election officials said. But 23 ballots had been cast in Precinct G of the Fourth ward, located in the Stevenson garage, West Ninth street.

Chief interest centers in the three-cornered fight for the common pleas judgeship, in which Judge W. H. Spence and Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, both of Lisbon and Attorney W. F. Lones of Wellsville, are the candidates. The race for county commissioner between Conrad Berg, Leetonia, Democrat, and J. Howard Sinclair, Hanoverton, Republican, and also for sheriff between George Wright, the incumbent who is the Republican nominee, and F. C. Armstrong, Elkrun township, Democrat, is also attracting attention.

OHIO'S CHIEF INTEREST CENTERED IN FIGHTS FOR GOVERNOR AND SENATOR

Proposed Modification of Primary System Also Shares Attention of Buckeye State Electors.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—With ideal election weather on tap, Ohio voters went to the polls today. Chief interest centered in the election of a governor, a United States senator, and in a proposed amendment to the state constitution modifying the Buckeye state's primary election system.

The ballots, also, provide for election of a lieutenant-governor, a secretary of state, an attorney general, a state treasurer, a chief justice and two associate justices of the state supreme court, 22 congressmen, ten appellate court judges, 37 state senators, 136 state representatives, and hundreds of county officials, including common pleas judges, prosecuting attorneys, sheriffs, auditors, treasurers, recorders, clerks of common pleas courts and coroners.

Both Leaders Predict Victory.

Buckeye state voters, too, will determine the fate of many proposed bond issues and tax levies in various municipalities and school districts, contemplating expenditure of many millions of dollars for public improvements and school purposes. In many chartered cities, voters are asked to adopted amendments to their municipal charters.

FAR-FAMED BOLT OF "PRESIDENTIAL LIGHTNING" HANGS OVER BIG PARADE

Political Seers are Watching Results, With Interest Centered in New York, Massachusetts and Ohio.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. — The far-famed bolt of "presidential lightning" hung over America today as the nation staged its big parade to the polls.

With every state save Maine involved in the maelstrom of gubernatorial and congressional elections, political seers in both major parties were watching the results closely in the belief that somewhere a candidate may emerge to point to the White House in 1928. All leaders virtually were agreed that presidential aspirations will rise or fall in today's elections.

The interest centers chiefly in the contests in New York, Massachusetts and Ohio.

Eyes On Three States.

Al Smith's spectacular bid for a fourth term as governor drew attention away from the race of Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Republican, for re-election over Justice Robert F. Wagner, Tammany candidate. If Smith wins, over the aggressive Ogden L. Mills, leaders of both parties expect him to be a powerful candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928, whereas a defeat would

HOME BUDGETING

Completely Furnished Kitchen is Stage Setting.

There was a great turnout of the East Liverpool women for the opening session today of the Free Cooking School which has been arranged under the auspices of the Review-Tribune at the Eagles' temple, Broadway.

The program selected for the opening of the school was replete with interesting things and the talk of Mrs. George O. Thurn was filled with just those bits of knowledge that you have been seeking for many years.

A rousing welcome was given Mrs. Thurn as she stepped upon the platform in her snow white garb.

The stage setting was a completely furnished modern kitchen equipped with every conceivable kind of device for the purpose of lessening woman's labor in the home.

Mrs. Thurn won her audience at the very start. She impressed everyone with the fact that she knows her art. And she certainly knows how to handle all that goes into a modern kitchen. At the close of the session, women flocked about the platform to get a close glimpse of the many varied things Mrs. Thurn used in preparing the delightfully tasty dishes and also to ask additional intimate questions.

For those who had been looking forward to the day on which Mrs. Thurn was to give her ideas on budget making in the home, today proved a gala day. She talked freely on how to relieve that state of frenzied finance in the home. Her simple method of tabulating was one of the most beneficial hints yet given out. She has made a special study of this all important phase of home keeping.

Tomorrow Mrs. Thurn will talk on "Our Children—Suggestion versus Punishment." On this subject she will discuss in detail varied phases of the subject the while she will do some interesting cooking and baking as well. There will be many market baskets filled and given away. More will be distributed each day. Come early.

Vote Board Instructs Precinct Judges to Count City Bond Proposal and School Tax Issue After Tabulation of Other Ballots, While Speed in Making Returns is Urged.

Approximately 15 per cent of the registered electors of East Liverpool had voted in the general election up to the noon hour today, according to reports from 15 of the 21 polling places.

The precincts, from all four wards, reported 900 ballots in the boxes. This is an average of 60 votes per precinct. If this ratio were maintained in all polling places, just 1,260 of the 8,000 qualified voters had exercised the suffrage privilege.

The largest vote was reported from Precinct B of the Second ward—Thompson hill—where 105 ballots had been marked. The poll in the two precincts on the Northside was fair, election officials said. But 23 ballots had been cast in Precinct G of the Fourth ward, located in the Stevenson garage, West Ninth street.

Chief interest centers in the three-cornered fight for the common pleas judgeship, in which Judge W. H. Spence and Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, both of Lisbon and Attorney W. F. Lones of Wellsville, are the candidates. The race for county commissioner between Conrad Berg, Leetonia, Democrat, and J. Howard Sinclair, Hanoverton, Republican, and also for sheriff between George Wright, the incumbent who is the Republican nominee, and F. C. Armstrong, Elkrun township, Democrat, is also attracting attention.

OHIO'S CHIEF INTEREST CENTERED IN FIGHTS FOR GOVERNOR AND SENATOR

Proposed Modification of Primary System Also Shares Attention of Buckeye State Electors.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—With ideal election weather on tap, Ohio voters went to the polls today. Chief interest centered in the election of a governor, a United States senator, and in a proposed amendment to the state constitution modifying the Buckeye state's primary election system.

The ballots, also, provide for election of a lieutenant-governor, a secretary of state, an attorney general, a state treasurer, a chief justice and two associate justices of the state supreme court, 22 congressmen, ten appellate court judges, 37 state senators, 136 state representatives, and hundreds of county officials, including common pleas judges, prosecuting attorneys, sheriffs, auditors, treasurers, recorders, clerks of common pleas courts and commoners.

Both Leaders Predict Victory.

Buckeye state voters, too, will determine the fate of many proposed bond issues and tax levies in various municipalities and school districts, contemplating expenditure of many millions of dollars for public improvements and school purposes. In many chartered cities, voters are asked to adopted amendments to their municipal charters.

FAR-FAMED BOLT OF "PRESIDENTIAL LIGHTNING" HANGS OVER BIG PARADE

Political Seers are Watching Results, With Interest Centered in New York, Massachusetts and Ohio.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. — The far-famed bolt of "presidential lightning" hung over America today as the nation staged its big parade to the polls.

With every state save Maine involved in the maelstrom of gubernatorial and congressional elections, political seers in both major parties were watching the results closely in the belief that somewhere a candidate may emerge to point to the White House in 1928. All leaders virtually were agreed that presidential aspirations will rise or fall in today's elections.

The interest centers chiefly in the contests in New York, Massachusetts and Ohio.

Eyes On Three States.

Al Smith's spectacular bid for a fourth term as governor drew attention away from the race of Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Republican, for re-election over Justice Robert F. Wagner, Tammany candidate. If Smith wins, over the aggressive Ogden L. Mills, leaders of both parties expect him to be a powerful candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928, whereas a defeat would

70-MILE GALE LASHES GREAT LAKES

No New Main Spring.
Beware of Babykins.

CAN a beaten prize fighter come back? Jack Dempsey, decided by Tex Rickard, will try to answer "yes" in another fight with Tunney. The fight will be profitable and for Dempsey to win it would mean a third fight and more profits.

But the real answer ito the comeback, mental or physical, is NO. You can put a new main spring in a watch, but not in a man. You can renew the vigor of a worn out and tired out muscle but men fight with their nerves not with muscles. Once the nerve, mental or physical, is gone, it does not come back.

Henry the Second, of England, beaten, turned his face to the wall, said, "Shame on a beaten king" and died. That's the wise course.

THE Reverend Dr. Hall, whose murdered body was found beside that of his choir singer, Mrs. Mills, spoke of himself in letters to that lady as "your babykins." That sounds even worse than the little language that made the great Dean Swift seem silly.

Middle-aged gentlemen, clergymen especially, referring to themselves as "babykins" when writing to ladies in their choir, may expect trouble that particularly in "babykins" tragedy is one of the most dreadful in all records of jealous crime.

That the man and woman should have been shot dead is part of the regular procedure. But that the woman should have had her throat cut and her tongue cut out with a pair of shears after she was dead seems horribly unbelievable.

Rightly or wrongly the world will say "that was a woman's work."

Woman or man, everybody will know that it was the work of jealousy. In hellish hatred and cruel plotting, jealousy inspires the very worst. Let him beware who invites or risks that hatred.

SHIP WRECKED NEAR MICHIGAN PORT; 23 MEN ABOARD SAVED

Steamer Thomas Mayham is Being Pounded to Pieces.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 2.—The great lakes today were being lashed by a 70-mile gale which had caused the wreck of one steamer, prevented three others from reaching port here and caused considerable damage to property along the shores near here.

The City of Detroit, night boat from Detroit to Cleveland, after battling with tremendous waves on her voyage, limped into port here three hours late, reporting temperatures of near freezing and terrific seas.

Freighters Fail to Make Port.

The steamer Thomas Mayham, owned by the General Transit company, of Cleveland, went aground at Two Harbors, Mich., where it was being pounded to pieces by great breakers. The crew of 23 men was saved.

Three freighters which attempted to make port here, were forced to anchor beyond the breakwater, their skippers fearing that if they attempted to come in they would be blown against the wall and crushed.

Touch of Winter.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 2.—Michigan got its first real touch of winter today with a 70-mile gale reported sweeping the Great Lakes, and an eight inch covering of snow in some northwestern counties.

Mrs. Karl Ochs, of Lansing, died of injuries suffered in an automobile accident attributed to the storm. Her husband, the driver, said he was blinded by snow when he crashed into on abutment near Evart.

Cadillac, in Wexford county, was particularly hard hit. An eight-inch blanket of snow covered the city and vicinity, tying up automobile traffic, and interfering with train schedules.

Nation's Leader and Wife Mark Ballots at Northampton.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—President Coolidge's special train, on which he went to Northampton, Mass., struck and demolished an automobile near Aberdeen, Md., early this morning, train officials said when the special passed through New York.

Two soldiers from the Aberdeen proving ground drove their automobile through the lowered gates at a crossing and crashed into the train, which was traveling at 45 miles an hour. They were only bruised, according to the train crew.

The front trucks of the locomotive were derailed, but prompt application of the brakes brought the train to a stop without more than a severe jar. The special was able to proceed after a delay of 15 minutes.

Vote "Straight G. O. P." Ticket.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 2.—With flashlights flaring and cameras clicking, President and Mrs. Coolidge in Memorial hall today cast ballots 309 and 310 for a "straight Republican ticket."

Arriving home at 9 a. m. on a special train from Washington to vote for Senator William M. Butler and Governor Alvan T. Fuller, the Coolidges were met at the railroad station by a reception committee, headed by Acting Mayor Samuel Dyre.

They went to the voting rooms in Memorial hall by automobile. A large crowd was on hand.

The president voted ballot 309 and his wife ballot 310.

On the way out of the voting room, the president and his wife stopped to exchange a few words with an old friend, Allen Clark, a voting inspector.

Accompanied by an escort of 15 mounted state police, the Coolidges went to their home in Massasoit avenue, a two-family house, where they were greeted by Mrs. Coolidge's mother, Mrs. Elmyra Goodhue.

Returns to White House.

After a brief rest at Mrs. Goodhue's home Mr. Coolidge returned to the Northampton high school and for an hour greeted his old constituents. The party then boarded the special train and started the return trip to Washington.

Among those who greeted the president here were former Mayor Harry E. Bicknell, who several times was beaten for that office by President Coolidge; Ralph W. Hemenway, the executive's law partner, and Judge Henry P. Field, in whose office Mr. Coolidge had read his first law.

GLITTER

By Katharine Brush

BOOK FIVE—II.

The spotlight was extraordinarily bright that night. It beat upon him with a searing, intolerable lucidity. It lay in a circle around him, so that he reminded himself, ridiculously, of a valentine figurine glued upright on a white cardboard base. Beyond the spotlight there was gloom, and out of the gloom, wan faces, like enormous scattered blossoms. He saw Cecily's face and Bill's, blurry with distance, and he was full of an awful certainty that both of them were amused, supercilious, scornful.

He had never felt more awkward, nor more miserable. The embarrassment and stage fright attendant on his debut at the Tavern had been as nothing compared with this. He could feel perspiration — what he fancied must be a veritable torrent of perspiration—on his forehead. He could feel slow red in the traitorous inches between the back of his collar and the roots of his hair. And when he knelt, in the hush that followed the preliminary round of applause, his knee cracked, making what seemed to him a deafening report.

He began to play.

He believed he had never played worse, but in reality he played quite as usual, his fingers instinctive on the strings. Yvonne, beside him, sang a little wicked song. What Makes 'Em Dog Me Aroun'? . . . He was conscious of the motions of her hands, of the sway of her gold-sheathed body. Suggestive. Faintly indecent. Adapted to the tenor of her audience. "And I let her!" he thought, in a frenzy of self-condemnation. A man who let the girl he was going to marry stand in a public place and croon innuendos for the delight of the dissolute—what must right-minded people think of that?"

They presented three numbers, and when they had finished there occurred an incident unprecendented in their Tavern experience: somebody threw money at them.

They were bowing, hand in hand, and a disc of silver came spinning over the floor and lay at their feet . . . then another . . . and another. Jock, seeking wild-eyed the source of this generosity, located it at a ringside table around which was assembled a senile stag party of six. One of the six was lost in slumber, gripping the neck of a bottle in an oblivious fist. His companions were very much awake. They had shifted their chairs so as to face the entertainers, and they lolled back, crossing their opulent shins, and whistled, and catcalled, and grimaced behind the films sent up by their cigars. Their hands alternately whacked approval and delved into their pockets. . . . Jock found himself noting details with a peculiar cold precision. The diamond on one man's little finger. The three wisps of hair brushed so meticulously across the naked pate of a second. The stubble of beard on the chin of a third.

Clink! Clinkclinkclink! Clink!

Other groups were following the example of the inspired quintet. Coins whizzed thick and fast. Fifty-cent pieces. Quarters. Dimes. A dollar, hurled by a bibulous maiden who made a great hue and cry about it, standing up and flexing her arm like a baseball pitcher.

This took place in a mere few seconds. But it seemed to Jock that it had all begun exceedingly long ago, ages ago. It seemed to him that ever since he could remember he had stood there, a target for people's small change, like a street singer, or a beggar, or an organ-grinder's monkey— while Cecily watched. The thing would have been painful in any case; under the circumstances, it was tragic. He wanted to shrink to nothingness, to become invisible, to be swallowed by a yawning floor. He wanted, in short, all the things that shame-filled sufferers want, and that no kindly deity ever vouchsafes.

"Give them another," Yvonne whispered in his ear. "We'll have to, Hypnotizin' Mama, or anything—" He looked down at her and saw that she was genuinely merry; almost laughing. "My God, she thinks this is funny" he told himself.

Mechanically he knelt again, and struck opening chords, while the spectators settled back to listen and the shower of metal slackened, ceased altogether. "Hypnotizin' Mama, verse once, chorus once, repeat verse, repeat chorus twice. This was the formula, and he followed it through force of habit . . . then rose, and clasped Yvonne's hand in his damp one, and bowed again . . .

Yvonne was giving him further sibilant directions under cover of the clapping. "Pick up that money, Jock Hamill! You've got to! Doesn't matter what you do with it, but pick it up. And for pity's sake, look pleasant!"

The moments during which he trotted about, scratching silver out of the dust and hearing it patter into the inverted hollow of his banjo were the most ghastly he had ever known, or ever wished to know. He carried with him as he moved a mental cinema of himself—a cinema photographed from Cecily's angle, wherein he appeared the sorriest possible spectacle. He had no idea, of course, that all the women in the room, Cecily included, found him appealing and very lovable in his discomfiture.

When the last dime was lifted he took Yvonne's arm, walked resolutely to the platform with the banjo held straight out before him like a church collection box, and dumped its contents at the feet of Happy Hatton.

III.

Yvonne comprehended in some degree Jock's state of mind that night, but only by intuition, for at the time he said nothing. Not until two weeks later did she hear from how complete a change in his attitude toward Terrace Tavern Cecily's visit had wrought.

During those two weeks, she saw less of her lover than at any time in all the year of their intimacy. His days, formerly hers exclusively, were now the joint property of herself and Cecily—with the balance of hours perhaps a little on Cecily's side. This was right. This was as it should be. She encouraged it; and in the evenings, while they waited their turn at the road house, she listened to Jock's accounts of his afternoons with Cecily, and smiled and smiled . . . wanting to cry . . .

Twice she invited Cecily to her own apartment when Jock was not there, to eat chocolates and discuss clothes, plays, parties—and him. She learned many things that Cecily did not intend to tell; and Cecily learned many things that Yvonne did intend to tell. And both of them seemed very happy, and one of them was.

Jock seemed happy only at intervals. At other times, he was troubled and morose. Yvonne saw plainly that he failed to understand his own mood, that he did not analyze it—probably for the reason that, deep in his subconscious mind, he was afraid to. She was not altogether surprised, therefore, one Saturday evening in mid-January, when he burst into a sudden storm of abuse of the Tavern, which he apparently blamed for all his present discontent.

He said, without preamble, "Oh good God, but they turn my stomach! Look at them, will you, Yvonne? Just look at 'em!"

A Thermos Type Cabinet

THE "Thermos" feature of the Gainaday is entirely new to washers. There is a "body" of copper between the cabinet and copper tub but only the copper in the tub touches the tub. Outside of the cabinet and copper tub hot and cold water is necessary just as the burner is necessary under coal fire boiler.

The New Gainaday Electric Washer

THE GAINADAY Cabinet is made of rust proof heavy sheet steel, beautifully baked in olive green, with nickel plated steel tube legs to keep clean and looking like new.

YARDSTICK high—just right for laundry tubs and easy to operate. Only 24" in diameter. Takes up no more room than a kitchen chair

THE NEW GAINADAY is compact, and fully enclosed. No cumbersome looking exposed mechanism to harm you or the children. No "hard to get at" dirt-catching corners. A wipe of the cloth and its clean.

THE first time you use the NEW GAINADAY you will notice that the water in the heavy copper tub stays hot even after washing two or three batches. The "Thermos" construction of the cabinet is the reason.

BOOK FIVE—II.

The spotlight was extraordinarily bright that night. It beat upon him with a searing, intolerable lucidity. It lay in a circle around him, so that he reminded himself, ridiculously, of a valentine figurine glued upright on a white cardboard base. Beyond the spotlight there was gloom, and out of the gloom, wan faces, like enormous scattered blossoms. He saw Cecily's face and Bill's, blurry with distance, and he was full of an awful certainty that both of them were amused, supercilious, scornful.

He had never felt more awkward, nor more miserable. The embarrassment and stage fright attendant on his debut at the Tavern had been as nothing compared with this. He could feel perspiration — what he fancied must be a veritable torrent of perspiration—on his forehead. He could feel slow red in the traitorous inches between the back of his collar and the roots of his hair. And when he knelt, in the hush that followed the preliminary round of applause, his knee cracked, making what seemed to him a deafening report.

He began to play.

He believed he had never played worse, but in reality he played quite as usual, his fingers instinctive on the strings. Yvonne, beside him, sang a little wicked song. What Makes 'Em Dog Me Aroun'? . . . He was conscious of the motions of her hands, of the sway of her gold-sheathed body. Suggestive. Faintly indecent. Adapted to the tenor of her audience. "And I let her!" he thought, in a frenzy of self-condemnation. A man who let the girl he was going to marry stand in a public place and croon innuendos for the delight of the dissolute—what must right-minded people think of that?" . .

They presented three numbers, and when they had finished there occurred an incident unprecendented in their Tavern experience: somebody threw money at them.

During those two weeks, she saw less of her lover than at any time in all the year of their intimacy. His days, formerly hers exclusively, were now the joint property of herself and Cecily—with the balance of hours perhaps a little on Cecily's side. This was right. This was as it should be. She encouraged it; and in the evenings, while they waited their turn at the road house, she listened to Jock's accounts of his afternoons with Cecily, and smiled and smiled . . . wanting to cry . . .

Twice she invited Cecily to her own apartment when Jock was not there, to eat chocolates and discuss clothes, plays, parties—and him. She learned many things that Cecily did not intend to tell; and Cecily learned many things that Yvonne did intend to tell. And both of them seemed very happy, and one of them was.

Jock seemed happy only at intervals. At other times, he was troubled and morose. Yvonne saw plainly that he failed to understand his own mood, that he did not analyze it—probably for the reason that, deep in his subconscious mind, he was afraid to. She was not altogether surprised, therefore, one Saturday evening in mid-January, when he burst into a sudden storm of abuse of the Tavern, which he apparently blamed for all his present discontent.

He said, without preamble, "Oh good God, but they turn my stomach! Look at them, will you, Yvonne? Just look at 'em!"

A Thermos Type Cabinet

THE "Thermos" feature of the Gainaday is entirely new in washers. There is a "dead" air space between the cabinet and copper tub. This keeps the water in the tub hot and the outside of the cabinet cool. No burner is necessary

THE GAINADAY Cabinet is made of rust proof heavy sheet steel, beautifully finished in aluminum, with nickel plated zinc lids. Easy to keep clean and looking like new YARDSTICK high—just right for laundry tubs and ease in operation. Only 24" in diameter. Takes up no more room than a kitchen chair

The New Gainaday Electric Washer

THE first time you use the NEW GAINADAY you will notice that the water in the heavy copper tub stays hot even after washing two or three batches. The "Thermos" construction of the cabinet is the reason.

A Small Down Payment and the New Gainaday Goes Into Your Home to Relieve You of All Washday Worries. Come in and See for Yourself the Many Advantages of this Fine Washer.

Scotland Yarders Balk at Premier's Speed in Vacation

LONDON.—Premier Stanley Baldwin's personal bodyguard do not like his ways when on vacation.

Like many of the most trusted servants of Scotland Yard, they are tall and portly men. They like to take their daily exercise quietly. But Baldwin has his own ideas about exercise.

Hence they found themselves out early in the morning at Aix-les Bains, under an already blazing sun, following a chief who equals Theodore Roosevelt in his craze for restfulness. They would climb a 3,000 foot hill, dripping with perspiration, at full speed, hug a little eight-inch pathway with a sheer drop of 600 feet below them, climb over rocks and boulders, and finally reach the top. And then their chief would rush them downhill again at the run—all soaked to the skin, he very happy, they not quite so much.

Once back at the hotel, after attending to a little correspondence, Baldwin would again propose a ten mile walk. Carrying hat and coat, regardless of the heat, he would aspire to a steady four and a half miles per hour.

Short Talks By Thoughtful Mothers.

A Pennsylvania mother speaks first: "I know the worth of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. We used it for years, and it never failed us. For croupy children, feverish colds, disturbing night coughs, it gives us a feeling of security to have Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in the house." No opiates, no chloroform, made under rigid sanitary control, Foley's Honey and Tar Compound carries a strong appeal to thoughtful mothers everywhere. Ask for it. Sold everywhere.

Life and Laughter Music and Song

in your home the year round

Let it linger on . . . Some of the joy of Christmas time—some of the sparkle, the merriment, the fun.

It will the whole year through—if there is music in your home. Music that invites the family to gather round . . . to sing the good old songs and the infectious new ones . . . to roll up the rugs and dance.

And that, of course, means nothing else than music that you play YOURSELF.

YOU need not know a note to have such music in your home today.

The Gulbransen Registering Piano has now made that unnecessary.

It gives you all the pleasure of hand playing. It enables you to play with all the naturalness and beauty of hand playing.

That is why there is no other piano like the Gulbransen. That is why it is today the largest selling piano in the world.

FOR HAND PLAYING

Children like to practice and play on the Minuet Model because it fits in with their imaginative ideas of how big a piano ought to be! A "story-book" piano, suggestive of fairy fingers and childish fancies. Yet it has a full, big, pleasing tone. Preferred by many housewives because it fits in so many places, is an ornament to any room, and its Du Pont Duco finish is so easily kept clean.

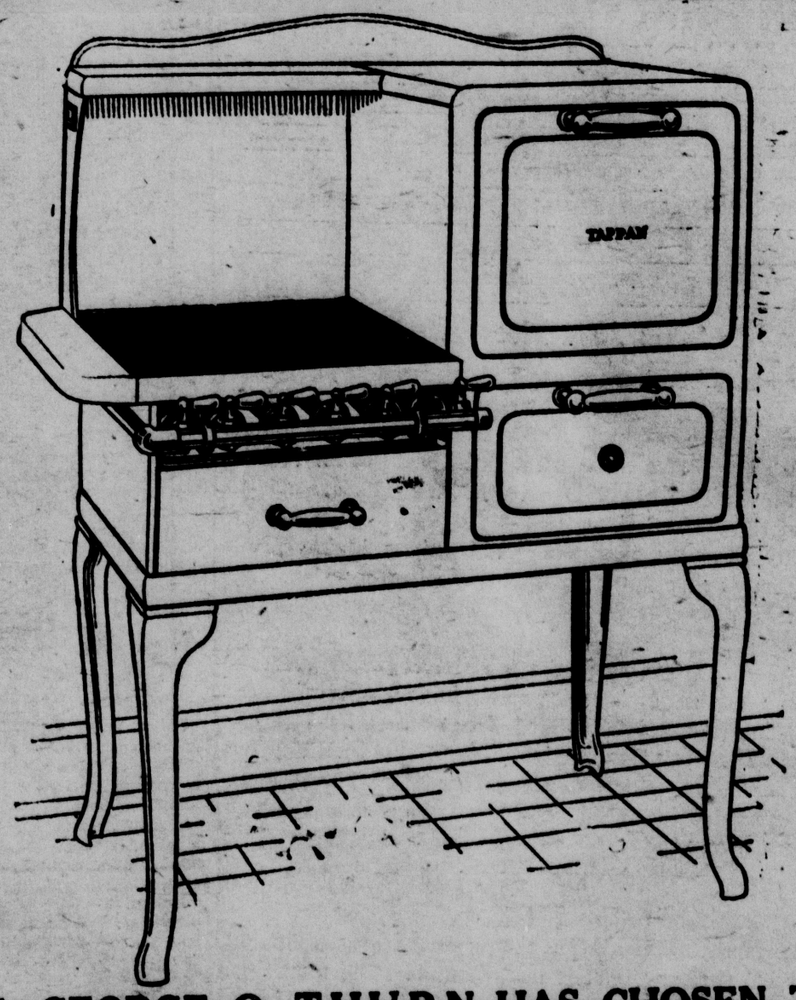
Tappan Ranges Used Exclusively

By Mrs. George O. Thurn

IN THE

Review-Tribune Cooking School



MRS. GEORGE O. THURN HAS CHOSEN THE NEW TAPPAN GAS RANGE FOR ALL HER COOKING DEMONSTRATIONS

In the New Model Tappan you will find all of the things which have made Tappans the favorite of good cooks for two generations — Tappan beanty, Tappan convenience, Tappan economly and durability — all of these are there, together with an entirely new oven design which eliminates the uncertainty of baking. No matter where pans are placed in the oven, the Tappan Gas Range bakes equally well. Uniform temperatures throughout imparting a golden brown crust to both top and bottom on baked things. The square construction of the oven burner, with its downward flame, and the cast iron oven bottom insure even heat for proper baking at all temperatures. The round cornered oven tray is enameled and is easily lifted out for cleaning. In all white models the oven linings are enameled. The close woven broiler rack holds twelve slices of toast.

Note These New TAPPAN Features

The Tappan Maximix tapered burner intake saves gas by drawing in sufficient air for proper combustion. It conforms to specifications of the United States Bureau of Standards.

The unique, new, round cornered enameled oven tray is an exclusive Tappan feature. A patented support prevents oven racks from tipping when drawn forward to remove baking.

The flat shape of the new Tappan oven burner produces a snappy, downward flame, ideal for broiling and toasting. Heat cannot 'pocket" but rises to the cast iron oven bottom, which radiates and directs it.

The roomy Tappan oven accommodates the largest size of roaster with space enough for sufficient other utensils to cook an entire meal. Even distribution of heat makes cevry inche of space useful.

Steel And Motors

The billion-dollar businesses are making money. The "Steel Trust" shows net profits of over $13 a share for its common stock. General Motors, which might be called the "Motor Trust," does still better with over $17 a share. That is the best yet for Motors, and the best for Steel except for a period of three glorious months at the close of the war.

Motors, by the way, now shows not only a higher profit rate but greater net earnings than the big steel corporation. That shows the rising power of the automotive industry as nothing else has done.

Both of these business organizations have grown great by trusting in the greatness of America and going ahead confidently. Instead of "selling short on the United States," they have always "sold long." So the stock that originally represented nothing but vapor is now solid gold—hundreds of millions of it. Thus American progress is minted for those who have faith in it and uphold their faith with works.

Tokio Flies

The Japanese capital has been having an anti-fly campaign in the good old American style, if not more so. The municipal government of Tokio offered to pay a bounty on dead flies. Thereupon the population started swatting wits such enthusiasm that when the returns were all in, with the evidence to support them, it was necessary for the clerk in the city hall to count 22,900,000 flies.

They're glad that's done. And if there's anything in this scientific dope about the prolific multiplication of house flies, they'll keep on being glad all next year.

News of that Herculean fly-test at Tokio comes just in time to remind Americans that, of all seasons of the year, this is preeminently the season to swat flies. Just now every swat counts. The flies are about to crawl into their winter hiding places, whence they will emerge next spring to repopulate the world. Any individual, by killing a few now, may make the fly population 22,900,000 lest next summer.

Treasure Found

The biggest stroke of luck reported lately is that of J. A. Pollard and Edith Truitt of Burnsville, N. C., owners of a supposedly worthless tract of land on which there has been discovered a "billion dollar deposit of cyanite."

That is a rare and valuable mineral, prized because of its high resistance to heat and used in making crucibles for steel manufacture. With a plentiful supply available, it will doubtless find many other uses. There are said to be "three solid mountains of it," aggregating about 10,000,000 tons. Probably no gold mine ever discovered was so valuable as that.

There is a social value in it along with the personal value to the owners. Every dollar's worth of cyanite used industrially will make several dollars for the rest of us in useful products.

It is particularly interesting when such a treasure is discovered in an old state, whose resources were supposed to be known. New forms of wealth are always being discovered, as exploration continues and industry develops. Things that formerly had no value, because there was no use for them, or no way to handle them, suddenly become precious.

The natural resources remaining in this country are incalculable. Brains and work make wealth in countless ways. Many a tract of land now seemingly not worth a dollar may turn out, sooner or later, to be worth a billion.

Too Much Hog-Calling

Really this hog-calling business is going too far. It wasn't so bad as long as the activity was confined to corn-fed Kansas. But now everybody's doing it, all over, merely varying the proceedings by alternating occasionally with a "dinner-calling contest" which really amounts to about the same thing.

The latest outbreak is reported from Fond du Lac, Wis., and shows a new peril. A farmer named Fred Schmidt had his radio set tuned in on a Chicago station that was broadcasting a hog-calling performance, and was enjoying it to the full, when he heardy a commotion in his yard. Looking out, he found that all the hogs from five neighboring farms were fighting to get into the house.

Isn't that the limit? We ask you.

It all reminds a fellow somehow of the famous experience of Ulysses and his companions when they met up with Circe on her enchanted isle. That woman was the champion hog-caller of her time. She was so good at it that not only would all the hogs rally round when she called, but all the human beings would turn to swine and rush for the trough.

There must be some such enchantment in the sound of any first-class hog-caller's voice, whether in person or by radio. It's getting so that children practice hog-calls on the way home from school. Let broadcasters have a heart and switch to yodelling or grand opera.

Miami needn't feel discriminated against fate. They've had a disastrous gale in Quebec.

Sometimes the go-getters overdo it, and then they're goat-getters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—It would appear Gotham has no more types of romantic sportsmen as exemplified when Foxhall Keene starred at polo, when August Belmont was flying his stable colors and when John W. Gates was betting a million at slight provocation.

The new type is a synthetic mixture who scores a touchdown and is starred in a Broadway film. Or cleans up at tennis and appears in a play. In other words a purely sporting achievement is a prelude to cashing in on the accomplishment.

There is no particular criticism of this yet it strips the reigning sporting figures of much glamour. The horseman who tumbles with his mount at the first hurdle may be found in a braided coat taking tea among admirers a few hours later.

In other days, too, there were famous sporting haunts, such as Considine's, where sportsmen gathered and lifted glasses to the latest celebrity until dawn broke. Now the hero must retire early to be at the studio at sun-up for a film test.

England, is, of course, doing quite a bit of spoofing about this purely commercial side of American sports despite the fact that one of its foremost sportsmen has been able to advertise his tea quite successfully by his sporting neighbors.

The commercial side of sporting achievement is doubtless difficult to resist. One favored athlete two years ago made $60,000 by simply endorsing garters, soup and other advertised products, which he knew nothing about.

The old-time sportsmen won their purses and gave stupendous parties The new sportsmen hire slick business managers and make the public pay to see them. And for that reason perhaps more than any other are quickly forgotten.

New York's daring crimes lately are the work of drug addicts most of whom were caught. The police have found it only necessary to catch one of the band and cut off his drug supply. In underworld parlance: "They can't stand a sweating and squawk!"

A Broadway supper club offers rare study in deceit. When a man enters wearing a red rose in his lapel it means he is regarded as a perfect stranger. It is a signal he is accompanied by his wife. Straying spouses whose wives insist upon being taken to this particular club have been embarrassed by certain remarks indicating he was not a nightlife novitiate. Hence the red rose.

Broadway fame those days is often encompassed in the gesture of being introduced by the hostess to the assemblage. It has a commercial advantage for the honored guest is spurred into buying a round for the house. That means a bloated check for several hundred dollars in exchange for a maudlin chorus of "For he's a jolly good fellow."

The Susskind brothers made enough money checking Broadway hats and wraps to launch several business ventures. Today the king of the hat checkers is Leon Mollet, who has the bulk concessions. Fifteen years ago $100 a week was the top price for a concession. It was recently reported that a price of $8,000 was paid for a year's hat checking privilege along the dazzling canyon.

HASKIN'S LETTER

Forestry's Semi-Centennial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—In 1876 congress authorized Franklin B. Hough to investigate the forestry situation in the United States. It was the first step of the kind to be taken in the country, and it dates the beginning of the movement for conservation of timber resources. Forestry is thus celebrating its semi-centennial this year.

One feature of the celebration is the inauguration of an educational drive to awaken the American people to the need of putting millions of acres of idle land to work growing trees. This was done at a meeting in the Pennsylvania building at the Sesqui-centennial which was addressed by Governor Gifford Pinchot, Charles Lathrop Pack, president, American Tree association; Mrs. Jane D. Rippin, of the Girl Scouts; Charles W. Folds, president, Izaak Walton league; Dr. F. H. Newell, of the Federal Water and Power Resources board; Mrs. W. W. Milas, of the General Federation of Women's clubs; Dan C. Beard, of the Boy Scouts; Colonel Greeley, chief of the United States Forest Service; Stephen Mather, of the National Park Service; Maj. R. Y. Stewart, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Forest Commission and others.

Mr. Pack announced that the Forestry Primer, published by the American Tree association to commemorate the semi-centennial, has gone into its fifth printing of 100,000 copies, making a total of 500,000 copies that are being distributed free to schools, libraries, colleges, and forestry committees of women's clubs and of commercial organizations.

The forestry situation may be said to be epitomized in a comment by Will Rogers, the well known humorist, who is also a shrewd observer. While in Germany he was impressed, Rogers said, with the idea that every time the Germans cut down a tree they planted two trees in its place, whereas every time we cut one down the fellow who does the cutting decides to have a smoke to celebrate the event, with the result that he throws away his cigarette and burns up the rest of the forest. This has some of the earmarks of a slight exaggeration, as Rogers would admit readily, but it seems difficult to arouse the American public by a plain statement of facts.

Present Year a Record-Breaker.

It was reported to the Philadelphia meeting that the year 1926 bids fair to be a record year in the matter of fire losses in the nation's forests. Just what this means may be shown by citing the figures for 1924, the latest year for which complete statistics are available.

In that year forest fires swept 29,000,000 acres of public and private lands, doing damage to the amount of $38,000,000. There were 92,000 forest fires, an average of 250 a day. It is estimated that it would cost $3,000,000 to reforest the burned-over land, and that at the rate we are now carrying on the work of reforestation it would take almost 300 years to accomplish it. If in 1926, two years later, the forest fire toll is even larger, as indicated by preliminary computation, it can be understood why the conservationists are excited over the outlook. It is well known that a large percentage of forest fires are caused by the carelessness of tourists and campers, and hence might be prevented, and it is amazing that, in view of the educational propaganda of recent years, this menace has not been materially reduced.

"In a sense we must all become woodsmen since we are a wood-using nation,' says Mr. Pack. "The products of the forest are absolutely essential to national welfare. You would not set fire to your home; you would not set a fire any where in a city and leave it. Why do so in or near a forest? You do not pay the cost, directly, but you have to pay your share of it just the same. A forest fire due to carelessness is waste of the worst kind. We have heard much recently of waste in industry. Forest fire waste affects the corner stone of all industry in our country.

"This situation is a national economic menace that threatens the nation's future. As the late President Theodore Roosevelt once said: 'A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as helpless. Forests which are so used that they can not renew themselves will soon vanish, and with them all their benefits. When you help to preserve our forests or plant new ones you are acting the part of good citizens.'"

What the Primer Contains.

The Forestry Primer contains a great array of data which the conservation authorities believe should be impressed upon every boy and girl, man and woman, in the United States. For instance, by reason of the fact that timber supplies are almost exhausted in the sections where most timber is used in manufactures of various kinds, the annual freight bill on lumber is approximately $250,000,000. This, of course, is passed on to the consumer, and the consumer, in many cases, is the careless individual who goes touring or camping and leaves a smoldering campfire, or cigar or cigarette butt, that starts a conflagration that not only adds to the freight bill on lumber, but makes lumber scarcer and increases its cost.

There are 81,000,000 acres of idle land in the United States that are fit for nothing save to grow timber.

We use about 24,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood a year, while forest fires

Steel And Motors

The billion-dollar businesses are making money. The "Steel Trust" shows net profits of over $13 a share for its common stock. General Motors, which might be called the "Motor Trust," does still better with over $17 a share. That is the best yet for Motors, and the best for Steel except for a period of three glorious months at the close of the war.

Motors, by the way, now shows not only a higher profit rate but greater net earnings than the big steel corporation. That shows the rising power of the automotive industry as nothing else has done.

Both of these business organizations have grown great by trusting in the greatness of America and going ahead confidently. Instead of "selling short on the United States," they have always "sold long." So the stock that originally represented nothing but vapor is now solid gold—hundreds of millions of it. Thus American progress is minted for those who have faith in it and uphold their faith with works.

Steel And Motors

The billion-dollar businesses are making money. The "Steel Trust" shows net profits of over $13 a share for its common stock. General Motors, which might be called the "Motor Trust," does still better with over $17 a share. That is the best yet for Motors, and the best for Steel except for a period of three glorious months at the close of the war.

Motors, by the way, now shows not only a higher profit rate but greater net earnings than the big steel corporation. That shows the rising power of the automotive industry as nothing else has done.

Both of these business organizations have grown great by trusting in the greatness of America and going ahead confidently. Instead of "selling short on the United States," they have always "sold long." So the stock that originally represented nothing but vapor is now solid gold—hundreds of millions of it. Thus American progress is minted for those who have faith in it and uphold their faith with works.

Tokio Flies

The Japanese capital has been having an anti-fly campaign in the good old American style, if not more so. The municipal government of Tokio offered to pay a bounty on dead flies. Thereupon the population started swatting wits such enthusiasm that when the returns were all in, with the evidence to support them, it was necessary for the clerk in the city hall to count 22,900,000 flies.

They're glad that's done. And if there's anything in this scientific dope about the prolific multiplication of house flies, they'll keep on being glad all next year.

News of that Herculean fly-test at Tokio comes just in time to remind Americans that, of all seasons of the year, this is preeminently the season to swat flies. Just now every swat counts. The flies are about to crawl into their winter hiding places, whence they will emerge next spring to repopulate the world. Any individual, by killing a few now, may make the fly population 22,900,000 lest next summer.

Treasure Found

The biggest stroke of luck reported lately is that of J. A. Pollard and Edith Truitt of Burnsville, N. C., owners of a supposedly worthless tract of land on which there has been discovered a "billion dollar deposit of cyanite."

That is a rare and valuable mineral, prized because of its high resistance to heat and used in making crucibles for steel manufacture. With a plentiful supply available, it will doubtless find many other uses. There are said to be "three solid mountains of it," aggregating about 10,000,000 tons. Probably no gold mine ever discovered was so valuable as that.

There is a social value in it along with the personal value to the owners. Every dollar's worth of cyanite used industrially will make several dollars for the rest of us in useful products.

It is particularly interesting when such a treasure is discovered in an old state, whose resources were supposed to be known. New forms of wealth are always being discovered, as exploration continues and industry develops. Things that formerly had no value, because there was no use for them, or no way to handle them, suddenly become precious.

The natural resources remaining in this country are incalculable. Brains and work make wealth in countless ways. Many a tract of land now seemingly not worth a dollar may turn out, sooner or later, to be worth a billion.

Too Much Hog-Calling

Really this hog-calling business is going too far. It wasn't so bad as long as the activity was confined to corn-fed Kansas. But now everybody's doing it, all over, merely varying the proceedings by alternating occasionally with a "dinner-calling contest" which really amounts to al out the same thing.

The latest outbreak is reported from Fond du Lac, Wis., and shows a new peril. A farmer named Fred Schmidt had his radio set tuned in on a Chicago station that was broadcasting a hog-calling performance, and was enjoying it to the full, when he heardy a commotion in his yard. Looking out, he found that all the hogs from five neighboring farms were fighting to get into the house.

Isn't that the limit? We ask you.

It all reminds a fellow somehow of the famous experience of Ulysses and his companions when they met up with Circe on her enchanted isle. That woman was the champion hog-caller of her time. She was so good at it that not only would all the hogs rally round when she called, but all the human beings would turn to swine and rush for the trough.

There must be some such enchantment in the sound of any first-class hog-caller's voice, whether in person or by radio. It's getting so that children practice hog-calls on the way home from school. Let broadcasters have a heart and switch to yodelling or grand opera.

Miami needn't feel discriminated against fate. They've had a disastrous gale in Quebec.

Sometimes the go-getters overdo it, and then they're goat-getters.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—It would appear Gotham has no more types of romantic sportsmen as exemplified when Foxhall Keene starred at polo, when August Belmont was flying his stabie colors and when John W. Gates was betting a million at slight provocation.

The new type is a synthetic mixture who scores a touchdown and is starred in a Broadway film. Or cleans up at tennis and appears in a play. In other words a purely sporting achievement is a prelude to cashing in on the accomplishment.

There is no particular criticism of this yet it strips the reigning sporting figures of much glamour. The horseman who tumbles with his mount at the first hurdle may be found in a braided coat taking tea among admirers a few hours later.

In other days, too, there were famous sporting haunts, such as Considine's, where sportsmen gathered and lifted glasses to the latest celebrity until dawn broke. Now the hero must retire early to be at the studio at sun-up for a film test.

England, is, of course, doing quite a bit of spoofing about this purely commercial side of American sports despite the fact that one of its foremost sportsmen has been able to advertise his tea quite successfully by his sporting neighbors.

The commercial side of sporting achievement is doubtless difficult to resist. One favored athlete two years ago made $60,000 by simply endorsing garters, soup and other advertised products, which he knew nothing about.

The old-time sportsmen won their purses and gave stupendous parties The new sportsmen hire slick business managers and make the public pay to see them. And for that reason perhaps more than any other are quickly forgotten.

New York's daring crimes lately are the work of drug addicts most of whom were caught. The police have found it only necessary to catch one of the band and cut off his drug supply. In underworld parlance: "They can't stand a sweating and squawk!"

A Broadway supper club offers rare study in deceit. When a man enters wearing a red rose in his lapel it means he is regarded as a perfect stranger. It is a signal he is accompanied by his wife. Straying spouses whose wives insist upon being taken to this particular club have been embarrassed by certain remarks indicating he was not a nightlife novitiate. Hence the red rose.

Broadway fame these days is often encompassed in the gesture of being introduced by the hostess to the assemblage. It has a commercial advantage for the honored guest is spurred into buying a round for the house. That means a bloated check for several hundred dollars in exchange for a maudlin chorus of "For he's a jolly good fellow."

The Susskind brothers made enough money checking Broadway hats and wraps to launch several business ventures. Today the king of the hat checkers is Leon Mollet, who has the bulk concessions. Fifteen years ago $100 a week was the top price for a concession. It was recently reported that a price of $8,000 was paid for a year's hat checking privilege along the dazzling canyon.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Forestry's Semi-Centennial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—In 1876 congress authorized Franklin B. Hough to investigate the forestry situation in the United States. It was the first step of the kind to be taken in the country, and it dates the beginning of the movement for conservation of timber resources. Forestry is thus celebrating its semi-centennial this year.

One feature of the celebration is the inauguration of an educational drive to awaken the American people to the need of putting millions of acres of idle land to work growing trees. This was done at a meeting in the Pennsylvania building at the Sesqui-centennial which was addressed by Governor Gifford Pinchot, Charles Lathrop Pack, president, American Tree association; Mrs. Jane D. Rippin, of the Girl Scouts; Charles W. Folds, president, Izaak Walton league; Dr. F. H. Newell, of the Federal Water and Power Resources board; Mrs. W. W. Milar, of the General Federation of Women's clubs; Dan C. Beard, of the Boy Scouts; Colonel Greeley, chief of the United States Forest Service; Stephen Mather, of the National Park service; Maj. R. Y. Stewart, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Forest Commission and others.

Mr. Pack announced that the Forestry Primer, published by the American Tree association to commemorate the semi-centennial, has gone into its fifth printing of 100,000 copies, making a total of 500,000 copies that are being distributed free to schools, libraries, colleges, and forestry committees of women's clubs and of commercial organizations.

The forestry situation may be said to be epitomized in a comment by Will Rogers, the well known humorist, who is also a shrewd observer. While in Germany he was impressed, Rogers said, with the idea that every time the Germans cut down a tree they planted two trees in its place, whereas every time we cut one down the fellow who does the cutting decides to have a smoke to celebrate the event, with the result that he throws away his cigarette and burns up the rest of the forest. This has some of the earmarks of a slight exaggeration, as Rogers would admit readily, but it seems difficult to arouse the American public by a plain statement of facts.

Present Year a Record-Breaker.

It was reported to the Philadelphia meeting that the year 1926 bids fair to be a record year in the matter of fire losses in the nation's forests. Just what this means may be shown by citing the figures for 1924, the latest year for which complete statistics are available.

In that year forest fires swept 29,000,000 acres of public and private lands, doing damage to the amount of $38,000,000. There were 92,000 forest fires, an average of 250 a day. It is estimated that it would cost $3,000,000 to reforest the burned-over land, and that at the rate we are now carrying on the work of reforestation it would take almost 300 years to accomplish it. If in 1926, two years later, the forest fire toll is even larger, as indicated by preliminary computation, it can be understood why the conservationists are excited over the outlook. It is well known that a large percentage of forest fires are caused by the carelessness of tourists and campers, and hence might be prevented, and it is amazing that, in view of the educational propaganda of recent years, this menace has not been materially reduced.

"In a sense we must all become woodsmen since we are a wood-using nation,' says Mr. Pack. "The products of the forest are absolutely essential to national welfare. You would not set fire to your home; you would not set a fire any where in a city and leave it. Why do so in or near a forest? You do not pay the cost, directly, but you have to pay your share of it just the same. A forest fire due to carelessness is waste of the worst kind. We have heard much recently of waste in industry. Forest fire waste affects the corner stone of all industry in our country.

"This situation is a national economic menace that threatens the nation's future. As the late President Theodore Roosevelt once said: 'A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as helpless. Forests which are so used that they can not renew themselves will soon vanish, and with them all their benefits. When you help to preserve our forests or plant new ones you are acting the part of good citizens.'"

What the Primer Contains.

The Forestry Primer contains a great array of data which the conservation authorities believe should be impressed upon every boy and girl, man and woman, in the United States. For instance, by reason of the fact that timber supplies are almost exhausted in the sections where most timber is used in manufactures of various kinds, the annual freight bill on lumber is approximately $250,000,000. This, of course, is passed on to the consumer, and the consumer, in many cases, is the careless individual who goes touring or camping and leaves a smoldering campfire, or cigar or cigarette butt, that starts a conflagration that not only adds to the freight bill on lumber, but makes lumber scarcer and increases its cost.

There are 81,000,000 acres of idle land in the United States that are fit for nothing save to grow timber.

We use about 24,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood a year, while forest fires

My friend, Tom Masson, who makes it a part of his business annually to compile the best jokes of the previous year, stands sponsor for this one:

Four separate wrecks had cast up four men on a lonely island of the South Seas. Two were Scotchmen, the other two were Englishmen. After several years a passing steamer hove to and took the four aboard. Sandy and Donald were escorted to the skipper's cabin there to tell their experiences. Sandy said:

"It would grieve you, mon, to see the Englishmen. Never a word did they speak all the time they were there, for they were not introduced."

"And hoo did ye lads muck oot?" inquired the skipper, who also was a Scot.

"Aye, mon, the verra dee I found Donald on the beach we organized a Caledonian league, a local golf club, a debating society and a Preesbyteerian church."

...insects destroy an additional ...,000,000 cubic feet.

In the United States, newsprint consumption has reached almost 3,000,000 tons a year. In one sheet this would cover 20,000 square miles. Practically all of the raw material must come from the forests.

Industry use 200,000,00 cubic feet of timber every year in mining and excavating operations. Approximately 5,000,000 trees must be cut each year to supply the demand for telegraph and telephone poles. Estimates show that we use about 500,000,000 fence posts in this country every twelve months.

Railroads require some 3,000 ties to the mile and all the railroads of the United States use about 125,000,000 new wood ties every year. The annual demand of the cooperage industry is for 250,000,000 cubic feet of wood. At least a billion lead pencils are consumed in a year, and that means quite a jag of wood, as the farmer would say when he starts out to his wood-lot.

In the neighborhood of 45,000,000 pounds of maple sugar products are marketed in this country annually, and the value of the turpentine, rosin, and like products, reaches $40,000,000 every year.

At our present rate of consumption, waste, and replacement, the United States will be poverty-stricken, so far as timber is concerned, in 1976 when the centennial of American forestry is to be celebrated. The conservation idea germinated half a century ago, but it grows with exceeding slowness. Five years after Dr. Hough was started in his work, officially, the Division of Forestry was created by congress, and in 1886 a professional forester, Dr. B. P. Fernow, was placed in charge, but for a long time congress appropriated less than $30,000 annually to carry on the activities of the division.

It was not until 1901 that the bureau of Forestry was created, to be expanded in 1905 into the present Forest Service. Ten years later the service had an appropriation of more than $6,000,000, but as yet no impressive steps along the line of reforesting have been taken in this country, nor have the American people, seemingly, awakened to the necessity of safeguarding this natural resource which is second in importance and to land.

If Tired, Worn-Out, Weak and Run-Down Regain Vigor Thru Gland Treatment

GLAND secretions are called hormones — mysterious messengers which science has discovered exert a remarkable influence on health, strength and vitality.

When the glands function normally, they supply these vitalizing hormones (or secretions) which are essential to physical well-being. And when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Now, glandular treatment, which is indorsed by eminent scientists and physicians of this country and Europe, is being used by thousands of men and women to help overcome a weakened, worn-out, run-down, exhausted condition and to regain the strength, vigor and vitality that are the natural benefits resulting from a normal glandular system.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for both men and women. Accept no substitutes, insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Mathews Cut Rate store will supply you.

Redmond's Son Joins Opposition Party in Irish Free State

DUBLIN—Captain Willy Redmond, son of the old Nationalist leader, John Redmond, is gathering around him a thoroughly organized opposition party. It will be of purely nationalist character.

Captain Redmond does not aim at winning the government, but merely providing a well-organized opposition and their campaign of opposition will be conducted on purely constitutional lines. Helping Captain Redmond in the organization of his part is Tom O'Donnell, well known lawyer.

"To ensure that Irish national development shall proceed in accordance with the desire of the Irish people," is a striking quotation from the manifesto they have just issued.

"Such a party," the manifesto states, "must be inspired by the traditional principles of Irish nationalism, and must accept without reservation the Anglo-Irish treaty and the constitution.

WOMAN SLAYER GIVEN 12 YEARS

Georgia Ridgeway, convicted last week of second degree murder in the death of Dr. W. B. Borrer, was sentenced yesterday to serve 12 years in the state penitentiary when arraigned before Judge I. Grant Lazelle of Morgantown.

The court's remarks had to do with testimony submitted during the trial to show that on the day Dr. Borror died several drinking parties were held in his branch offices in the coal field of Scott's Run where he was company physician and also with the testimony that luncheon parties and drinking parties had been held in his main offices in which it was declared by witnessss both the dead physician and the defendant had participated.

WOMAN SLAYER GIVEN 12 YEARS

Georgia Ridgeway, convicted last week of second degree murder in the death of Dr. W. B. Borrer, was sentenced yesterday to serve 12 years in the state penitentiary when arraigned before Judge I. Grant Lazelle of Morgantown.

The court took more than an hour reviewing the case and declared that from the evidence submitted there must have been something "radically wrong going on in those offices and in the Scott's Run branch offices," and advocated a thorough investigation by the prosecuting attorney's office.

The court's remarks had to do with testimony submitted during the trial to show that on the day Dr. Borror died several drinking parties were held in his branch offices in the coal field of Scott's Run where he was company physician and also with the testimony that luncheon parties and drinking parties had been held in his main offices in which it was declared by witnessss both the dead physician and the defendant had participated.

Nations in Arrears On Payments for League of Nations

GENEVA.—Balance sheets of the League of Nations show that many nations are in arrears in their quota payments for the upkeep of League headquarters and its activities.

China owes the league a total of $628,000 and is the heaviest debtor. Being in arrears did not prevent China being elected to a temporary seat on the council during the last assembly. The republic of San Salvador, also holding a council seat, owes the league the modest sum of $2,637.

Peru, reputed Eldorado, owes $175,835. Bolivia owes $37,000, Honduras $13,999, Nicauragua $20,000 and Lithuania $11,400.

Several states have credit balances including Great Britain with $387,031, France with $344,039, Belgium with $106,012 and the Dominican republic with $769.

But—He "Felt No Better for That."

A man from Nebraska tells this: "For three nights I was kept awake by a bothersome persistent cough, and so were others of the family; and I felt no better for that. The very first doses of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me and in two days' time my cough was entirely gone." Think of the saving of distress to himself and others, had he taken Foley's Honey and Tar Compound at the start. It pays to keep it on hand. The large family size is a real economical buy. CANTON VICE LORDS PREPARE TO "COVER UP"

PAT M'DERMOTT WILL TALK ON MELLETT DEATH

"Key Figure" Signifies Willingness to Reveal Murder Plot.

TELLS BROTHER

BY BEN STERN.

CANTON, O., Nov. 2.—Stripped of their last protection, the silence of their henchmen, the vice lords of the region stretching from Pittsburgh to Cleveland and including Youngstown, Akron, Toledo and Canton, were being notified today by the "grapevine" route to cover up and, if possible, flee. This warning was sent out today when it was learned that Pat McDermott was willing to talk, and talk a lot.

Pat signified his desire to talk, it was learned from a reliable source, in a conference with his brother Tom, late yesterday afternoon. He told his brother:

"I'll tell them who killed Don Mellett and I'll tell them who wanted the 'bumping off' to be done."

Whether Prosecutor C. B. McClintock will take advantage of Pat's offer, or whether he will wait for the return of Ora Slater, Cincinnati sleuth, was the question today.

McClintock Visits Massillon.

Preponderant evidence against McDermott was gleaned late yesterday afternoon by McClintock in a visit to Massillon, Rudner's stamping ground. While there he interviewed a well known figure in the Pennsylvania-Ohio crime trust, who was willing to talk, as long as he did not incriminate himself.

Pat's resolve to "clear his chest" came as the result of the bringing here of Nadel, and George Pfaff, bootlegger and alleged henchman of Ben Rudner and, according to Slater, the "banker" for Pat McDermott when the latter went into his three months' hiding only to be delivered up by his relatives.

Pfaff talked in Cleveland and that information leaked into Pat's cell. Pfaff talked again late yesterday afternoon when Prosecutor McClintock visited him soon after his arrival in the Stark county jail.

"Bit by bit the evidence has been mounting higher and higher against the key figure man, McDermott, until it has overburdened his resolve not to "squeal" and demolished his last compunction," McClintock said.

M. W. Thompson presided. The chorus singing was led by Dr. Colin F. Kinsey. The guests included Franklin P. Geiger, superintendent of schools at New Philadelphia, O., a former resident of this city.

Rural Poll is Light.

The vote in the rural districts throughout Columbiana county was also reported to be light during the forenoon, farmers taking advantage of the good weather to catch up with their outdoor work.

More than one-half of the normal vote in Lisbon had been cast at the noon hour. Interest in the county seat town is centered on the proposed two-mill school levy and the three-cornered judgeship race in which two Lisbon candidates figure.

Democratic Leaders Silent.

J. S. Hilbert, chief deputy of the board of deputy state supervisors, stood pat on his prediction that the county poll will be approximately 20,000, while he placed East Liverpool's total between 5,000 and 5,500.

Republican leaders reiterated their claims of victory for the state, district and county ticket and predicted that Republicans would be elected to the judicial places.

Democratic leaders declined to make any forecast.

Will Speed Returns.

The election board, through Chief Deputy Hilbert and Clerk J. W. Moore, issued instructions to precinct judges to count first the state, district, county and judicial ballots, then the proposed state amendment. The proposed $225,000 bond issue for a municipal building and the 2.3 mill school tax levy will be tabulated after the other tickets are reported.

Messengers will be employed to dispatch returns from East Liverpool precincts to the election board's headquarters in the Betz building, Market street. Outside the city, presiding judges will telephone returns to district representatives of the election board.

Instructions to speed the count have been given all presiding judges.

Small Turnout in State.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2. — Pre-election forecasts of a light vote in the Ohio election were generally borne out by reports from various sections of the state today, indicating but a small percentage of the electorate had visited the polls during the forenoon hours.

Ohio's Chief Interest

governor. Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, is the Republican candidate to succeed Donahey. Former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene, Cleveland, is the Democratic aspirant to occupy the seat in the United States senate now held by Senator Frank B. Willis, Delaware, who is a candidate to succeed himself.

The proposed state constitutional amendment, if adopted, would modify Ohio's primary election system so as to provide for the nomination of political candidates at state conventions. Delegates to these conventions would be chosen at state-wide primaries. Candidates now are nominated at the primaries.

Predictions of victory were voiced today by Democratic and Republican campaign leaders, including Charles R. Frederickson, Coshocton, and Thomas E. Dye, Urbana, chairman of the Republican and Democratic state campaign committees respectively.

OLD AND YOUNG GO TO BAPTIST CHURCH ALTAR

Many Reconsecrated After Rev. Mel Morris Speaks.

INSPIRING TALK

Marion Ball Sings "The Old Fashioned Religion."

Their countenances illumined, tears streaking the faces of several, a large number of persons experienced reconsecration at the First Baptist church revival on Fifth street last evening following a compelling sermon by Rev. Mel Morris, Maryland evangelist, on the so-called little gospel: "For God So Loved the World That He Gave His Only Begotten Son That Whosoever Believeth in Him Should Not Parish But Have Everlasting Life."

Inspired by the analytical and vigorous discourse of the visiting minister the old, young and middle-aged of the congregation commingled at the altar in a period of prayer that left them renewed and eager to aid in every manner possible the further work necessary in the evangelistic campaign.

In attendance aiding the pastor, Rev. A. H. O'Brien, were Dr. F. A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church and Rev. George Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. The latter made the invocation preceding the sermon and the former offered prayer during the after service.

A delegation of members of the Pleasant Heights Mission of the church was present in a body and sang "He Ransomed Me" during the musical prelude. The official staff and workmen of the American Porcelain company, it was announced, would attend tonight's service in a body.

Using in conjunction an ukulele Marion Ball, the director of music, sang, "The Old Fashioned Religion," "The Blessed Bible" and "Do You Wonder Why I Love Him," the preliminary singing being concluded with "When They Ring the Golden Bells."

"Presidential Bolt"

wash him from the national arena.

Even more closely political eyes are on Massachusetts, where President Coolidge injected himself into the campaign in behalf of his friend, Senator William M. Butler. If Butler is defeated by former Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, the leaders undoubtedly will view it as a direct blow to possible Coolidge aspirations for a third term.

In Ohio, the "home state of presidents," there is interest in Governor Vic Donahey's race for a third term and in the contest between Senator Frank B. Willis, Republican, and former Senator Atlee Pomerene, Democrat, for the senatorial toga. A Donahey victory or a Pomerene victory, would make either or both men available in 1928 for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Charlie Bryan Attempts Come-Back.

Down in Maryland, the effort of Governor Albert C. Ritchie to shatter all precedents by winning a third term in the gubernatorial chair, likewise attracted attention. Ritchie's race overshadows the fight between Senator O. E. Weller, Republican, and Representative Millard E. Tydings, Democrat, for a seat in the senate. If Ritchie wins, he too becomes "available" for the Democrats in 1928.

Out in the corn belt, Democrats were casting a wary eye on "brother Charlie" Bryan's attempt to return to the Nebraska governor's mansion.

The Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania elections attracted other political eyes because of the Ku Klux Klan and slush fund revelations brought out by Senator James A. Reed's senate committee. National leaders watched the Indiana race particularly to learn exactly what effect a Ku Klux Klan denouement can have upon a senatorial contest, as both Senators James S. Watson and Arthur R. Robinson, Republicans have Klan backing in their races for re-election against Albert Stumpf and Evans Woolen, Democrats.

Three-Cornered Race in Illinois.

A three-cornered race in Illinois threw some doubt on the outcome there as "slush" revelations handicapped the race of Frank L. Smith, Republican, against George E. Brennan, the dripping-wet Democrat. Near the close of the campaign, Hugh Magill, an independent Republican, entered the race to further complicate the situation. The "slush" charges were expected to have more bearing there than in Pennsylvania, where there is an out-and-out fight between Representative William S. Vare and William B. Wilson, a Wilsonian Democrat.

In Washington and Oregon, where "slush" charges were raised recently, similar fights were staged. There is a three-cornered race in Oregon, between Frederick Steiwer, Republican, Bert E. Haney, Democrat, and Senator Robert N. Stanfield, Independent. In Washington, there was a straight out race between Senator Wesley L. Jones, Republican, and A. Scott Bullitt, Democrat. Slush charges may also figure in the Arizona contest, where Senator Ralph H. Cameron, Republican, is opposed by Representative Carl Hayden, Democrat. Cameron raised the charges.

Three Autos Stolen.

Theft of two automobiles were reported to the local police last night.

A 1924 model Willys-Knight sedan, belonging to B. W. Clark, Daisy alley, was stolen while parked near the corner of Second and Union streets at 8 o'clock. The machine carried license number 241-112.

Ford touring car, 1925 model, belonging to Raymond F. Duncan of Chester, stolen while parked near the Standard pottery on Broadway at 10:50 o'clock, was later recovered. The machine is believed to have been taken by "joy riders" who afterwards abandoned it.

ALBERT CLARK IS HONORED AT CHURCH DINNER

Masonic Emblem and Other Gifts for Choirmaster.

Prof. Albert Clark, organist and choirmaster at the St. Stephens Episcopal church, who leaves today for Evansville, Ind., where he has accepted a similar position in St. Paul's Episcopal church, was the guest of honor at a dinner given by mothers of the choir boys at the parish house, at 6 o'clock last evening.

About 75 persons, including members of the choir, vestry, officers of the church and friends of Clark, attended the affair. Mrs. Thomas Kind was chairman of the score or more women who prepared and served the dinner.

The tables, arranged in the spacious dining hall of the parish house, were decorated in a color scheme of green and red, large bouquets of fall flowers gracing the tables.

W. C. Lynch, Chester, was toastmaster. Each of the 30 or more choir boys who attended the dinner, spoke briefly, answering Mr. Lynch's question: "Why I am sorry to see Professor Clark leave?"

Short talks were made by Herbert Goodwin, Bert Watkins, Carl Krug and Rev. Russell K. Caulk, rector of the church, who voiced a plea for harmony and co-operation not only among members of the church but among the entire parish membership.

On behalf of A. M. Burns, who was forced to leave before the program was completed, C. E. Nelson presented Clark with a Masonic emblem. Mrs. Thomas Kind, spokesman for the mothers of the choir boys, presented the honor guest with a framed testimonial from the mothers of the youthful vocalists. Prof. Clark was next presented with a beautiful silver trimmed baton by members of the choir, the presentation speech being made by Alfred Jewell.

Clark, in expressing his thanks for the gifts, explained his work since coming to this city a little less than three years ago. He also lauded members of the church and choir for their loyalty.

CANTON VICE LORDS PREPARE TO "COVER UP"

PAT M'DERMOTT WILL TALK ON MELLETT DEATH

"Key Figure" Signifies Willingness to Reveal Murder Plot.

TELLS BROTHER

BY BEN STERN.

CANTON, O., Nov. 2.—Stripped of their last protection, the silence of their henchmen, the vice lords of the region stretching from Pittsburgh to Cleveland and including Youngstown, Akron, Toledo and Canton, were being notified today by the "grapevine" route to cover up and, if possible, flee. This warning was sent out today when it was learned that Pat McDermott was willing to talk, and talk a lot.

Pat signified his desire to talk, it was learned from a reliable source, in a conference with his brother Tom, late yesterday afternoon. He told his brother:

"I'll tell them who killed Don Mellett and I'll tell them who wanted the 'bumping off' to be done."

Whether Prosecutor C. B. McClintock will take advantage of Pat's offer, or whether he will wait for the return of Ora Slater, Cincinnati sleuth, was the question today.

McClintock Visits Massillon.

Preponderant evidence against McDermott was gleaned late yesterday afternoon by McClintock in a visit to Massillon, Rudner's stamping ground. While there he interviewed a well known figure in the Pennsylvania-Ohio crime trust, who was willing to talk, as long as he did not incriminate himself.

Pat's resolve to "clear his chest" came as the result of the bringing here of Nadel, and George Pfaff, bootlegger and alleged henchman of Ben Rudner and, according to Slater, the "banker" for Pat McDermott when the latter went into his three months' hiding only to be delivered up by his relatives.

Pfaff talked in Cleveland and that information leaked into Pat's cell. Pfaff talked again late yesterday afternoon when Prosecutor McClintock visited him soon after his arrival in the Stark county jail.

"Bit by bit the evidence has been mounting higher and higher against the key figure man, McDermott, until it has overburdened his resolve not to "squeal" and demolished his last compunction," McClintock said.

Rural Poll is Light.

The vote in the rural districts throughout Columbiana county was also reported to be light during the forenoon, farmers taking advantage of the good weather to catch up with their outdoor work.

More than one-half of the normal vote in Lisbon had been cast at the noon hour. Interest in the county seat town is centered on the proposed two-mill school levy and the three-cornered judgeship race in which two Lisbon candidates figure.

Democratic Leaders Silent.

J. S. Hilbert, chief deputy of the board of deputy state supervisors, stood pat on his prediction that the county poll will be approximately 20,000, while he placed East Liverpool's total between 5,000 and 5,500.

Republican leaders reiterated their claims of victory for the state, district and county ticket and predicted that Republicans would be elected to the judicial places.

Democratic leaders declined to make any forecast.

Will Speed Returns.

The election board, through Chief Deputy Hilbert and Clerk J. W. Moore, issued instructions to precinct judges to count first the state, district, county and judicial ballots, then the proposed state amendment. The proposed $225,000 bond issue for a municipal building and the 2.3 mill school tax levy will be tabulated after the other tickets are reported.

Messengers will be employed to dispatch returns from East Liverpool precincts to the election board's headquarters in the Betz building, Market street. Outside the city, presiding judges will telephone returns to district representatives of the election board.

Instructions to speed the count have been given all presiding judges.

Small Turnout in State.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2. — Pre-election forecasts of a light vote in the Ohio election were generally borne out by reports from various sections of the state today, indicating but a small percentage of the electorate had visited the polls during the forenoon hours.

Ohio's Chief Interest

governor. Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, is the Republican candidate to succeed Donahey. Former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene, Cleveland, is the Democratic aspirant to occupy the seat in the United States senate now held by Senator Frank B. Willis, Delaware, who is a candidate to succeed himself.

The proposed state constitutional amendment, if adopted, would modify Ohio's primary election system so as to provide for the nomination of political candidates at state conventions. Delegates to these conventions would be chosen at state-wide primaries. Candidates now are nominated at the primaries.

Predictions of victory were voiced today by Democratic and Republican campaign leaders, including Charles R. Frederickson, Coshocton, and Thomas E. Dye, Urbana, chairman of the Republican and Democratic state campaign committees respectively.

OLD AND YOUNG GO TO BAPTIST CHURCH ALTAR

Many Reconsecrated After Rev. Mel Morris Speaks.

INSPIRING TALK

Marion Ball Sings "The Old Fashioned Religion."

Their countenances illumined, tears streaking the faces of several, a large number of persons experienced reconsecration at the First Baptist church revival on Fifth street last evening following a compelling sermon by Rev. Mel Morris, Maryland evangelist, on the so-called little gospel: "For God So Loved the World That He Gave His Only Begotten Son That Whosoever Believeth in Him Should Not Parish But Have Everlasting Life."

Inspired by the analytical and vigorous discourse of the visiting minister the old, young and middle-aged of the congregation commingled at the altar in a period of prayer that left them renewed and eager to aid in every manner possible the further work necessary in the evangelistic campaign.

In attendance aiding the pastor, Rev. A. H. O'Brien, were Dr. F. A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church and Rev. George Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. The latter made the invocation preceding the sermon and the former offered prayer during the after service.

A delegation of members of the Pleasant Heights Mission of the church was present in a body and sang "He Ransomed Me" during the musical prelude. The official staff and workmen of the American Porcelain company, it was announced, would attend tonight's service in a body.

Using in conjunction an ukulele Marion Ball, the director of music, sang, "The Old Fashioned Religion," "The Blessed Bible" and "Do You Wonder Why I Love Him," the preliminary singing being concluded with "When They Ring the Golden Bells."

wash him from the national arena.

Even more closely political eyes are on Massachusetts, where President Coolidge injected himself into the campaign in behalf of his friend, Senator William M. Butler. If Butler is defeated by former Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, the leaders undoubtedly will view it as a direct blow to possible Coolidge aspirations for a third term.

In Ohio, the "home state of presidents," there is interest in Governor Vic Donahey's race for a third term and in the contest between Senator Frank B. Willis, Republican, and former Senator Atlee Pomerene, Democrat, for the senatorial toga. A Donahey victory or a Pomerene victory, would make either or both men available in 1928 for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Charlie Bryan Attempts Come-Back.

Down in Maryland, the effort of Governor Albert C. Ritchie to shatter all precedents by winning a third term in the gubernatorial chair, likewise attracted attention. Ritchie's race overshadows the fight between Senator O. E. Weller, Republican, and Representative Millard E. Tydings, Democrat, for a seat in the senate. If Ritchie wins, he too becomes "available" for the Democrats in 1928.

Out in the corn belt, Democrats were casting a wary eye on "brother Charlie" Bryan's attempt to return to the Nebraska governor's mansion.

The Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania elections attracted other political eyes because of the Ku Klux Klan and slush fund revelations brought out by Senator James A. Reed's senate committee. National leaders watched the Indiana race particularly to learn exactly what effect a Ku Klux Klan denouement can have upon a senatorial contest, as both Senators James E. Watson and Arthur R. Robinson, Republicans have Klan backing in their races for re-election against Albert Stumpf and Evans Woolen, Democrats.

Three-Cornered Race in Illinois.

A three-cornered race in Illinois threw some doubt on the outcome there as "slush" revelations handicapped the race of Frank L. Smith, Republican, against George E. Brennan, the dripping-wet Democrat. Near the close of the campaign, Hugh Magill, an independent Republican, entered the race to further complicate the situation. The "slush" charges were expected to have more bearing there than in Pennsylvania, where there is an out-and-out fight between Representative William S. Vare and William B. Wilson, a Wilsonian Democrat.

In Washington and Oregon, where "slush" charges were raised recently, similar fights were staged. There is a three-cornered race in Oregon, between Frederick Steiwer, Republican, Bert E. Haney, Democrat, and Senator Robert N. Stanfield, Independent. In Washington, there was a straight out race between Senator Wesley L. Jones, Republican, and A. Scott Bullitt, Democrat. Slush charges may also figure in the Arizona contest, where Senator Ralph H. Cameron, Republican, is opposed by Representative Carl Hayden, Democrat. Cameron raised the charges.

Three Autos Stolen.

Theft of two automobiles were reported to the local police last night.

A 1924 model Willys-Knight sedan, belonging to B. W. Clark, Daisy alley, was stolen while parked near the corner of Second and Union streets at 8 o'clock. The machine carried license number 241-112.

Ford touring car, 1925 model, belonging to Raymond F. Duncan of Chester, stolen while parked near the Standard pottery on Broadway at 10:50 o'clock, was later recovered. The machine is believed to have been taken by "joy riders" who afterwards abandoned it.

ALBERT CLARK IS HONORED AT CHURCH DINNER

Masonic Emblem and Other Gifts for Choirmaster.

Prof. Albert Clark, organist and choirmaster at the St. Stephens Episcopal church, who leaves today for Evansville, Ind., where he has accepted a similar position in St. Paul's Episcopal church, was the guest of honor at a dinner given by mothers of the choir boys at the parish house, at 6 o'clock last evening.

About 75 persons, including members of the choir, vestry, officers of the church and friends of Clark, attended the affair. Mrs. Thomas Kind was chairman of the score or more women who prepared and served the dinner.

The tables, arranged in the spacious dining hall of the parish house, were decorated in a color scheme of green and red, large bouquets of fall flowers gracing the tables.

W. C. Lynch, Chester, was toastmaster. Each of the 30 or more choir boys who attended the dinner, spoke briefly, answering Mr. Lynch's question: "Why I am sorry to see Professor Clark leave?"

Short talks were made by Herbert Goodwin, Bert Watkins, Carl Krug and Rev. Russell K. Caulk, rector of the church, who voiced a plea for harmony and co-operation not only among members of the church but among the entire parish membership.

On behalf of A. M. Burns, who was forced to leave before the program was completed, C. E. Nelson presented Clark with a Masonic emblem. Mrs. Thomas Kind, spokesman for the mothers of the choir boys, presented the honor guest with a framed testimonial from the mothers of the youthful vocalists. Prof. Clark was next presented with a beautiful silver trimmed baton by members of the choir, the presentation speech being made by Alfred Jewell.

Clark, in expressing his thanks for the gifts, explained his work since coming to this city a little less than three years ago. He also lauded members of the church and choir for their loyalty.

CANTON VICE LORDS PREPARE TO "COVER UP"

PAT M'DERMOTT WILL TALK ON MELLETT DEATH

"Key Figure" Signifies Willingness to Reveal Murder Plot.

TELLS BROTHER

BY BEN STERN.

CANTON, O., Nov. 2.—Stripped of their last protection, the silence of their henchmen, the vice lords of the region stretching from Pittsburgh to Cleveland and including Youngstown, Akron, Toledo and Canton, were being notified today by the "grapevine" route to cover up and, if possible, flee. This warning was sent out today when it was learned that Pat McDermott was willing to talk, and talk a lot.

Pat signified his desire to talk, it was learned from a reliable source, in a conference with his brother Tom, late yesterday afternoon. He told his brother:

"I'll tell them who killed Don Mellett and I'll tell them who wanted the 'bumping off' to be done."

Whether Prosecutor C. B. McClintock will take advantage of Pat's offer, or whether he will wait for the return of Ora Slater, Cincinnati sleuth, was the question today.

McClintock Visits Massillon.

Preponderant evidence against McDermott was gleaned late yesterday afternoon by McClintock in a visit to Massillon, Rudner's stamping ground. While there he interviewed a well known figure in the Pennsylvania-Ohio crime trust, who was willing to talk, as long as he did not incriminate himself.

Pat's resolve to "clear his chest" came as the result of the bringing here of Nadel, and George Pfaff, bootlegger and alleged henchman of Ben Rudner and, according to Slater, the "banker" for Pat McDermott when the latter went into his three months' hiding only to be delivered up by his relatives.

Pfaff talked in Cleveland and that information leaked into Pat's cell. Pfaff talked again late yesterday afternoon when Prosecutor McClintock visited him soon after his arrival in the Stark county jail.

"Bit by bit the evidence has been mounting higher and higher against the key figure man, McDermott, until it has overburdened his resolve not to "squeal" and demolished his last compunction," McClintock said.

SLOWLY the United States, like a child taking its first steps, feels its way in the world of flying.

The Denver Post announces the establishment of the first flying route connecting the United States with a foreign country. The Colorado Airways, Inc., will carry mails and passengers" between Denver and Mexico City connecting with Mexican fliers at El Paso.

To send a letter from Denver to Mexico City and get an answer now requires twenty-one days. The air service will cut that to three days.

DR. CAMPBELL ROTARY GUEST

East End Pastor Speaks on "Common Sense."

Dr. J. O. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, addressed members of the Rotary Club at their noon-day luncheon meeting today in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. His subject was "Common Sense."

M. W. Thompson presided. The chorus singing was led by Dr. Colin F. Kinsey. The guests included Franklin P. Geiger, superintendent of schools at New Philadelphia, O., a former resident of this city.

Thomas H. Fisher, active vice-president of the First National bank, introduced the speaker.

1,260 Poll at Noon

Rural Poll is Light.

The vote in the rural districts throughout Columbiana county was also reported to be light during the forenoon, farmers taking advantage of the good weather to catch up with their outdoor work.

More than one-half of the normal vote in Lisbon had been cast at the noon hour. Interest in the county seat town is centered on the proposed two-mill school levy and the three-cornered judgeship race in which two Lisbon candidates figure.

Democratic Leaders Silent.

J. S. Hilbert, chief deputy of the board of deputy state supervisors, stood pat on his prediction that the county poll will be approximately 20,000, while he placed East Liverpool's total between 5,000 and 5,500.

Republican leaders reiterated their claims of victory for the state, district and county ticket and predicted that Republicans would be elected to the judicial places.

Democratic leaders declined to make any forecast.

Will Speed Returns.

The election board, through Chief Deputy Hilbert and Clerk J. W. Moore, issued instructions to precinct judges to count first the state, district, county and judicial ballots, then the proposed state amendment. The proposed $225,000 bond issue for a municipal building and the 2.3 mill school tax levy will be tabulated after the other tickets are reported.

Messengers will be employed to dispatch returns from East Liverpool precincts to the election board's headquarters in the Betz building, Market street. Outside the city, presiding judges will telephone returns to district representatives of the election board.

Instructions to speed the count have been given all presiding judges.

Small Turnout in State.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2. — Pre-election forecasts of a light vote in the Ohio election were generally borne out by reports from various sections of the state today, indicating but a small percentage of the electorate had visited the polls during the forenoon hours.

Ohio's Chief Interest

governor. Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, is the Republican candidate to succeed Donahey. Former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene, Cleveland, is the Democratic aspirant to occupy the seat in the United States senate now held by Senator Frank B. Willis, Delaware, who is a candidate to succeed himself.

The proposed state constitutional amendment, if adopted, would modify Ohio's primary election system so as to provide for the nomination of political candidates at state conventions. Delegates to these conventions would be chosen at state-wide primaries. Candidates now are nominated at the primaries.

Predictions of victory were voiced today by Democratic and Republican campaign leaders, including Charles R. Frederickson, Coshocton, and Thomas E. Dye, Urbana, chairman of the Republican and Democratic state campaign committees respectively.

"Presidential Bolt"

wash him from the national arena.

Even more closely political eyes are on Massachusetts, where President Coolidge injected himself into the campaign in behalf of his friend, Senator William M. Butler. If Butler is defeated by former Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, the leaders undoubtedly will view it as a direct blow to possible Coolidge aspirations for a third term.

In Ohio, the "home state of presidents," there is interest in Governor Vic Donahey's race for a third term and in the contest between Senator Frank B. Willis, Republican, and former Senator Atlee Pomerene, Democrat, for the senatorial toga. A Donahey victory or a Pomerene victory, would make either or both men available in 1928 for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Charlie Bryan Attempts Come-Back.

Down in Maryland, the effort of Governor Albert C. Ritchie to shatter all precedents by winning a third term in the gubernatorial chair, likewise attracted attention. Ritchie's race overshadows the fight between Senator O. E. Weller, Republican, and Representative Millard E. Tydings, Democrat, for a seat in the senate. If Ritchie wins, he too becomes "available" for the Democrats in 1928.

Out in the corn belt, Democrats were casting a wary eye on "brother Charlie" Bryan's attempt to return to the Nebraska governor's mansion.

The Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania elections attracted other political eyes because of the Ku Klux Klan and slush fund revelations brought out by Senator James A. Reed's senate committee. National leaders watched the Indiana race particularly to learn exactly what effect a Ku Klux Klan denouement can have upon a senatorial contest, as both Senators James E. Watson. Watson and Arthur R. Robinson, Republicans have Klan backing in their races for re-election against Albert Stumpf and Evans Woolen, Democrats.

OLD AND YOUNG GO TO BAPTIST CHURCH ALTAR

Many Reconsecrated After Rev. Mel Morris Speaks.

INSPIRING TALK

Marion Ball Sings "The Old Fashioned Religion."

Their countenances illumined, tears streaking the faces of several, a large number of persons experienced reconsecration at the First Baptist church revival on Fifth street last evening following a compelling sermon by Rev. Mel Morris, Maryland evangelist, on the so-called little gospel: "For God So Loved the World That He Gave His Only Begotten Son That Whosoever Believeth in Him Should Not Parish But Have Everlasting Life."

Inspired by the analytical and vigorous discourse of the visiting minister the old, young and middle-aged of the congregation commingled at the altar in a period of prayer that left them renewed and eager to aid in every manner possible the further work necessary in the evangelistic campaign.

In attendance aiding the pastor, Rev. A. H. O'Brien, were Dr. F. A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church and Rev. George Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. The latter made the invocation preceding the sermon and the former offered prayer during the after service.

A delegation of members of the Pleasant Heights Mission of the church was present in a body and sang "He Ransomed Me" during the musical prelude. The official staff and workmen of the American Porcelain company, it was announced, would attend tonight's service in a body.

Using in conjunction an ukulele Marion Ball, the director of music, sang, "The Old Fashioned Religion," "The Blessed Bible" and "Do You Wonder Why I Love Him," the preliminary singing being concluded with "When They Ring the Golden Bells."

Three-Cornered Race in Illinois.

A three-cornered race in Illinois threw some doubt on the outcome there as "slush" revelations handicapped the race of Frank L. Smith, Republican, against George E. Brennan, the dripping-wet Democrat. Near the close of the campaign, Hugh Magill, an independent Republican, entered the race to further complicate the situation. The "slush" charges were expected to have more bearing there than in Pennsylvania, where there is an out-and-out fight between Representative William S. Vare and William B. Wilson, a Wilsonian Democrat.

In Washington and Oregon, where "slush" charges were raised recently, similar fights were staged. There is a three-cornered race in Oregon, between Frederick Steiwer, Republican, Bert E. Haney, Democrat, and Senator Robert N. Stanfield, Independent. In Washington, there was a straight out race between Senator Wesley L. Jones, Republican, and A. Scott Bullitt, Democrat. Slush charges may also figure in the Arizona contest, where Senator Ralph H. Cameron, Republican, is opposed by Representative Carl Hayden, Democrat. Cameron raised the charges.

Three Autos Stolen.

Theft of two automobiles were reported to the local police last night.

A 1924 model Willys-Knight sedan, belonging to B. W. Clark, Daisy alley, was stolen while parked near the corner of Second and Union streets at 8 o'clock. The machine carried license number 241-112.

Ford touring car, 1925 model, belonging to Raymond F. Duncan of Chester, stolen while parked near the Standard pottery on Broadway at 10:50 o'clock, was later recovered. The machine is believed to have been taken by "joy riders" who afterwards abandoned it.

ALBERT CLARK IS HONORED AT CHURCH DINNER

Masonic Emblem and Other Gifts for Choirmaster.

Prof. Albert Clark, organist and choirmaster at the St. Stephens Episcopal church, who leaves today for Evansville, Ind., where he has accepted a similar position in St. Paul's Episcopal church, was the guest of honor at a dinner given by mothers of the choir boys at the parish house, at 6 o'clock last evening.

About 75 persons, including members of the choir, vestry, officers of the church and friends of Clark, attended the affair. Mrs. Thomas Kind was chairman of the score or more women who prepared and served the dinner.

The tables, arranged in the spacious dining hall of the parish house, were decorated in a color scheme of green and red, large bouquets of fall flowers gracing the tables.

W. C. Lynch, Chester, was toastmaster. Each of the 30 or more choir boys who attended the dinner, spoke briefly, answering Mr. Lynch's question: "Why I am sorry to see Professor Clark leave?"

Short talks were made by Herbert Goodwin, Bert Watkins, Carl Krug and Rev. Russell K. Caulk, rector of the church, who voiced a plea for harmony and co-operation not only among members of the church but among the entire parish membership.

On behalf of A. M. Burns, who was forced to leave before the program was completed, C. E. Nelson presented Clark with a Masonic emblem. Mrs. Thomas Kind, spokesman for the mothers of the choir boys, presented the honor guest with a framed testimonial from the mothers of the youthful vocalists. Prof. Clark was next presented with a beautiful silver trimmed baton by members of the choir, the presentation speech being made by Alfred Jewell.

Clark, in expressing his thanks for the gifts, explained his work since coming to this city a little less than three years ago. He also lauded members of the church and choir for their loyalty.

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug-store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

LANGDON NOW COMEDY KING

Sad-faced Comic Scores in Film Hit at American.

Mayor Benedum probably wouldn't sanction a midnight showing of "The Strong Man," the current feature at the American theatre.

The riot of laughter that Harry Langdon provokes in this six-reel comedy would be heard all over town and keep the good citizens awake.

This man Langdon is a genius. And that doesn't do him justice. There is no use of reviewing "The Strong Man" in print. In the words of that grand old showman, it simply 'Must be seen to be appreciated."

Well, if you insist!

Harry as a Belgian ex-soldier(and you see some good battle burlesque), comes to America in search of a girl who wrote him "Buddy" letters. There is a "wow" of a sequence when he arrives at Ellis Island, the sad-faced comic looking for all the world like a lost child. There is a riot of fun when he becomes an assistant to a German weight lifter in a vaudeville act. And there is absolute pandemonium when he is nabbed by a voluptous vamp. Harry is at his funniest in the role of a pure-minded youth who doesn't know what all the shouting is about.

Langdon last night gave a most astounding performance of sorrowful mimicry. When they make more comedians like Langdon, who can give you a comedy that chokes off its chuckles in deep-seated sobs, then comedy will become the main fare of motion picture audiences. In "The Strong Man" there was quite enough pathos to satisfy the most exacting sentimentalists.

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases.

Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

LANGDON NOW COMEDY KING

Sad-faced Comic Scores in Film Hit at American.

Mayor Benedum probably wouldn't sanction a midnight showing of "The Strong Man," the current feature at the American theatre.

The riot of laughter that Harry Langdon provokes in this six-reel comedy would be heard all over town and keep the good citizens awake.

This man Langdon is a genius. And that doesn't do him justice. There is no use of reviewing "The Strong Man" in print. In the words of that grand old showman, it simply 'Must be seen to be appreciated."

Well, if you insist!

Harry as a Belgian ex-soldier(and you see some good battle burlesque), comes to America in search of a girl who wrote him "Buddy" letters. There is a "wow" of a sequence when he arrives at Ellis Island, the sad-faced comic looking for all the world like a lost child. There is a riot of fun when he becomes an assistant to a German weight lifter in a vaudeville act. And there is absolute pandemonium when he is nabbed by a voluptous vamp. Harry is at his funniest in the role of a pure-minded youth who doesn't know what all the shouting is about.

Langdon last night gave a most astounding performance of sorrowful mimicry. When they make more comedians like Langdon, who can give you a comedy that chokes off its chuckles in deep-seated sobs, then comedy will become the main fare of motion picture audiences. In "The Strong Man" there was quite enough pathos to satisfy the most exacting sentimentalists.

WELLSVILLE CASTS LARGE VOTE BEFORE NOON

501 BALLOTS ARE REPORTED BY PRECINCTS

B of First Ward Sets Pace With Total of 81.

2-B LISTS 71

Fourth Ward Electors Drop 147 in Boxes.

With the usual morning vote exceeded today by probably a third or more in practically every precinct of the city, indications were strong at noon that the ballot boxes would show an unusually large total when tabulations are made tonight on state, county, district and local issues.

With more than a nominal concern in the balloting as a result of local tax issues and interest in at least one of the county fights, electors here were getting out early.

At noon, 501 votes had been cast in the nine precincts of the city, with the polls at the Central garage—Precinct B of the First ward—leading with a total of 81.

Both of the First ward precincts, in fact, were up in the figures, the A precinct showing a vote of 52.

Seventy-one had been cast at the fire station—2 B—and 69 at the companion precinct.

The Fourth ward had turned in a total of 147.

Here are the precinct figures:

Precinct A—52; Precinct B—81.

Second Ward.

Precinct A—69; Precinct B—71.

Third Ward.

Precinct A—35; Precinct B—42.

Fourth Ward.

Precinct A—49; Precinct B—65; Precinct C—33.

Thousands have proved that Hall's Catarrh Medicine drives away catarrh because it tones and strengthens the mucous membranes. Cliff Orr's 90-Yard Run Gives Muskingum Grid Fans Big Thrill

Local Youth Big Factor in "Muskie's" Success; Vernia Makes Touchdown Against Heidelberg Eleven.

Two Wellsville boys, former high school athletic stars, are proving potent factors in the march of the Muskingum college football team toward the Ohio conference championship.

Victors in four conference contests to date, the Muskies rank along with five other conference rivals at the top of the heap, all boasting clean records.

No small part of the credit for the achievements of the Black and Magenta to date is due to Clifford "Rex" Orr and Ted Vernia. Orr is playing his second year at halfback on the Muskingum eleven and Vernia broke into the limelight in recent games as an end.

It was up to Orr to make one of the most brilliant plays recorded in years on a New Concord gridiron when he reeled off a 90-yard run from kickoff for a touchdown against Heidelberg. The Muskies defeated the Heidelberg outfit by a 19 to 6 score.

The "Black and Magenta," Muskingum college paper, tells about the play as follows:

"The first half was hardly ten minutes old before the initial Muskie touchdown was registered. After an exchange of punts, the Langmen took the ball on the Heidelberg 43 and with the aid of a 28-yard pass to Taylor, finally marched over the last white mark. Clark scored the touchdown on a quarterback sneak and also added the extra point with a placement kick. Heidelberg then opened up with a powerful offensive, scoring several first downs. Their touchdown came, however, when a punt which had been accidentally touched by a Muskie was recovered and turned into six points.

"But the suddeness of the Heidelberg score was only a preliminary to the greatest thrill which has even been experienced in the Muskingum stadium.

"Spectators had hardly sat down after the enemy's successful try for the extra point when Orr received the kickoff, and by a sensational piece of open field running, threaded his way through the entire opposing team for 90 yards and six more points. The 15-second dash was more thrilling than all the rest of the game. It seemed to demoralize Heidelberg, too, for a few minutes later, as the gun cracked, Vernia took a pass over for another touchdown.

"The second half was devoid of thrills and only Heidelberg's desperate attempts to turn the tide of battle with forward passes interested the spectators.

"The offensive work of Orr and Mintier and the defensive play of Ballantine were features."

Muskingum has piled up 90 points to their opponents' 15 during the season to date, beating Ashland, 6 to 0; Hiram, 19 to 0; Capital, 28 to 7; Ohio Northern, 6 to 0; Heidelberg, 19 to 6; and Otterbein, 12 to 0.

Their next three games are with Kenyon, Denison and Marietta, in order.

Orr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Orr, of Broadway. Vernia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Vernia, of Broadway.

TWO BOYS, GIRL, ARE ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

Girl Admits Leaving Husband in Indiana, Pa.

HELD BY POLICE

Husband Had Warned Youth in Letter, Authorities Say.

Two boys and a girl, claiming Indiana, Pa., as their home, arrested here yesterday afternoon in an automobile by Chief of Police John Fultz, are being held at the city hall pending receipt of information from Pennsylvania authorities.

The trio includes Mrs. Holly Jones, Raymond Risinger and Earl Laney.

Fultz observed the Pennsylvania license as the machine went down Main street yesterday and noticed a number of tires in the rear of the car.

Acting on the theory that it was possible the occupants of the machine were tire thieves, Fultz followed the car down Main street and stopped the three a short distance below the fire station.

Questioning them, Fultz asked the girl if she was married and the girl asserted that Risinger was her husband. She said she and Risinger had been married four months.

Suspecting both the girl and Risinger of concealing information of some kind, Fultz searched the latter and, he says, found a letter written by James Jones, alleged to be the girl's real husband, and addressed to Risinger. The letter, he said, was a warning from the girl's husband to Jones, admonishing the latter to stay away from her.

The three then admitted their identities and were taken to the city hall.

Arrest of Scaccuto In Detroit Marks Seventh In Kenney Death

Authorities Believe Latest Suspect to be Taken Can Furnish Information Concerning Case.

With the arrest at Detroit, Mich., of Antonia Scaccuto, seven men, all natives of Italy, are now in the county jail as the result of the murder of Patrolman James Kenny, at Wellsville the morning of May 17th last. The arrest by Chief of Police John Fultz and Sheriff George Wright, at Detroit, of Antonio Scaccuto may have considerable bearing upon the case when it is called to trial, as he is being held as a material witness.

Scaccuto, who was working at the Ford plant at Detroit, was also soliciting funds at Detroit, it is claimed, to be used in defending his cousin, Nick Scaccuto, who was indicted by the September grand jury on murder in the first degree.

When Sheriff Wright received a tip about what Antonio Scaccuto was doing in Detroit, he and Chief of Police Fultz, arranged with the Detroit authorities to arrest him. When Sheriff Wright and Chief Fultz arrived at Detroit, Scaccuto was then in custody, and it was also learned that he was arranging to leave the United States for Italy.

Scaccuto admits that he is acquainted with Mike Scola, who was arrested at Cleveland 10 days ago, but when first questioned about his acquaintanceship, denied knowing Scola. He has also admitted being in Wellsville about the time Kenney was killed, and that he was soliciting funds at Detroit to be used in defending Nick Scaccuto.

"Scaccuto had his trunk packed and was ready to 'pull out.'" Sheriff Wright declared when he returned to the county jail. "He agreed to return to Ohio, and while he did very little talking, we are of the opinion that inasmuch as he was soliciting money in behalf of the cause of his cousin that he knows more or less about the Wellsville murder."

Nick Scaccuto was the first to be arrested and held in connection with the death of Patrolman Kenney. An indictment was returned against him. Then followed the arrest of Joe Fusco, and the September grand jury continued his case.

Mike Zionno and Mike Scola were next arrested at Cleveland and have been charged with murder. They are now being held at the county jail without bond for their appearance before the next grand jury.

Soon after these two men were locked up, Rocco Carbicello and his brother, Bennie Carbicello, were arrested and also charged with murder in this case. These two men are also being held for action by the next grand jury.

Rocco Carbicello was arrested following his trial with Frank Fusco on an indictment charging him with bribery, that of having offered Sheriff Wright $390 to "lay off" further investigation into the death of Patrolman Kenney, this money being given the sheriff the afternoon of September 16 last. A jury convicted the two men after five hours' deliberation, and then counsel for the defendants filed a motion for a new trial.

Antonio Scaccuto makes the seventh to be in the county jail now, as a result of the death of the Wellsville officer.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruity laxative for stomach, liver, bowels

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm children and they love it

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals 'California Fig Syrup" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious, "fruity laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside cleansing." Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by "The California Fig Syrup Company."

Cliff Orr's 90-Yard Run Gives Muskingum Grid Fans Big Thrill

Local Youth Big Factor in "Muskie's" Success; Vernia Makes Touchdown Against Heidelberg Eleven.

Two Wellsville boys, former high school athletic stars, are proving potent factors in the march of the Muskingum college football team toward the Ohio conference championship.

Victors in four conference contests to date, the Muskies rank along with five other conference rivals at the top of the heap, all boasting clean records.

No small part of the credit for the achievements of the Black and Magenta to date is due to Clifford "Rex" Orr and Ted Vernia. Orr is playing his second year at halfback on the Muskingum eleven and Vernia broke into the limelight in recent games as an end.

It was up to Orr to make one of the most brilliant plays recorded in years on a New Concord gridiron when he reeled off a 90-yard run from kickoff for a touchdown against Heidelberg. The Muskies defeated the Heidelberg outfit by a 19 to 6 score.

The "Black and Magenta," Muskingum college paper, tells about the play as follows:

"The first half was hardly ten minutes old before the initial Muskie touchdown was registered. After an exchange of punts, the Langmen took the ball on the Heidelberg 43 and with the aid of a 28-yard pass to Taylor, finally marched over the last white mark. Clark scored the touchdown on a quarterback sneak and also added the extra point with a placement kick. Heidelberg then opened up with a powerful offensive, scoring several first downs. Their touchdown came, however, when a punt which had been accidentally touched by a Muskie was recovered and turned into six points.

"But the suddeness of the Heidelberg score was only a preliminary to the greatest thrill which has even been experienced in the Muskingum stadium.

"Spectators had hardly sat down after the enemy's successful try for the extra point when Orr received the kickoff, and by a sensational piece of open field running, threaded his way through the entire opposing team for 90 yards and six more points. The 15-second dash was more thrilling than all the rest of the game. It seemed to demoralize Heidelberg, too, for a few minutes later, as the gun cracked, Vernia took a pass over for another touchdown.

"The second half was devoid of thrills and only Heidelberg's desperate attempts to turn the tide of battle with forward passes interested the spectators.

"The offensive work of Orr and Mintier and the defensive play of Ballantine were features."

Muskingum has piled up 90 points to their opponents' 15 during the season to date, beating Ashland, 6 to 0; Hiram, 19 to 0; Capital, 28 to 7; Ohio Northern, 6 to 0; Heidelberg, 19 to 6; and Otterbein, 12 to 0.

Their next three games are with Kenyon, Denison and Marietta, in order.

Orr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Orr, of Broadway. Vernia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Vernia, of Broadway.

TWO BOYS, GIRL, ARE ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

Girl Admits Leaving Husband in Indiana, Pa.

HELD BY POLICE

Husband Had Warned Youth in Letter, Authorities Say.

Two boys and a girl, claiming Indiana, Pa., as their home, arrested here yesterday afternoon in an automobile by Chief of Police John Fultz, are being held at the city hall pending receipt of information from Pennsylvania authorities.

The trio includes Mrs. Holly Jones, Raymond Risinger and Earl Laney.

Fultz observed the Pennsylvania license as the machine went down Main street yesterday and noticed a number of tires in the rear of the car.

Acting on the theory that it was possible the occupants of the machine were tire thieves, Fultz followed the car down Main street and stopped the three a short distance below the fire station.

Questioning them, Fultz asked the girl if she was married and the girl asserted that Risinger was her husband. She said she and Risinger had been married four months.

Suspecting both the girl and Risinger of concealing information of some kind, Fultz searched the latter and, he says, found a letter written by James Jones, alleged to be the girl's real husband, and addressed to Risinger. The letter, he said, was a warning from the girl's husband to Jones, admonishing the latter to stay away from her.

The three then admitted their identities and were taken to the city hall.

Arrest of Scaccuto In Detroit Marks Seventh In Kenney Death

Authorities Believe Latest Suspect to be Taken Can Furnish Information Concerning Case.

With the arrest at Detroit, Mich., of Antonia Scaccuto, seven men, all natives of Italy, are now in the county jail as the result of the murder of Patrolman James Kenny, at Wellsville the morning of May 17th last. The arrest by Chief of Police John Fultz and Sheriff George Wright, at Detroit, of Antonio Scaccuto may have considerable bearing upon the case when it is called to trial, as he is being held as a material witness.

Scaccuto, who was working at the Ford plant at Detroit, was also soliciting funds at Detroit, it is claimed, to be used in defending his cousin, Nick Scaccuto, who was indicted by the September grand jury on murder in the first degree.

When Sheriff Wright received a tip about what Antonio Scaccuto was doing in Detroit, he and Chief of Police Fultz, arranged with the Detroit authorities to arrest him. When Sheriff Wright and Chief Fultz arrived at Detroit, Scaccuto was then in custody, and it was also learned that he was arranging to leave the United States for Italy.

Scaccuto admits that he is acquainted with Mike Scoia, who was arrested at Cleveland 10 days ago, but when first questioned about his acquaintanceship, denied knowing Scoia. He has also admitted being in Wellsville about the time Kenney was killed, and that he was soliciting funds at Detroit to be used in defending Nick Scaccuto.

"Scaccuto had his trunk packed and was ready to 'pull out,'" Sheriff Wright declared when he returned to the county jail. "He agreed to return to Ohio, and while he did very little talking, we are of the opinion that inasmuch as he was soliciting money in behalf of the cause of his cousin that he knows more or less about the Wellsville murder."

Nick Scaccuto was the first to be arrested and held in connection with the death of Patrolman Kenney. An indictment was returned against him. Then followed the arrest of Joe Fusco, and the September grand jury continued his case.

Mike Zionno and Mike Scoia were next arrested at Cleveland and have been charged with murder. They are now being held at the county jail without bond for their appearance before the next grand jury.

Soon after these two men were locked up, Rocco Carbicello and his brother, Bennie Carbicello, were arrested and also charged with murder in this case. These two men are also being held for action by the next grand jury.

Rocco Carbicello was arrested following his trial with Frank Fusco on an indictment charging him with bribery, that of having offered Sheriff Wright $390 to "lay off" further investigation into the death of Patrolman Kenney, this money being given the sheriff the afternoon of September 16 last. A jury convicted the two men after five hours' deliberation, and then counsel for the defendants filed a motion for a new trial.

TWO BOYS, GIRL, ARE ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

Girl Admits Leaving Husband in Indiana, Pa.

HELD BY POLICE

Husband Had Warned Youth in Letter, Authorities Say.

Two boys and a girl, claiming Indiana, Pa., as their home, arrested here yesterday afternoon in an automobile by Chief of Police John Fultz, are being held at the city hall pending receipt of information from Pennsylvania authorities.

The trio includes Mrs. Holly Jones, Raymond Risinger and Earl Laney.

Fultz observed the Pennsylvania license as the machine went down Main street yesterday and noticed a number of tires in the rear of the car.

Acting on the theory that it was possible the occupants of the machine were tire thieves, Fultz followed the car down Main street and stopped the three a short distance below the fire station.

Questioning them, Fultz asked the girl if she was married and the girl asserted that Risinger was her husband. She said she and Risinger had been married four months.

Suspecting both the girl and Risinger of concealing information of some kind, Fultz searched the latter and, he says, found a letter written by James Jones, alleged to be the girl's real husband, and addressed to Risinger. The letter, he said, was a warning from the girl's husband to Jones, admonishing the latter to stay away from her.

The three then admitted their identities and were taken to the city hall.

Arrest of Scaccuto In Detroit Marks Seventh In Kenney Death

Authorities Believe Latest Suspect to be Taken Can Furnish Information Concerning Case.

With the arrest at Detroit, Mich., of Antonia Scaccuto, seven men, all natives of Italy, are now in the county jail as the result of the murder of Patrolman James Kenny, at Wellsville the morning of May 17th last. The arrest by Chief of Police John Fultz and Sheriff George Wright, at Detroit, of Antonio Scaccuto may have considerable bearing upon the case when it is called to trial, as he is being held as a material witness.

Scaccuto, who was working at the Ford plant at Detroit, was also soliciting funds at Detroit, it is claimed, to be used in defending his cousin, Nick Scaccuto, who was indicted by the September grand jury on murder in the first degree.

When Sheriff Wright received a tip about what Antonio Scaccuto was doing in Detroit, he and Chief of Police Fultz, arranged with the Detroit authorities to arrest him. When Sheriff Wright and Chief Fultz arrived at Detroit, Scaccuto was then in custody, and it was also learned that he was arranging to leave the United States for Italy.

Scaccuto admits that he is acquainted with Mike Scoia, who was arrested at Cleveland 10 days ago, but when first questioned about his acquaintanceship, denied knowing Scoia. He has also admitted being in Wellsville about the time Kenney was killed, and that he was soliciting funds at Detroit to be used in defending Nick Scaccuto.

"Scaccuto had his trunk packed and was ready to 'pull out,'" Sheriff Wright declared when he returned to the county jail. "He agreed to return to Ohio, and while he did very little talking, we are of the opinion that inasmuch as he was soliciting money in behalf of the cause of his cousin that he knows more or less about the Wellsville murder."

Nick Scaccuto was the first to be arrested and held in connection with the death of Patrolman Kenney. An indictment was returned against him. Then followed the arrest of Joe Fusco, and the September grand jury continued his case.

Mike Zionno and Mike Scoia were next arrested at Cleveland and have been charged with murder. They are now being held at the county jail without bond for their appearance before the next grand jury.

Soon after these two men were locked up, Rocco Carbicello and his brother, Bennie Carbicello, were arrested and also charged with murder in this case. These two men are also being held for action by the next grand jury.

Rocco Carbicello was arrested following his trial with Frank Fusco on an indictment charging him with bribery, that of having offered Sheriff Wright $390 to "lay off" further investigation into the death of Patrolman Kenney, this money being given the sheriff the afternoon of September 16 last. A jury convicted the two men after five hours' deliberation, and then counsel for the defendants filed a motion for a new trial.

Antonio Scaccuto makes the seventh to be in the county jail now, as a result of the death of the Wellsville officer.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruity laxative for stomach, liver, bowels

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm children and they love it

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals 'California Fig Syrup" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious, "fruity laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside cleansing." Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by "The California Fig Syrup Company."

How I Keep My Waves

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is ever-wavy, with never a Marcel. It always has a glow. The reason lies in a hair dress which experts made for me.

I apply it on a brush twice a week. To fluff my hair I comb it backward, and the fluff remains. For a curl, use combs or fingers in the usual way, and the curl will last. It keeps a permanent wave in the same way. Or it keeps hair sleek and smooth for those who want it, and does it without grease.

This remarkable hair dress is now supplied by all toilet counters. It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. The price is 75 cents.

No girl or woman will go without it when she once sees what it does. It multiplies the beauty of the hair and keeps it in the style one wishes. You will be delighted with it.

Stock may be re-converted into fully paid shares.

How I Keep My Waves

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is ever-wavy, with never a Marcel. It always has a glow. The reason lies in a hair dress which experts made for me.

I apply it on a brush twice a week. To fluff my hair I comb it backward, and the fluff remains. For a curl, use combs or fingers in the usual way, and the curl will last. It keeps a permanent wave in the same way. Or it keeps hair sleek and smooth for those who want it, and does it without grease.

This remarkable hair dress is now supplied by all toilet counters. It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. The price is 75 cents.

No girl or woman will go without it when she once sees what it does. It multiplies the beauty of the hair and keeps it in the style one wishes. You will be delighted with it.

CRISP, WHOLESOME Fried Foods —without smoke or odor

FOUR TESTED RECIPES BY Winifred Carter

Crisco Cheese Balls

2 cups grated American cheese
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
4 egg whites well beaten

Mix in the order given. Form into balls lightly with the fingers. Make them about the size of a small egg. Then roll in bread crumbs using fresh bread. Drop in deep, hot Crisco (375 to 385 degrees F.) or when a piece of bread browns in 40 seconds. Fry, until a golden brown. Drain on soft paper and serve hot.

This recipe will make ten balls.

Crisco Potato Cakes

These cakes are delicious with chops or cold meat and it is a good way to use left-over mashed potatoes, or even to cook more than enough and save cooking potatoes the next day.

To every three cups of cold mashed potatoes add one well beaten egg. Shape into flat cakes about one inch thick. Put enough Crisco into a frying pan to cover the bottom well. When hot, put cakes in and brown on one side. Add more Crisco if necessary. Turn with pancake turner and brown on the other side.

Three cups of potatoes will make nine or ten cakes.

Crisco Apple Fritters

2 cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 tablespoon melted Crisco
½ cup milk
6 ripe apples

Peel and core apples. Cut in quarters. Beat eggs, add Crisco, then milk, then all dry ingredients sifted together. Dip each piece of apple in the batter and fry until soft in deep kettle of Crisco heated to 375 to 385 degrees F., or when a small piece of bread browns in 40 seconds.

Crisco Apple Griddle Cakes

2 cups bread broken in pieces
2 cups hot milk
2 eggs separated
1 tablespoon Crisco
1 cup flour
2 tablespoons baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped ripe apples

Soak the bread and milk together over night or until soft. Then rub to a paste. Add the Crisco, sugar and salt; then the egg yolks beaten until light. Add flour and baking powder sifted together. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Stir apples into the batter with a fork. Drop by spoonfuls on Criscoed griddle. Cook until partly done and then turn and finish cooking. Turn only once.

Gas Spoiled Sleep, Made Her Dizzy

"For years I suffered from gas on the stomach, bloating and constipation. Used to get headaches and dizzy spells. The first dose of Adlerika gave me relief. Now, I rest well and the gas is gone."—Mrs. Blanche Brinkley.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results."

Gas Spoiled Sleep, Made Her Dizzy

"For years I suffered from gas on the stomach, bloating and constipation. Used to get headaches and dizzy spells. The first dose of Adlerika gave me relief. Now, I rest well and the gas is gone."—Mrs. Blanche Brinkley.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In East Liverpool at the Economy Drug Store, and other Druggists.

Gas Spoiled Sleep, Made Her Dizzy

"For years I suffered from gas on the stomach, bloating and constipation. Used to get headaches and dizzy spells. The first dose of Adlerika gave me relief. Now, I rest well and the gas is gone."—Mrs. Blanche Brinkley.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In East Liverpool at the Economy Drug Store, and other Druggists.

THREE CONFERENCE TEAMS FACE TESTS

Muskingum To Meet Tarter In Kenyon

Wesleyan Expects to Regain Laurels at Expense of Wittenberg, and Wooster Sees Battle in Denison Clash.

By Stanley D. Koch.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—While the Floradora sextet is now relegated to the time when a boy's long pants came from his father's old suit instead of the tailors, the Ohio conference gridiron sextet has three of its members threatened with similar oblivion. Of the six undefeated teams, Oberlin, St. Xavier and Dayton do not play, while the other trio face contests that threaten their unstained record, Muskingum, expecting a Turk in Kenyon, may find a football Tarter, Ohio Wesleyan hopes to regain some of its lost laurels at the expense of Wittenberg, while the 1926 model of the Wooster machine might encounter a puncture in the Denison eleven.

The latter seems best fitted or opposed to keep its undefeated strain clear, for Denison, instead of being a red wave has shown itself only a crimson trickle. The game is scheduled for Granville and Coach Livingston's squad is still no set-up on its own home ground, but the Wooster drive plus that beautiful defense of the Black and Gold indicates another prospective triumph for Coach Murray.

Kenyon Down To Business.

At New Concord, the Muskingum outfit plays Kenyon. The Episcopalians have gone through all the disruption of a Russian revolution, but now seem to be down to business. Kenyon has the potentialities of a good team and with the factional and fraternity mixups out of the way, Coach Wipers may have evolved a sufficiently formidable eleven to tear down the Magenta from its pinnacle. The Muskies haven't met much strong opposition so far and the two touchdown win over Otterbein wasn't very impressive. True, the field was nasty, but even then, there was little outstanding class to the victor's game.

In the other big game, in fact the biggest contest of the week, a rather bedraggled Ohio Wesleyan eleven clashes with a justifiably cocky Wittenberg team. The Lutherans have scored 21 touchdowns in five games this season as opposed to nine in all of the nine games last year. In "Dutch" Miller, the center, they have a bulwark of strength on defense and a keen diagnostician of plays. With Mauer and Schroeder as ball carriers, Wittenberg has a hard driving threat with which Coach Godfrey has mixed a nice aerial attack.

Wesleyan Favored.

Against this, Ohio Wesleyan must match its only fair forward wall but as equally strong backfield. In Blickle, Glancy and Swain, the battling Buckeyes have a powerful attacking crew and if the line can hold its own, Wesleyan can win. But so far the Black and Red forwards haven't looked very strong, so the slight odds favor the Springfield team. The contest is set for Deleware.

In the other league games, first comes the Ohio-Ohio Northern melee at Athens. This is one of those football classics that give thee winner more pleasure and glory than the other games of the season. Last year, the Norseman copped, 6-0, and in 1924, 12-7, but this season the worm appears to be a boa-constrictor and to have turned not just slightly but several complete somersaults. Ohio university appears to have a great eleven, while the Norseman have an off year and unless all football is worth a little less than waste paper, the Green and White will win easily.

At Akron, the Western Reeserve aggregation will present the Iowa shift attack to the probable discomfort of the Zippers. The one weakness of the Pioneers is the loss of a capable forward passer, and Coach Locke is trying to find one. If he succeeds, it will mean that the Akron secondary defense will have to be trotting back and forth trying to outguess the Red and White quarterback, for Reserve has a terrrific drive and that mixed with an aerial threat is—to say the least—rather unpleasant for the opponents.

Case, in meeting Hiram at Cleveland, should have little trouble, and Coach Fletcher will have the opportunity of giving his reserve strength some game experience.

"Babe's" at Home.

The conference babes are entertaining at home, this week-end, when Marietta takes on Otterbein in a hit-or-miss affair, which promises to be interesting in that Marietta may win its first Ohio conference game. The Westville squad is a slight favorite, but not enough to affect the final score.

At Tiffin, Baldwin-Wallace meets Heidelberg and is given the edge, chiefly due to the annual custom of the Bereans to win the last games of the seasons after dropping the first few.

The northern part of the state onposes the southern end when Mt. Union travels to Oxford for its perennial meeting with Miami. Here are two elevens that are overflowing with offensive power but none too strong on thedefense and unless something unusually occurs, it will be a high tally game, with the Miami crew slightly the choice.

PERSSON MAKES GREAT SHOWING WITH GORMAN

Swedish Heavy Uncorks Big Punch But Loses on Foul.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Having forfeited his membership card in the benevolent and protective order of Volunteer Pallbearers, this writer cannot consistently predict, without endangering his amateur standing, that the heavyweight championship of the world is due to go on a long journey. But, after what happened at Madison Square Garden last night, he will venture to recognize this calamitous event as a distinct possibility. I don't mind admitting that I wandered out into the night greatly enamored of Harry Persson, Sweden's entry in the heavyweight sweepstakes.

Harry didn't win, at that. Suffering from a rush of authority to the head, Referee Jimmy Crowley disqualified Persson in the fifth round and awarded the fight to Bud Gorman on a foul. It was the only way Bud could have won, barring a flat iron in either hand.

The blow that killed father obviously was low. So was the one that immediately preceeded it, for Harry had much in common with old Cy Morgan, of the Athletics. He had plenty on his fast one but no more control than a skate without a foot.

Offhand, I would say that Jimmy De Forest must impress his man with the fact that it is against the intercollegiate rules to tackle below the knees. He has taught him everything else, except the matter of an adequate left hook. De Forest almost kidded Firpo into the title but, in a few short months, he has brought Persson further along than the man with the bearded chest ever was or will be.

The Swede looked the part and no mistake. He head-slipped Gorman's opening barrage of lefts and then rocked Bud with three rights shot straight from the shoulder.

This, apparently, is Persson's best punch, although his right to the heart, in close, was a fearsome thing to hear and look upon. He almost ruined Gorman with this attack in the second round, Bud scoring only with a left hook to the jaw.

The third round was much like the second, except that Persson was warned about low punching. The same warning also had been issued in the opening round.

Gorman came out for the fourth with the idea of carrying the fight to Persson but the Swede again crossed two rights to the jaw and Bud thought better of it. Persson, meantime, had been boxing cleverly. He picked off plenty of Gorman's left leads and slipped a lot more with his head. He was very cool and won every round but the fifth. That one was hardly under way long enough for him to win it, merely long enough for him to lose it—and the fight as well.

The customers disagreed violently but to no purpose. A customer, you see, has no right except at the box office. With rare presence of mind they give him the right of way here.

BISONS PRIME FOR W. & J. TILT

Confident They'll Hold Presidents to Low Score.

BETHANY, W. Va., Nov. 2.—With the annual classic with W. & J. only one week hence, and with the chance of regaining their real standing among the bigger schools in the gridiron sport, which to date has been far from satisfactory, the Bethany Bisons will go into special training so as to be in the pink of condition for the battle at Washington. Every year the Bison-W. & J. game is the feature game on the Bison card, and the season is usually concluded successful if W. & J. is held to a low score.

Last year, the Presidents came down to Wheeling with a wonderful team as is the usual custom there, and the Bisons, although outweighed, held the big Washington team to a 20-0 score.

The score at the end of the third quarter was 7-0, proving that the Green and White was in the game up to their necks, and that the defeat was due mostly to the supreme advantage in avoirdupois held by the W. & J. team.

This year, however, is no exception, as the W. & J. gridders are even bigger and far more superior in team play than they have been in past years. Built around "Big Bill" Amos, monstrous fullback, forward passer, punter, and ball carrier extraordinary, the Presidents sport an evenly balanced eleven. "Whooty" Wilde, Heisel, Pauly, Day, Carlin and others round out a line machine which Coach Dave Marrow is grooming for the eastern collegiate championship. Decisive wins have been gained by W. & J. over Carnegie Tech, Fordham and Rutgers, which would make things all the better for Bethany if the smaller West Virginia gridders can hold the Presidents to a low score.

Much interest is attracted also by the fact that Coach Furman L. Nuss, Bethany mentor, is a former star of W. & J., while Dave Marrow, W. & J. coach, was formerly coach of the Big Green eleven which tore through class A colleges and gave real battles to the ones they didn't beat.

The Bethany regular eleven, although some of them were battered up in the Duquesne game, is expected to be rounded out into the best of condition by Wednesday. Scrimmage will be held every day in preparation for this classic at Washington.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 381 N Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

If when addressing you find that the club, when you cause it to hang downward from the point of the right shoulder, points to a line through the right-foot instep, your balance is right. The head of the club, thus suspended might point as well to a line between the instep and the toe, but if the clubhead plainly hangs to a point in front of the right foot your balance is too far forward. If your tendency is to be forward this way you will really be surprise at how far back on your heels you appear to be the first time you push back so that the clubhead, suspended from the shoulder, will point to the instep. But it is well to be back this way for solid hitting.

OLD ATHLETIC RIVALS BATTLE ON TURKEY DAY

Newell and Chester Grid Teams Arrange Game.

Chester and Newell athletic warfare, temporarily stilled after Newell's late summer baseball victory, will be resumed on Thanksgiving day when football teams representing the two West Virginia towns will battle at Smith Field, Chester, for supremacy in the gridiron world.

Manager Joe Dickey, head of the Laughlin China company's football club, today announced negotiations for the big battle had virtually been completed with the exception of minor arrangements.

In all probability the contest will be staged on Thanksgiving morning to avoid conflict with the East Liverpool-Wellsville high school game billed here in the afternoon.

It was decided to stage the event on the Chester lot because of the fact that Smith field is, without exception, the best athletic layout in the district at the present time.

In the meantime, both the rivals will probably book in a couple of games in order to keep in shape.

DELANEY GETS CHICAGO BOUT

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Jack Delaney, light heavyweight champion of the world, has been signed by Promoter Neils Vierup for a ten-round decision match at the Coliseum here Nov. 26, it was announced today. His opponent has not yet been selected.

The fight will be an "added attraction" for visitors here to see the Army-Navy football game, the boxing show being staged on the eve of the great service classic.

Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, looms as the most likely opponent of Delaney. Bud Gorman, of St. Paul, and Harry Persson, of Sweden, also are being considered.

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK—Bud Gorman, of Kenosha, Wisconsin, won on a foul from Harry Persson of Sweden, fifth round.

Yale Okun, of New York, won decision over Little Boy Blue, of St. Paul, Minn., 10 rounds.

Art Weigand, of Buffalo, N. Y., won decision over Murray Fitiltz, of New Haven, Conn., 10 rounds.

George Godfrey, of Leiperville, Pa., won on foul from Jack Townsend, of New York, sixth round.

AT LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Mike O'Dowd, of Columbus, O., knocked out Battling Furrell, of the Philippine Islands, in the fifth round.

Bill Meyer, of Indianapolis, knocked out George Gehrig, of Louisville, in the third round.

AT HARRISBURG, Pa.—Joe Reno, of Trenton, N. J., and Vince Forgione, of New York, drew, 10 rounds.

AT CHICAGO — Joey Sangor, of Milwaukee, won decision over Johnny Hill, of the Philippine Islands, 10 rounds.

AT MINNEAPOLIS—Johnny O'Donnell, of St. Paul, won decision over Pal Moran, of New Orleans, 10 rounds.

Ernie Fligel, of Minneapolis, won decision over Chuck Rychell, of Chicago, 10 rounds.

Highs To Clash With Undefeated Salem Gridders Saturday

Coaches Kidder and Cox Working Overtime This Week on Defense Formations for Use Against Fast, Tricky Red and Black.

ON to Salem and the Columbiana county football championship.

This is the slogan of East Liverpool high gridders and their followers today as the first game of the series of three crucial battles looms this week.

Undefeated this year, winners by decisive scores in practically every contest in which they have played, the Red and Black machine stacks up as a powerful combination, probably the toughest proposition the Blue and White has faced during the season to-date.

The north countians are feeling justifiably chesty over their last Saturday's victory over Alliance high, old opponents, and imbued with no small degree of confidence as a result of this conquest, will make a mighty effort to take the measure of the Ceramic contingent.

Can they do it? Eighteen or 20 battling Blue and White gridders will tell the world they can't and expect to convey a similar message specifically to that part part of the world inhabited by the Red and Black, next Saturday.

Salem triumphed over Wellsville recently at Wellsville but was unable to do anything with the Wellsville line. The visitors caught the Orange and Black flat footed on a tricky pass formation. Salem, in the opinion of the locals, may as well mark that oone off the books for the Blue and White is set for it and, besides, the local mentors are working overtime on additional defense formations.

The Salemites will have a slight advantage in view of the fact that the game will be played on the home lot, but realization of the fact that a victory in this contest would put them on the top of the pack should key up the East Liverpool eleven to such a point that any home ground advantage would be overcome. It's going to be one of the best scholastic battles in eastern Ohio next Saturday.

OFFER STATE PARK TENDERS

$37,500 is Appropriated for Guilford Sites.

Tenders were offered today and will be offered Wednesday to property owners whose lands have been included in the survey for the new State park at Guilford. The last session of the state legislature appropriated $37,000 for the purchase of this property, and in the event the tenders are not accepted, condemnation proceedings will follow.

It has also been announced that as soon as the deeds have been turned over to the state, the department of highways and public works will immediately advertise for bids for the construction of the dam, an appropriation of $15,000 having been set aside by this department for this project.

Plans for the new construction work were completed by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk early in the summer, and forwarded to the department of public works. Estimates have also been worked up for the construction work. With contracts awarded for construction work within the next 48 days, and should an open winter prevail, it is said by Mr. Kirk that building would continue as long as weather permitted.

Here's my smoke-platform

A JIMMY-PIPE with an ample bowl. A tobacco that is mild and mellow, yet not "mollycoddle," if you get me—and you do. You know what I mean . . . mild, yet with plenty of body to let you know you are smoking. A tobacco that smokes cool.

A tobacco that is fragrant in the package, to whet the appetite, and equally fragrant as you smoke it. A tobacco that does not bite the tongue or parch the throat. A tobacco so wonderfully satisfying that you are kept busy smoking and reloading, all day long.

There's only one tobacco in the whole wide world that I know of which meets this platform. Its name is "Prince Albert" and I claim it really is the prince of smokes. More men smoke this tobacco than any other brand, which is important and likewise true.

If you are still outside the fold of contented jimmy-pipers, buy a tidy red tin of P. A. today. No matter how satisfied you appear to be with your present brand, try Prince Albert. I promise you a smoke-experience that will be new and delightfully different.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

The one weakness of the Pioneers is the loss of a capable forward passer, and Coach Locke is trying to find one. If he succeeds, it will mean that the Akron secondary defense will have to be trotting back and forth trying to outguess the Red and White quarterback, for Reserve has a terrrific drive and that mixed with an aerial threat is—to say the least—rather unpleasant for the opponents.

Case, in meeting Hiram at Cleveland, should have little trouble, and Coach Fletcher will have the opportunity of giving his reserve strength some game experience.

"Babe's" at Home.

The conference babes are entertaining at home, this week-end, when Marietta takes on Otterbein in a hit-or-miss affair, which promises to be interesting in that Marietta may win its first Ohio conference game. The Westville squad is a slight favorite, but not enough to affect the final score.

At Tiffin, Baldwin-Wallace meets Heidelberg and is given the edge, chiefly due to the annual custom of the Bereans to win the last games of the seasons after dropping the first few.

The northern part of the state opposes the southern end when Mt. Union travels to Oxford for its perennial meeting with Miami. Here are two elevens that are overflowing with offensive power but none too strong on thedefense and unless something unusually occurs, it will be a high tally game, with the Miami crew slightly the choice.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me. Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 381 N Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation

PERSSON MAKES GREAT SHOWING WITH GORMAN

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Having forfeited his membership card in the benevolent and protective order of Volunteer Pallbearers, this writer cannot consistently predict, without endangering his amateur standing, that the heavyweight championship of the world is due to go on a long journey. But, after what happened at Madison Square Garden last night, he will venture to recognize this calamitous event as a distinct possibility. I don't mind admitting that I wandered out into the night greatly enamored of Harry Persson, Sweden's entry in the heavyweight sweepstakes.

Harry didn't win, at that. Suffering from a rush of authority to the head, Referee Jimmy Crowley disqualified Persson in the fifth round and awarded the fight to Bud Gorman on a foul. It was the only way Bud could have won, barring a flat iron in either hand.

The blow that killed father obviously was low. So was the one that immediately preceeded it, for Harry had much in common with old Cy Morgan, of the Athletics. He had plenty on his fast one but no more control than a skate without a foot.

Offhand, I would say that Jimmy De Forest must impress his man with the fact that it is against the intercollegiate rules to tackle below the knees. He has taught him everything else, except the matter of an adequate left hook. De Forest almost kidded Firpo into the title but, in a few short months, he has brought Persson further along than the man with the bearded chest ever was or will be.

The Swede looked the part and no mistake. He head-slipped Gorman's opening barrage of lefts and then rocked Bud with three rights shot straight from the shoulder.

This, apparently, is Persson's best punch, although his right to the heart, in close, was a fearsome thing to hear and look upon. He almost ruined Gorman with this attack in the second round, Bud scoring only with a left hook to the jaw.

The third round was much like the second, except that Persson was warned about low punching. The same warning also had been issued in the opening round.

Gorman came out for the fourth with the idea of carrying the fight to Persson but the Swede again crossed two rights to the jaw and Bud thought better of it. Persson, meantime, had been boxing cleverly. He picked off plenty of Gorman's left leads and slipped a lot more with his head. He was very cool and won every round but the fifth. That one was hardly under way long enough for him to win it, merely long enough for him to lose it—and the fight as well.

The customers disagreed violently but to no purpose. A customer, you see, has no right except at the box office. With rare presence of mind they give him the right of way here.

BISONS PRIME FOR W. & J. TILT

Confident They'll Hold Presidents to Low Score.

BETHANY, W. Va., Nov. 2.—With the annual classic with W. & J. only one week hence, and with the chance of regaining their real standing among the bigger schools in the gridiron sport, which to date has been far from satisfactory, the Bethany Bisons will go into special training so as to be in the pink of condition for the battle at Washington. Every year the Bison-W. & J. game is the feature game on the Bison card, and the season is usually concluded successful if W. & J. is held to a low score.

Last year, the Presidents came down to Wheeling with a wonderful team as is the usual custom there, and the Bisons, although outweighed, held the big Washington team to a 20-0 score.

If when addressing you find that the club, when you cause it to hang downward from the point of the right shoulder, points to a line through the right foot instep, your balance is right. The head of the club, thus suspended might point as well to a line between the instep and the toe, but if the clubhead plainly hangs to a point in front of the right foot your balance is too far forward. If your tendency is to be forward this way you will really be surprise at how far back on your heels you appear to be the first time you push back so that the clubhead, suspended from the shoulder, will point to the instep. But it is well to be back this way for solid hitting.

OLD ATHLETIC RIVALS BATTLE ON TURKEY DAY

Newell and Chester Grid Teams Arrange Game.

Chester and Newell athletic warfare, temporarily stilled after Newell's late summer baseball victory, will be resumed on Thanksgiving day when football teams representing the two West Virginia towns will battle at Smith Field, Chester, for supremacy in the gridiron world.

Manager Joe Dickey, head of the Laughlin China company's football club, today announced negotiations for the big battle had virtually been completed with the exception of minor arrangements.

In all probability the contest will be staged on Thanksgiving morning to avoid conflict with the East Liverpool-Wellsville high school game billed here in the afternoon.

It was decided to stage the event on the Chester lot because of the fact that Smith field is, without exception, the best athletic layout in the district at the present time.

In the meantime, both the rivals will probably book in a couple of games in order to keep in shape.

DELANEY GETS CHICAGO BOUT

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Jack Delaney, light heavyweight champion of the world, has been signed by Promoter Nells Vierup for a ten-round decision match at the Coliseum here Nov. 26, it was announced today. His opponent has not yet been selected.

The fight will be an "added attraction" for visitors here to see the Army-Navy football game, the boxing show being staged on the eve of the great service classic.

Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, looms as the most likely opponent of Delaney. Bud Gorman, of St. Paul, and Harry Persson, of Sweden, also are being considered.

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK—Bud Gorman, of Kenosha, Wisconsin, won on a foul from Harry Persson of Sweden, fifth round.

Yale Okun, of New York, won decision over Little Boy Blue, of St. Paul, Minn., 10 rounds.

Art Weigand, of Buffalo, N. Y., won decision over Murray Fitlitz, of New Haven, Conn., 10 rounds.

George Godfrey, of Leiperville, Pa., won on foul from Jack Townsend, of New York, sixth round.

AT LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Mike O'Dowd, of Columbus, O., knocked out Battling Furrell, of the Philippine Islands, in the fifth round.

Bill Meyer, of Indianapolis, knocked out George Gehrig, of Louisville, in the third round.

AT HARRISBURG, Pa.—Joe Reno, of Trenton, N. J., and Vince Forgione, of New York, drew, 10 rounds.

AT CHICAGO — Joey Sangor, of Milwaukee, won decision over Johnny Hill, of the Philippine Islands, 10 rounds.

AT MINNEAPOLIS—Johnny O'Donnell, of St. Paul, won decision over Pal Moran, of New Orleans, 10 rounds.

Ernie Fligel, of Minneapolis, won decision over Chuck Rychell, of Chicago, 10 rounds.

Highs To Clash With Undefeated Salem Gridders Saturday

Coaches Kidder and Cox Working Overtime This Week on Defense Formations for Use Against Fast, Tricky Red and Black.

ON to Salem and the Columbiana county football championship.

This is the slogan of East Liverpool high gridders and their followers today as the first game of the series of three crucial battles looms this week.

Undefeated this year, winners by decisive scores in practically every contest in which they have played, the Red and Black machine stacks up as a powerful combination, probably the toughest proposition the Blue and White has faced during the season to-date.

The north countians are feeling justifiably chesty over their last Saturday's victory over Alliance high, old opponents, and imbued with no small degree of confidence as a result of this conquest, will make a mighty effort to take the measure of the Ceramic contingent.

Can they do it? Eighteen or 20 battling Blue and White gridders will tell the world they can't and expect to convey a similar message specifically to that part part of the world inhabited by the Red and Black, next Saturday.

Salem triumphed over Wellsville recently at Wellsville but was unable to do anything with the Wellsville line. The visitors caught the Orange and Black flat footed on a tricky pass formation. Salem, in the opinion of the locals, may as well mark that oone off the books for the Blue and White is set for it and, besides, the local mentors are working overtime on additional defense formations.

The Salemites will have a slight advantage in view of the fact that the game will be played on the home lot, but realization of the fact that a victory in this contest would put them on the top of the pack should key up the East Liverpool eleven to such a point that any home ground advantage would be overcome. It's going to be one of the best scholastic battles in eastern Ohio next Saturday.

OFFER STATE PARK TENDERS

$37,500 is Appropriated for Guilford Sites.

Tenders were offered today and will be offered Wednesday to property owners whose lands have been included in the survey for the new State park at Guilford. The last session of the state legislature appropriated $37,000 for the purchase of this property, and in the event the tenders are not accepted, condemnation proceedings will follow.

It has also been announced that as soon as the deeds have been turned over to the state, the department of highways and public works will immediately advertise for bids for the construction of the dam, an appropriation of $15,000 having been set aside by this department for this project.

Plans for the new construction work were completed by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk early in the summer, and forwarded to the department of public works. Estimates have also been worked up for the construction work. With contracts awarded for construction work within the next 45 days, and should an open winter prevail, it is said by Mr. Kirk that building would continue as long as weather permitted.

Here's my smoke-platform

A JIMMY-PIPE with an ample bowl. A tobacco that is mild and mellow, yet not "mollycoddle," if you get me—and you do. You know what I mean . . . mild, yet with plenty of body to let you know you are smoking. A tobacco that smokes cool.

A tobacco that is fragrant in the package, to whet the appetite, and equally fragrant as you smoke it. A tobacco that does not bite the tongue or parch the throat. A tobacco so wonderfully satisfying that you are kept busy smoking and reloading, all day long.

There's only one tobacco in the whole wide world that I know of which meets this platform. Its name is "Prince Albert" and I claim it really is the prince of smokes. More men smoke this tobacco than any other brand, which is important and likewise true.

If you are still outside the fold of contented jimmy-pipers, buy a tidy red tin of P. A. today. No matter how satisfied you appear to be with your present brand, try Prince Albert. I promise you a smoke-experience that will be new and delightfully different.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

First Big Tilt For County Scholastic Football Title Looms

Muskingum To Meet Tarter In Kenyon

By Stanley D. Koch.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—While the Floradora sextet is now relegated to the time when a boy's long pants came from his father's old suit instead of the tailors, the Ohio conference gridiron sextet has three of its members threatened with similar oblivion. Of the six undefeated teams, Oberlin, St. Xavier and Dayton do not play, while the other trio face contests that threaten their unstained record, Muskingum, expecting a Turk in Kenyon, may find a football Tarter, Ohio Wesleyan hopes to regain some of its lost laurels at the expense of Wittenberg, while the 1926 model of the Wooster machine might encounter a puncture in the Denison eleven.

The latter seems best fitted or opposed to keep its undefeated strain clear, for Denison, instead of being a red wave has shown itself only a crimson trickle. The game is scheduled for Granville and Coach Livingston's squad is still no set-up on its own home ground, but the Wooster drive plus that beautiful defense of the Black and Gold indicates another prospective triumph for Coach Murray.

Kenyon Down To Business.

At New Concord, the Muskingum outfit plays Kenyon. The Episcopalians have gone through all the disruption of a Russian revolution, but now seem to be down to business. Kenyon has the potentialities of a good team and with the factional and fraternity mixups out of the way, Coach Wipers may have evolved a sufficiently formidable eleven to tear down the Magenta from its pinnacle. The Muskies haven't met much strong opposition so far and the two touchdown win over Otterbein wasn't very impressive. True, the field was nasty, but even then, there was little outstanding class to the victor's game.

In the other big game, in fact the biggest contest of the week, a rather bedraggled Ohio Wesleyan eleven clashes with a justifiably cocky Wittenberg team. The Lutherans have scored 21 touchdowns in five games this season as opposed to nine in all of the nine games last year. In "Dutch" Miller, the center, they have a bulwark of strength on defense and a keen diagnostician of plays. With Mauer and Schroeder as ball carriers, Wittenberg has a hard driving threat with which Coach Godfrey has mixed a nice aerial attack.

Wesleyan Favored.

Against this, Ohio Wesleyan must match its only fair forward wall but as equally strong backfield. In Blickie, Glancy and Swain, the battling Buckeyes have a powerful attacking crew and if the line can hold its own, Wesleyan can win. But so far the Black and Red forwards haven't looked very strong, so the slight odds favor the Springfield team. The contest is set for Deleware.

In the other league games, first comes the Ohio-Ohio Northern melee at Athens. This is one of those football classics that give thee winner more pleasure and glory than the other games of the season. Last year, the Norseman copped, 6-0, and in 1924, 12-7, but this season the worm appears to be a boa-constrictor and to have turned not just slightly but several complete somersaults. Ohio university appears to have a great eleven, while the Norseman have an off year and unless all football is worth a little less than waste paper, the Green and White will win easily.

At Akron, the Western Reeserve aggregation will present the Iowa shift attack to the probable discomfort of the Zippers. The one weakness of the Pioneers is the loss of a capable forward passer, and Coach Locke is trying to find one. If he succeeds, it will mean that the Akron secondary defense will have to be trotting back and forth trying to outguess the Red and White quarterback, for Reserve has a terrrific drive and that mixed with an aerial threat is—to say the least—rather unpleasant for the opponents.

Case, in meeting Hiram at Cleveland, should have little trouble, and Coach Fletcher will have the opportunity of giving his reserve strength some game experience.

The score at the end of the third quarter was 7-0, proving that the Green and White was in the game up to their necks, and that the defeat was due mostly to the supreme advantage in avoirdupois held by the W. & J. team.

This year, however, is no exception, as the W. & J. gridders are even bigger and far more superior in team play than they have been in past years. Built around "Big Bill" Amos, monstrous fullback, forward passer, punter, and ball carrier extraordinary, the Presidents sport an evenly balanced eleven. "Whooty" Wilde, Heisel, Pauly, Day, Carlin and others round out a line machine which Coach Dave Marrow is grooming for the eastern collegiate championship. Decisive wins have been gained by W. & J. over Carnegie Tech, Fordham and Rutgers, which would make things all the better for Bethany if the smaller West Virginia gridders can hold the Presidents to a low score.

Much interest is attracted also by the fact that Coach Furman L. Nuss, Bethany mentor, is a former star of W. & J., while Dave Marrow, W. & J. coach, was formerly coach of the Big Green eleven which tore through class A colleges and gave real battles to the ones they didn't beat.

The Bethany regular eleven, although some of them were battered up in the Duquesne game, is expected to be rounded out into the best of condition by Wednesday. Scrimmage will be held every day in preparation for this classic at Washington.

DON LANNING AS STAGE STAR

From mold runner to star would make a nice title for a Horatio Alger tale which would about fit the case of likable, laughing Don Lanning, who walked out of the pottery here seven years ago and joined a traveling musical comedy company owned and operated by Jimmie Hodges. He comes next week at the Ceramic theatre as star and owner of his own company of musical comedy entertainers.

Through his own endeavors he came rapidly to the front and was featured in several road attractions, including such well known musical comedies at "Very Good Eddie," "Top Hole," "Irene" and "Buddies." After a few worth while real estate investments and turning them loose at the height of the boom in Florida, he made arrangements with Hodges' former manager, J. E. Eviston, to organize and open his own company in Miami last season. Since then he has played with great success through the south and over the Wilmer and Vincent theatre circuit in Pennsylvania.

Don will stop just one week in his home town and will present while here three shows which have enjoyed Broadway runs. Monday and Tuesday he will offer the New York Princess theatre musical comedy success, "Very Good Eddie," in which he has the role of lisping Eddie Kettle. On Wednesday and Thursday he will stage "Top Hole" which ran all of last season in New York following its success in London with Ernest Glendenning and Clare Stratton in the featured roles. Don will be seen in the dual role portrayed in the metropolis by Glendenning. Friday and Saturday he will present what is conceded to be the best of American musical comedies, "Irene."

Besides Lanning, well known musical comedy performers with the company are Mildred Robinson, Emily Ross, Nelle Walker, Edna Jacques, Patsy Cullen, Milton Reick, Lew Hampton, Rafe Poulliott, Jack Barbee, Bartley Cahill, Thomas Findlay, Emmett Merill and Fred Brigman.

DON LANNING AS STAGE STAR

From mold runner to star would make a nice title for a Horatio Alger tale which would about fit the case of likable, laughing Don Lanning, who walked out of the pottery here seven years ago and joined a traveling musical comedy company owned and operated by Jimmie Hodges. He comes next week at the Ceramic theatre as star and owner of his own company of musical comedy entertainers.

Through his own endeavors he came rapidly to the front and was featured in several road attractions, including such well known musical comedies at "Very Good Eddie," "Top Hole," "Irene" and "Buddies." After a few worth while real estate investments and turning them loose at the height of the boom in Florida, he made arrangements with Hodges' former manager, J. E. Eviston, to organize and open his own company in Miami last season. Since then he has played with great success through the south and over the Wilmer and Vincent theatre circuit in Pennsylvania.

Don will stop just one week in his home town and will present while here three shows which have enjoyed Broadway runs. Monday and Tuesday he will offer the New York Princess theatre musical comedy success, "Very Good Eddie," in which he has the role of lisping Eddie Kettle. On Wednesday and Thursday he will stage "Top Hole" which ran all of last season in New York following its success in London with Ernest Glendenning and Clare Stratton in the featured roles. Don will be seen in the dual role portrayed in the metropolis by Glendenning. Friday and Saturday he will present what is conceded to be the best of American musical comedies, "Irene."

Besides Lanning, well known musical comedy performers with the company are Mildred Robinson, Emily Ross, Nelle Walker, Edna Jacques, Patsy Cullen, Milton Reick, Lew Hampton, Rafe Poulliott, Jack Barbee, Bartley Cahill, Thomas Findlay, Emmett Merill and Fred Brigman.

DON LANNING AS STAGE STAR

From mold runner to star would make a nice title for a Horatio Alger tale which would about fit the case of likable, laughing Don Lanning, who walked out of the pottery here seven years ago and joined a traveling musical comedy company owned and operated by Jimmie Hodges. He comes next week at the Ceramic theatre as star and owner of his own company of musical comedy entertainers.

Through his own endeavors he came rapidly to the front and was featured in several road attractions, including such well known musical comedies at "Very Good Eddie," "Top Hole," "Irene" and "Buddies." After a few worth while real estate investments and turning them loose at the height of the boom in Florida, he made arrangements with Hodges' former manager, J. E. Eviston, to organize and open his own company in Miami last season. Since then he has played with great success through the south and over the Wilmer and Vincent theatre circuit in Pennsylvania.

Don will stop just one week in his home town and will present while here three shows which have enjoyed Broadway runs. Monday and Tuesday he will offer the New York Princess theatre musical comedy success, "Very Good Eddie," in which he has the role of lisping Eddie Kettle. On Wednesday and Thursday he will stage "Top Hole" which ran all of last season in New York following its success in London with Ernest Glendenning and Clare Stratton in the featured roles. Don will be seen in the dual role portrayed in the metropolis by Glendenning. Friday and Saturday he will present what is conceded to be the best of American musical comedies, "Irene."

Besides Lanning, well known musical comedy performers with the company are Mildred Robinson, Emily Ross, Nelle Walker, Edna Jacques, Patsy Cullen, Milton Reick, Lew Hampton, Rafe Poulliott, Jack Barbee, Bartley Cahill, Thomas Findlay, Emmett Merill and Fred Brigman.

Greenwich Village Follies At Ceramic Theatre Tonight

McIntyre and Heath Head Colorful Spectacle, With its Girls, Dancing Grace and Glowing Costumes.

The latest edition of the "Greenwich Village Follies" which will be presented at the Ceramic theatre tonight, affords in its colorful spectacle, the adaption of Oscar Wilde's poetic Follies." Of special consideration is its gorgeous girls, its dancing grace, its glowing costumes, and its warmth of music, myriads of bewildering delights.

For beauty, delivate and fantastic, in which John Murray Anderson always exalts, he has devised new revels in the exotic, which excells in splendor any of the elaborate creations of the proceeding "Greenwich Village fairy tale, "The Happy Prince." It is a piece of enchanted loveliness, with its poetic episode laid in the center of an antique and rustic palace square. Its presentation is the acme of grace and beauty. Then there is "The Garden of Use to Be" equally as exquisite. But these are only two, and there are any number almost as lovely that help toward the composite loveliness of the "Greenwich Village Follies."

Superlatives are exhausted in an attempt to extol the John Murray Anderson stage-craft wizardy. Suffice is that the latest edition of the "Follies" to be here is the most brilliant and artistic of the series.

The revue boasts of plenty of good comedy and an excellent cast to interpret the varied comedy skits.

McIntyre and Heath, two of the best known comedians on the American stage head the cast as featured comics. Their reputation for negro comedy character action is world-famed, and in their new negro skits and negro songs and negro dances there buffooners are a hilarious treat. Other revue notables are Janet Winters, Leonard Silliman, Bob Brandies, Bud Williamson, Miriam Meade, James Cushman, Elsbeth Holman, Dorothy Cadwell, Elsie James, Eva Scase and a chorus of forty vivacious dancing beauties contribute much to the success of the production.

70-MILE GALE LASHES GREAT LAKES

Today

No New Main Spring.
Beware of Babykins.
Colorado Airway.
Science Learns.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

CAN a beaten prize fighter come back? Jack Dempsey, decided by Tex Rickard, will try to answer "yes" in another fight with Tunney. The fight will be profitable and for Dempsey to win it would mean a third fight and more profits.

But the real answer ito the comeback, mental or physical, is NO. You can put a new main spring in a watch, but not in a man. You can renew the vigor of a worn out and tired out muscle but men fight with their nerves not with muscles. Once the nerve, mental or physical, is gone, it does not come back.

Henry the Second, of England, beaten, turned his face to the wall, said, "Shame on a beaten king" and died. That's the wise course.

THE Reverend Dr. Hall, whose murdered body was found beside that of his choir singer, Mrs. Mills, spoke of himself in letters to that lady as "your babykins." That sounds even worse than the little language that made the great Dean Swift seem silly.

Middle-aged gentlemen, clergymen especially, referring to themselves as "babykins" when writing to ladies in their choir, may expect trouble that particularly in "babykins" tragedy is one of the most dreadful in all records of jealous crime.

That the man and woman should have been shot dead is part of the regular procedure. But that the woman should have had her throat cut and her tongue cut out with a pair of shears after she was dead seems horribly unbelievable.

Rightly or wrongly the world will say "that was a woman's work."

Woman or man, everybody will know that it was the work of jealousy. In hellish hatred and cruel plotting, jealousy inspires the very worst. Let him beware who invites or risks that hatred.

SHIP WRECKED NEAR MICHIGAN PORT; 23 MEN ABOARD SAVED

OTHERS ANCHOR

Steamer Thomas Mayham is Being Pounded to Pieces.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 2.—The great lakes today were being lashed by a 70-mile gale which had caused the wreck of one steamer, prevented three others from reaching port here and caused considerable damage to property along the shores near here.

The City of Detroit, night boat from Detroit to Cleveland, after battling with tremendous waves on her voyage, limped into port here three hours late, reporting temperatures of near freezing and terrific seas.

Freighters Fail to Make Port.

The steamer Thomas Mayham, owned by the General Transit company, of Cleveland, went aground at Two Harbors, Mich., where it was being pounded to pieces by great breakers. The crew of 23 men was saved.

Three freighters which attempted to make port here, were forced to anchor beyond the breakwater, their skippers fearing that if they attempted to come in they would be blown against the wall and crushed.

Touch of Winter.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 2.—Michigan got its first real touch of winter today with a 70-mile gale reported sweeping the Great Lakes, and an eight inch covering of snow in some northwestern counties.

Mrs. Karl Ochs, of Lansing, died of injuries suffered in an automobile accident attributed to the storm. Her husband, the driver, said he was blinded by snow when he crashed into an abutment near Evart.

Cadillac, in Wexford county, was particularly hard hit. An eight-inch blanket of snow covered the city and vicinity, tying up automobile traffic, and interfering with train schedules.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—It cost President and Mrs. Coolidge $108.96 in railroad and Pullman fare to go home to vote in today's elections. This included the fare of a maid for Mrs. Coolidge.

Out of government funds came an tdditional $542.80 for transportation of White House aides and secret service men.

Newspapermen and photographers paid approximately $1,20 in fares, making the total cost in fares of the White House party on the train a little less than $2,000.

The president did not have to pay special rates.

Resignation of Edgar H. Heddleston, 203 Ravine street, as Second ward councilman, was received today by G. A. Shone, clerk, and will be considered by the solons at their semi-monthly meeting Thursday night.

PRESIDENT'S TRAIN, ON WAY TO HOME POLLS, WRECKS AUTO

Two Soldiers Escape Death in Crash at Aberdeen, Md.

GATES LOWERED

Nation's Leader and Wife Mark Ballots at Northampton.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—President Coolidge's special train, on which he went to Northampton, Mass., struck and demolished an automobile near Aberdeen, Md., early this morning, train officials said when the special passed through New York.

Two soldiers from the Aberdeen proving ground drove their automobile through the lowered gates at a crossing and crashed into the train, which was traveling at 45 miles an hour. They were only bruised, according to the train crew.

The front trucks of the locomotive were derailed, but prompt application of the brakes brought the train to a stop without more than a severe jar. The special was able to proceed after a delay of 15 minutes.

Vote "Straight G. O. P." Ticket.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 2.—With flashlights flaring and cameras clicking, President and Mrs. Coolidge in Memorial hall today cast ballots 309 and 310 for a "straight Republican ticket."

Arriving home at 9 a. m. on a special train from Washington to vote for Senator William M. Butler and Governor Alvan T. Fuller, the Coolidges were met at the railroad station by a reception committee, headed by Acting Mayor Samuel Dyre.

They went to the voting rooms in Memorial hall by automobile. A large crowd was on hand.

The president voted ballot 309 and his wife ballot 310.

On the way out of the voting room, the president and his wife stopped to exchange a few words with an old friend, Allen Clark, a voting inspector.

Accompanied by an escort of 15 mounted state police, the Coolidges went to their home in Massasoit avenue, a two-family house, where they were greeted by Mrs. Coolidge's mother, Mrs. Elmyra Goodhue.

Returns to White House.

After a brief rest at Mrs. Goodhue's home Mr. Coolidge returned to the Northampton high school and for an hour greeted his old constituents. The party then boarded the special train and started the return trip to Washington.

Among those who greeted the president here were former Mayor Harry E. Bicknell, who several times was beaten for that office by President Coolidge; Ralph W. Hemenway, the executive's law partner, and Judge Henry P. Field, in whose office Mr. Coolidge had read his first law.

FREE COOKING SCHOOL OPENS IN EAGLE HALL

Large Crowd of Women Hear Review-Tribune Lecturer.

HOME BUDGETING

Completely Furnished Kitchen is Stage Setting.

There was a great turnout of the East Liverpool women for the opening session today of the Free Cooking School which has been arranged under the auspices of the Review-Tribune at the Eagles' temple, Broadway.

The program selected for the opening of the school was replete with interesting things and the talk of Mrs. George O. Thurn was filled with just those bits of knowledge that you have been seeking for many years.

A rousing welcome was given Mrs. Thurn as she stepped upon the platform in her snow white garb.

The stage setting was a completely furnished modern kitchen equipped with every conceivable kind of device for the purpose of lessening woman's labor in the home.

Mrs. Thurn won her audience at the very start. She impressed everyone with the fact that she knows her art. And she certainly knows how to handle all that goes into a modern kitchen. At the close of the session, women flocked about the platform to get a close glimpse of the many varied things Mrs. Thurn used in preparing the delightfully tasty dishes and also to ask additional intimate questions.

For those who had been looking forward to the day on which Mrs. Thurn was to give her ideas on budget making in the home, today proved a gala day. She talked freely on how to relieve that state of frenzied finance in the home. Her simple method of tabulating was one of the most beneficial hints yet given out. She has made a special study of this all important phase of home keeping.

Tomorrow Mrs. Thurn will talk on "Our Children—Suggestion versus Punishment." On this subject she will discuss in detail varied phases of the subject the while she will do some interesting cooking and baking as well. There will be many market baskets filled and given away. More will be distributed each day. Come early.

CONTESTS FOR JUDGE, SHERIFF, COMMISSIONER HOLD STAGE IN COUNTY

J. S. Hilbert, Chief Deputy of Election Supervisors, Stands Pat on Prediction of 20,000 Poll in 105 Precincts Under His Jurisdiction, With 5,500 in East Liverppool.

REPUBLICANS CLAIM THEY WILL SWEEP STATE, DISTRICT AND COUNTY

Vote Board Instructs Precinct Judges to Count City Bond Proposal and School Tax Issue After Tabulation of Other Ballots, While Speed in Making Returns is Urged.

Approximately 15 per cent of the registered electors of East Liverpool had voted in the general election up to the noon hour today, according to reports from 15 of the 21 polling places.

The precincts, from all four wards, reported 900 ballots in the boxes. This is an average of 60 votes per precinct. If this ratio were maintained in all polling places, just 1,260 of the 8,000 qualified voters had exercised the suffrage privilege.

The largest vote was reported from Precinct B of the Second ward—Thompson hill—where 105 ballots had been marked. The poll in the two precincts on the Northside was fair, election officials said. But 23 ballots had been cast in Precinct G of the Fourth ward, located in the Stevenson garage, West Ninth street.

Chief interest centers in the three-cornered fight for the common pleas judgeship, in which Judge W. H. Spence and Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, both of Lisbon and Attorney W. F. Lones of Wellsville, are the candidates. The race for county commissioner between Conrad Berg, Leetonia, Democrat, and J. Howard Sinclair, Hanoverton, Republican, and also for sheriff between George Wright, the incumbent who is the Republican nominee, and F. C. Armstrong, Elkrun township, Democrat, is also attracting attention.

OHIO'S CHIEF INTEREST CENTERED IN FIGHTS FOR GOVERNOR AND SENATOR

Proposed Modification of Primary System Also Shares Attention of Buckeye State Electors.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—With ideal election weather on tap, Ohio voters went to the polls today. Chief interest centered in the election of a governor, a United States senator, and in a proposed amendment to the state constitution modifying the Buckeye state's primary election system.

The ballots, also, provide for election of a lieutenant-governor, a secretary of state, an attorney general, a state treasurer, a chief justice and two associate justices of the state supreme court, 22 congressmen, ten appellate court judges, 37 state senators, 136 state representatives, and hundreds of county officials, including common pleas judges, prosecuting attorneys, sheriffs, auditors, treasurers, recorders, clerks of common pleas courts and coroners.

Both Leaders Predict Victory.

Buckeye state voters, too, will determine the fate of many proposed bond issues and tax levies in various municipalities and school districts, contemplating expenditure of many millions of dollars for public improvements and school purposes. In many chartered cities, voters are asked to adopted amendments to their municipal charters.

FAR-FAMED BOLT OF "PRESIDENTIAL LIGHTNING" HANGS OVER BIG PARADE

Political Seers are Watching Results, With Interest Centered in New York, Massachusetts and Ohio.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. — The far-famed bolt of "presidential lightning" hung over America today as the nation staged its big parade to the polls.

With every state save Maine involved in the maelstrom of gubernatorial and congressional elections, political seers in both major parties were watching the results closely in the belief that somewhere a candidate may emerge to point to the White House in 1928. All leaders virtually were agreed that presidential aspirations will rise or fall in today's elections.

The interest centers chiefly in the contests in New York, Massachusetts and Ohio.

Eyes On Three States.

Al Smith's spectacular bid for a fourth term as governor drew attention away from the race of Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., Republican, for re-election over Justice Robert F. Wagner, Tammany candidate. If Smith wins, over the aggressive Ogden L. Mills, leaders of both parties expect him to be a powerful candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1928, whereas a defeat would

The East Liverpool Historical society today was presented with a clipping taken from a Pittsburgh newspaper, printed September 16, 1856, containing the membership roster of the Liverpool Township Republican club.

The clipping was turned over to the officers of the association by Sanford John Jackman, of Santa Ana, California, son of Stockdale Jackman and grandson of Sanford C. Hill, pioneer residents of East Liverpool, who obtained it from his father.

The list contains 172 names and, according to some of the older residents of East Liverpool represents about 75 per cent of the qualified electors of the town at that time. The membership includes pottery manufacturers and some of the town's early merchants, many of their descendants residing in East Liverpool at the present time.

Officers of the club, were James Godwin, chairman, and Robert Logan, secretary. Probably the last survivor of the club was Holland Manley, who died about three years ago at the age of 92.

GLITTER

By Katharine Brush

BOOK FIVE—II.

The spotlight was extraordinarily bright that night. It beat upon him with a searing, intolerable lucidity. It lay in a circle around him, so that he reminded himself, ridiculously, of a valentine figurine glued upright on a white cardboard base. Beyond the spotlight there was gloom, and out of the gloom, wan faces, like enormous scattered blossoms. He saw Cecily's face and Bill's, blurry with distance, and he was full of an awful certainty that both of them were amused, supercilious, scornful.

He had never felt more awkward, nor more miserable. The embarrassment and stage fright attendant on his debut at the Tavern had been as nothing compared with this. He could feel perspiration — what he fancied must be a veritable torrent of perspiration—on his forehead. He could feel slow red in the traitorous inches between the back of his collar and the roots of his hair. And when he knelt, in the hush that followed the preliminary round of applause, his knee cracked, making what seemed to him a deafening report.

He began to play.

He believed he had never played worse, but in reality he played quite as usual, his fingers instinctive on the strings. Yvonne, beside him, sang a little wicked song. What Makes 'Em Dog Me Aroun'? . . . He was conscious of the motions of her hands, of the sway of her gold-sheathed body. Suggestive. Faintly indecent. Adapted to the tenor of her audience. "And I let her!" he thought, in a frenzy of self-condemnation. A man who let the girl he was going to marry stand in a public place and croon innuendos for the delight of the dissolute—what must right-minded people think of that?" .

They presented three numbers, and when they had finished there occurred an incident unprecendented in their Tavern experience: somebody threw money at them.

They were bowing, hand in hand, and a disc of silver came spinning over the floor and lay at their feet . . . then another . . . and another. Jock, seeking wild-eyed the source of this generosity, located it at a ringside table around which was assembled a senile stag party of six. One of the six was lost in slumber, gripping the neck of a bottle in an oblivious fist. His companions were very much awake. They had shifted their chairs so as to face the entertainers, and they lolled back, crossing their opulent shins, and whistled, and catcalled, and grimaced behind the films sent up by their cigars. Their hands alternately whacked approval and delved into their pockets. . . . Jock found himself noting details with a peculiar cold precision. The diamond on one man's little finger. The three wisps of hair brushed so meticulously across the naked pate of a second. The stubble of beard on the chin of a third.

Clink! Clinkclinkclink! Clink!

Other groups were following the example of the inspired quintet. Coins whizzed thick and fast. Fifty-cent pieces. Quarters. Dimes. A dollar, hurled by a bibulous maiden who made a great hue and cry about it, standing up and flexing her arm like a baseball pitcher.

This took place in a mere few seconds. But it seemed to Jock that it had all begun exceedingly long ago, ages ago. It seemed to him that ever since he could remember he had stood there, a target for people's small change, like a street singer, or a beggar, or an organ-grinder's monkey— while Cecily watched. The thing would have been painful in any case; under the circumstances, it was tragic. He wanted to shrink to nothingness, to become invisible, to be swallowed by a yawning floor. He wanted, in short, all the things that shame-filled sufferers want, and that no kindly deity ever vouchsafes.

"Give them another," Yvonne whispered in his ear. "We'll have to. Hypnotizin' Mama, or anything—" He looked down at her and saw that she was genuinely merry; almost laughing. "My God, she thinks this is funny" he told himself.

Mechanically he knelt again, and struck opening chords, while the spectators settled back to listen and the shower of metal slackened, ceased altogether. "Hypnotizin' Mama, verse once, chorus once, repeat verse, repeat chorus twice. This was the formula, and he followed it through force of habit . . . then rose, and clasped Yvonne's hand in his damp one, and bowed again . . .

Yvonne was giving him further sibilant directions under cover of the clapping. "Pick up that money, Jock Hamill! You've got to! Doesn't matter what you do with it, but pick it up. And for pity's sake, look pleasant!"

The moments during which he trotted about, scratching silver out of the dust and hearing it patter into the inverted hollow of his banjo were the most ghastly he had ever known, or ever wished to know. He carried with him as he moved a mental cinema of himself—a cinema photographed from Cecily's angle, wherein he appeared the sorriest possible spectacle. He had no idea, of course, that all the women in the room, Cecily included, found him appealing and very lovable in his discomfiture.

When the last dime was lifted he took Yvonne's arm, walked resolutely to the platform with the banjo held straight out before him like a church collection box, and dumped its contents at the feet of Happy Hatton.

III.

Yvonne comprehended in some degree Jock's state of mind that night, but only by intuition, for at the time he said nothing. Not until two weeks later did she hear from how complete a change in his attitude toward Terrace Tavern Cecily's visit had wrought.

During those two weeks, she saw less of her lover than at any time in all the year of their intimacy. His days, formerly hers exclusively, were now the joint property of herself and Cecily—with the balance of hours perhaps a little on Cecily's side. This was right. This was as it should be. She encouraged it; and in the evenings, while they waited their turn at the road house, she listened to Jock's accounts of his afternoons with Cecily, and smiled and smiled . . . wanting to cry . . .

Twice she invited Cecily to her own apartment when Jock was not there, to eat chocolates and discuss clothes, plays, parties—and him. She learned many things that Cecily did not intend to tell; and Cecily learned many things that Yvonne did intend to tell. And both of them seemed very happy, and one of them was.

Jock seemed happy only at intervals. At other times, he was troubled and morose. Yvonne saw plainly that he failed to understand his own mood, that he did not analyze it—probably for the reason that, deep in his subconscious mind, he was afraid to. She was not altogether surprised, therefore, one Saturday evening in mid-January, when he burst into a sudden storm of abuse of the Tavern, which he apparently blamed for all his present discontent.

He said, without preamble, "Oh good God, but they turn my stomach! Look at them, will you, Yvonne? Just look at 'em!"

Scotland Yarders Balk at Premier's Speed in Vacation

LONDON.—Premier Stanley Baldwin's personal bodyguard do not like his ways when on vacation.

Like many of the most trusted servants of Scotland Yard, they are tall and portly men. They like to take their daily exercise quietly. But Baldwin has his own ideas about exercise.

Hence they found themselves out early in the morning at Aix-les Bains, under an already blazing sun, following a chief who equals Theodore Roosevelt in his craze for restfulness. They would climb a 3,000 foot hill, dripping with perspiration, at full speed, hug a little eight-inch pathway with a sheer drop of 600 feet below them, climb over rocks and boulders, and finally reach the top. And then their chief would rush them downhill again at the run—all soaked to the skin, he very happy, they not quite so much.

Once back at the hotel, after attending to a little correspondence, Baldwin would again propose a ten mile walk. Carrying hat and coat, regardless of the heat, he would aspire to a steady four and a half miles per hour.

The Gulbransen Registering Piano has now made that unnecessary.

It gives you all the pleasure of hand playing. It enables you to play with all the naturalness and beauty of hand playing.

Steel And Motors

The billion-dollar businesses are making money. The "Steel Trust" shows net profits of over $13 a share for its common stock. General Motors, which might be called the "Motor Trust," does still better with over $17 a share. That is the best yet for Motors, and the best for Steel except for a period of three glorious months at the close of the war.

Motors, by the way, now shows not only a higher profit rate but greater net earnings than the big steel corporation. That shows the rising power of the automotive industry as nothing else has done.

Both of these business organizations have grown great by trusting in the greatness of America and going ahead confidently. Instead of "selling short on the United States," they have always "sold long." So the stock that originally represented nothing but vapor is now solid gold—hundreds of millions of it. Thus American progress is minted for those who have faith in it and uphold their faith with works.

Tokio Flies

The Japanese capital has been having an anti-fly campaign in the good old American style, if not more so. The municipal government of Tokio offered to pay a bounty on dead flies. Thereupon the population started swatting wits such enthusiasm that when the returns were all in, with the evidence to support them, it was necessary for the clerk in the city hall to count 22,900,000 flies.

They're glad that's done. And if there's anything in this scientific dope about the prolific multiplication of house flies, they'll keep on being glad all next year.

News of that Herculean fly-test at Tokio comes just in time to remind Americans that, of all seasons of the year, this is preeminently the season to swat flies. Just now every swat counts. The flies are about to crawl into their winter hiding places, whence they will emerge next spring to repopulate the world. Any individual, by killing a few now, may make the fly population 22,900,000 lest next summer.

Treasure Found

The biggest stroke of luck reported lately is that of J. A. Pollard and Edith Truitt of Burnsville, N. C., owners of a supposedly worthless tract of land on which there has been discovered a "billion dollar deposit of cyanite."

That is a rare and valuable mineral, prized because of its high resistance to heat and used in making crucibles for steel manufacture. With a plentiful supply available, it will doubtless find many other uses. There are said to be "three solid mountains of it," aggregating about 10,000,000 tons. Probably no gold mine ever discovered was so valuable as that.

There is a social value in it along with the personal value to the owners. Every dollar's worth of cyanite used industrially will make several dollars for the rest of us in useful products.

It is particularly interesting when such a treasure is discovered in an old state, whose resources were supposed to be known. New forms of wealth are always being discovered, as exploration continues and industry develops. Things that formerly had no value, because there was no use for them, or no way to handle them, suddenly become precious.

The natural resources remaining in this country are incalculable. Brains and work make wealth in countless ways. Many a tract of land now seemingly not worth a dollar may turn out, sooner or later, to be worth a billion.

Too Much Hog-Calling

Really this hog-calling business is going too far. It wasn't so bad as long as the activity was confined to corn-fed Kansas. But now everybody's doing it, all over, merely varying the proceedings by alternating occasionally with a "dinner-calling contest" which really amounts to about the same thing.

The latest outbreak is reported from Fond du Lac, Wis., and shows a new peril. A farmer named Fred Schmidt had his radio set tuned in on a Chicago station that was broadcasting a hog-calling performance, and was enjoying it to the full, when he heardy a commotion in his yard. Looking out, he found that all the hogs from five neighboring farms were fighting to get into the house.

Isn't that the limit? We ask you.

It all reminds a fellow somehow of the famous experience of Ulysses and his companions when they met up with Circe on her enchanted isle. That woman was the champion hog-caller of her time. She was so good at it that not only would all the hogs rally round when she called, but all the human beings would turn to swine and rush for the trough.

There must be some such enchantment in the sound of any first-class hog-caller's voice, whether in person or by radio. It's getting so that children practice hog-calls on the way home from school. Let broadcasters have a heart and switch to yodelling or grand opera.

Miami needn't feel discriminated against fate. They've had a disastrous gale in Quebec.

The Little Scorpion's Club— By Fontanie Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—It would appear Gotham has no more types of romantic sportsmen as exemplified when Foxhall Keene starred at polo, when August Belmont was flying his stable colors and when John W. Gates was betting a million at slight provocation.

The new type is a synthetic mixture who scores a touchdown and is starred in a Broadway film. Or cleans up at tennis and appears in a play. In other words a purely sporting achievement is a prelude to cashing in on the accomplishment.

There is no particular criticism of this yet it strips the reigning sporting figures of much glamour. The horseman who tumbles with his mount at the first hurdle may be found in a braided coat taking tea among admirers a few hours later.

In other days, too, there were famous sporting haunts, such as Considine's, where sportsmen gathered and lifted glasses to the latest celebrity until dawn broke. Now the hero must retire early to be at the studio at sun-up for a film test.

England, is, of course, doing quite a bit of spoofing about this purely commercial side of American sports despite the fact that one of its foremost sportsmen has been able to advertise his tea quite successfully by his sporting neighbors.

The commercial side of sporting achievement is doubtless difficult to resist. One favored athlete two years ago made $60,000 by simply endorsing garters, soup and other advertised products, which he knew nothing about.

The old-time sportsmen won their purses and gave stupendous parties. The new sportsmen hire slick business managers and make the public pay to see them. And for that reason perhaps more than any other are quickly forgotten.

New York's daring crimes lately are the work of drug addicts most of whom were caught. The police have found it only necessary to catch one of the band and cut off his drug supply. In underworld parlance: "They can't stand a sweating and squawk!"

A Broadway supper club offers rare study in deceit. When a man enters wearing a red rose in his lapel it means he is regarded as a perfect stranger. It is a signal he is accompanied by his wife. Straying spouses whose wives insist upon being taken to this particular club have been embarrassed by certain remarks indicating he was not a nightlife novitiate. Hence the red rose.

Broadway fame these days is often encompassed in the gesture of being introduced by the hostess to the assemblage. It has a commercial advantage for the honored guest is spurred into buying a round for the house. That means a bloated check for several hundred dollars in exchange for a maudlin chorus of "For he's a jolly good fellow."

The Susskind brothers made enough money checking Broadway hats and wraps to launch several business ventures. Today the king of the hat checkers is Leon Mollet, who has the bulk concessions. Fifteen years ago $100 a week was the top price for a concession. It was recently reported that a price of $8,000 was paid for a year's hat checking privilege along the dazzling canyon.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Forestry's Semi-Centennial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 2.—In 1876 congress authorized Franklin B. Hough to investigate the forestry situation in the United States. It was the first step of the kind to be taken in the country, and it dates the beginning of the movement for conservation of timber resources. Forestry is thus celebrating its semi-centennial this year.

One feature of the celebration is the inauguration of an educational drive to awaken the American people to the need of putting millions of acres of idle land to work growing trees. This was done at a meeting in the Pennsylvania building at the Sesqui-centennial which was addressed by Governor Gifford Pinchot, Charles Lathrop Pack, president, American Tree association; Mrs. Jane D. Rippin, of the Girl Scouts; Charles W. Folds, president, Izaak Walton league; Dr. F. H. Newell, of the Federal Water and Power Resources board; Mrs. W. W. Miller, of the General Federation of Women's clubs; Dan C. Beard, of the Boy Scouts; Colonel Greeley, chief of the United States Forest Service; Stephen Mather, of the National Park Service; Maj. R. Y. Stewart, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Forest Commission and others.

Mr. Pack announced that the Forestry Primer, published by the American Tree association to commemorate the semi-centennial, has gone into its fifth printing of 100,000 copies, making a total of 500,000 copies that are being distributed free to schools, libraries, colleges, and forestry committees of women's clubs and of commercial organizations.

The forestry situation may be said to be epitomized in a comment by Will Rogers, the well known humorist, who is also a shrewd observer. While in Germany he was impressed, Rogers said, with the idea that every time the Germans cut down a tree they planted two trees in its place, whereas every time we cut one down the fellow who does the cutting decides to have a smoke to celebrate the event, with the result that he throws away his cigarette and burns up the rest of the forest. This has some of the earmarks of a slight exaggeration, as Rogers would admit readily, but it seems difficult to arouse the American public by a plain statement of facts.

Present Year a Record-Breaker.

It was reported to the Philadelphia meeting that the year 1926 bids fair to be a record year in the matter of fire losses in the nation's forests. Just what this means may be shown by citing the figures for 1924, the latest year for which complete statistics are available.

In that year forest fires swept 29,000,000 acres of public and private lands, doing damage to the amount of $38,000,000. There were 92,000 forest fires, an average of 250 a day. It is estimated that it would cost $3,000,000 to reforest the burned-over land, and that at the rate we are now carrying on the work of reforestation it would take almost 300 years to accomplish it. If in 1926, two years later, the forest fire toll is even larger, as indicated by preliminary computation, it can be understood why the conservationists are excited over the outlook. It is well known that a large percentage of forest fires are caused by the carelessness of tourists and campers, and hence might be prevented, and it is amazing that, in view of the educational propaganda of recent years, this menace has not been materially reduced.

"In a sense we must all become woodsmen since we are a wood-using nation,' says Mr. Pack. "The products of the forest are absolutely essential to national welfare. You would not set fire to your home; you would not set a fire any where in a city and leave it. Why do so in or near a forest? You do not pay the cost, directly, but you have to pay your share of it just the same. A forest fire due to carelessness is waste of the worst kind. We have heard much recently of waste in industry. Forest fire waste affects the corner stone of all industry in our country.

"This situation is a national economic menace that threatens the nation's future. As the late President Theodore Roosevelt once said: 'A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as helpless. Forests which are so used that they can not renew themselves will soon vanish, and with them all their benefits. When you help to preserve our forests or plant new ones you are acting the part of good citizens.'"

What the Primer Contains.

The Forestry Primer contains a great array of data which the conservation authorities believe should be impressed upon every boy and girl, man and woman, in the United States. For instance, by reason of the fact that timber supplies are almost exhausted in the sections where most timber is used in manufactures of various kinds, the annual freight bill on lumber is approximately $250,000,000. This, of course, is passed on to the consumer, and the consumer, in many cases, is the careless individual who goes touring or camping and leaves a smoldering campfire, or cigar or cigarette butt, that starts a conflagration that not only adds to the freight bill on lumber, but makes lumber scarcer and increases its cost.

There are 81,000,000 acres of idle land in the United States that are fit for nothing save to grow timber.

We use about 24,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood a year, while forest fires

BUT THE ENGLISHMEN NEVER SPOKE.

My friend, Tom Masson, who makes it a part of his business annually to compile the best jokes of the previous year, stands sponsor for this one:

Four separate wrecks had cast up four men on a lonely island of the South Seas. Two were Scotchmen, the other two were Englishmen. After several years a passing steamer hove to and took the four aboard. Sandy and Donald were escorted to the skipper's cabin there to tell their experiences. Sandy said:

"It would grieve you, mon, to see the Englishmen. Never a word did they speak all the time they were there, for they were not introduced."

"And hoo did ye lads muck oot?" inquired the skipper, who also was a Scot.

"Aye, mon, the verra dee I found Donald on the beach we organized a Caledonian league, a local golf club, a debating society and a Preesbyteerian church."

and insects destroy an additional 2,000,000,000 cubic feet.

In the United States, newsprint consumption has reached almost 3,000,000 tons a year. In one sheet this would cover 20,000 square miles. Practically all of the raw material must come from the forests.

Industry use 200,000,00 cubic feet of timber every year in mining and excavating operations. Approximately 5,000,000 trees must be cut each year to supply the demand for telegraph and telephone poles. Estimates show that we use about 500,000,000 fence posts in this country every twelve months.

Railroads require some 3,000 ties to the mile and all the railroads of the United States use about 125,000,000 new wood ties every year. The annual demand of the cooperage industry is for 250,000,000 cubic feet of wood. At least a billion lead pencils are consumed in a year, and that means quite a jag of wood, as the farmer would say when he starts out to his wood-lot.

In the neighborhood of 45,000,000 pounds of maple sugar products are marketed in this country annually, and the value of the turpentine, rosin, and like products, reaches $40,000,000 every year.

At our present rate of consumption, waste, and replacement, the United States will be poverty-stricken, so far as timber is concerned, in 1976 when the centennial of American forestry is to be celebrated. The conservation idea germinated half a century ago, but it grows with exceeding slowness. Five years after Dr. Hough was started in his work, officially, the Division of Forestry was created by congress, and in 1886 a professional forester, Dr. B. F. Fernow, was placed in charge, but for a long time congress appropriated less than $30,000 annually to carry on the activities of the division.

It was not until 1901 that the bureau of Forestry was created, to be expanded in 1905 into the present Forest Service. Ten years later the service had an appropriation of more than $6,000,000, but as yet no impressive steps along the line of reforesting have been taken in this country, nor have the American people, seemingly, awakened to the necessity of safeguarding this natural resource which is second in importance and to land.

Redmond's Son Joins Opposition Party in Irish Free State

DUBLIN—Captain Willy Redmond, son of the old Nationalist leader, John Redmond, is gathering around him a thoroughly organized opposition party. It will be of purely nationalist character.

Captain Redmond does not aim at winning the government, but merely providing a well-organized opposition and their campaign of opposition will be conducted on purely constitutional lines. Helping Captain Redmond in the organization of his part is Tom O'Donnell, well known lawyer.

"To ensure that Irish national development shall proceed in accordance with the desire of the Irish people," is a striking quotation from the manifesto they have just issued.

"Such a party," the manifesto states, "must be inspired by the traditional principles of Irish nationalism, and must accept without reservation the Anglo-Irish treaty and the constitution.

If Tired, Worn-Out, Weak and Run-Down Regain Vigor Thru Gland Treatment

GLAND secretions are called hormones — mysterious messengers which science has discovered exert a remarkable influence on health, strength and vitality.

When the glands function normally, they supply these vitalizing hormones (or secretions) which are essential to physical well-being. And when the glands fail to function, health fails.

Now, glandular treatment, which is indorsed by eminent scientists and physicians of this country and Europe, is being used by thousands of men and women to help overcome a weakened, worn-out, run-down, exhausted condition and to regain the strength, vigor and vitality that are the natural benefits resulting from a normal glandular system.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Glandogen is prepared in convenient tablet form, for both men and women. Accept no substitutes, insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Mathews Cut Rate store will supply you.

WOMAN SLAYER GIVEN 12 YEARS

Georgia Ridgeway, convicted last week of second degree murder in the death of Dr. W. B. Borrer, was sentenced yesterday to serve 12 years in the state penitentiary when arraigned before Judge I. Grant Lazelle of Morgantown.

The court took more than an hour reviewing the case and declared that from the evidence submitted there must have been something "radically wrong going on in those offices and in the Scott's Run branch offices," and advocated a thorough investigation by the prosecuting attorney's office.

The court's remarks had to do with testimony submitted during the trial to show that on the day Dr. Borror died several drinking parties were held in his branch offices in the coal field of Scott's Run where he was company physician and also with the testimony that luncheon parties and drinking parties had been held in his main offices in which it was declared by witnessss both the dead physician and the defendant had participated.

Nations in Arrears On Payments for League of Nations

GENEVA.—Balance sheets of the League of Nations show that many nations are in arrears in their quota payments for the upkeep of League headquarters and its activities.

China owes the league a total of $628,000 and is the heaviest debtor. Being in arrears did not prevent China being elected to a temporary seat on the council during the last assembly. The republic of San Salvador, also holding a council seat, owes the league the modest sum of $2,637.

Peru, reputed Eldorado, owes $175,835. Bolivia owes $37,000, Honduras $13,999, Nicauragua $20,000 and Lithuania $11,400.

Several states have credit balances including Great Britain with $387,031, France with $344,039, Belgium with $106,012 and the Dominican republic with $769.

But—He "Felt No Better for That."

A man from Nebraska tells this: "For three nights I was kept awake by a bothersome persistent cough, and so were others of the family; and I felt no better for that. The very first doses of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me and in two days' time my cough was entirely gone." Think of the saving of distress to himself and others, had he taken Foley's Honey and Tar Compound at the start. It pays to keep it on hand. The large family size is a real economical buy. CANTON VICE LORDS PREPARE TO "COVER UP"

PAT M'DERMOTT WILL TALK ON MELLETT DEATH

"Key Figure" Signifies Willingness to Reveal Murder Plot.

TELLS BROTHER

BY BEN STERN.

CANTON, O., Nov. 2.—Stripped of their last protection, the silence of their henchmen, the vice lords of the region stretching from Pittsburgh to Cleveland and including Youngstown, Akron, Toledo and Canton, were being notified today by the "grapevine" route to cover up and, if possible, flee. This warning was sent out today when it was learned that Pat McDermott was willing to talk, and talk a lot.

Pat signified his desire to talk, it was learned from a reliable source, in a conference with his brother Tom, late yesterday afternoon. He told his brother:

"I'll tell them who killed Don Mellett and I'll tell them who wanted the 'bumping off' to be done."

Whether Prosecutor C. B. McClintock will take advantage of Pat's offer, or whether he will wait for the return of Ora Slater, Cincinnati sleuth, was the question today.

McClintock Visits Massillon.

Preponderant evidence against McDermott was gleaned late yesterday afternoon by McClintock in a visit to Massillon, Rudner's stamping ground. While there he interviewed a well known figure in the Pennsylvania-Ohio crime trust, who was willing to talk, as long as he did not incriminate himself.

Pat's resolve to "clear his chest" came as the result of the bringing here of Nadel, and George Pfaff, bootlegger and alleged henchman of Ben Rudner and, according to Slater, the "banker" for Pat McDermott when the latter went into his three months' hiding only to be delivered up by his relatives.

Pfaff talked in Cleveland and that information leaked into Pat's cell. Pfaff talked again late yesterday afternoon when Prosecutor McClintock visited him soon after his arrival in the Stark county jail.

"Bit by bit the evidence has been mounting higher and higher against the key figure man, McDermott, until it has overburdened his resolve not to "squeal" and demolished his last compunction," McClintock said.

DR. CAMPBELL ROTARY GUEST

East End Pastor Speaks on "Common Sense."

Dr. J. O. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, addressed members of the Rotary Club at their noon-day luncheon meeting today in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. His subject was "Common Sense."

M. W. Thompson presided. The chorus singing was led by Dr. Colin F. Kinsey. The guests included Franklin P. Geiger, superintendent of schools at New Philadelphia, O., a former resident of this city.

Thomas H. Fisher, active vice-president of the First National bank, introduced the speaker.

Rural Poll is Light.

The vote in the rural districts throughout Columbiana county was also reported to be light during the forenoon, farmers taking advantage of the good weather to catch up with their outdoor work.

More than one-half of the normal vote in Lisbon had been cast at the noon hour. Interest in the county seat town is centered on the proposed two-mill school levy and the three-cornered judgeship race in which two Lisbon candidates figure.

Democratic Leaders Silent.

J. S. Hilbert, chief deputy of the board of deputy state supervisors, stood pat on his prediction that the county poll will be approximately 20,000, while he placed East Liverpool's total between 5,000 and 5,500.

Republican leaders reiterated their claims of victory for the state, district and county ticket and predicted that Republicans would be elected to the judicial places.

Democratic leaders declined to make any forecast.

Will Speed Returns.

The election board, through Chief Deputy Hilbert and Clerk J. W. Moore, issued instructions to precinct judges to count first the state, district, county and judicial ballots, then the proposed state amendment. The proposed $225,000 bond issue for a municipal building and the 2.3 mill school tax levy will be tabulated after the other tickets are reported.

Messengers will be employed to dispatch returns from East Liverpool precincts to the election board's headquarters in the Betz building, Market street. Outside the city, presiding judges will telephone returns to district representatives of the election board.

Instructions to speed the count have been given all presiding judges.

Small Turnout in State.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 2. — Pre-election forecasts of a light vote in the Ohio election were generally borne out by reports from various sections of the state today, indicating but a small percentage of the electorate had visited the polls during the forenoon hours.

Ohio's Chief Interest

governor. Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, is the Republican candidate to succeed Donahey. Former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene, Cleveland, is the Democratic aspirant to occupy the seat in the United States senate now held by Senator Frank B. Willis, Delaware, who is a candidate to succeed himself.

The proposed state constitutional amendment, if adopted, would modify Ohio's primary election system so as to provide for the nomination of political candidates at state conventions. Delegates to these conventions would be chosen at state-wide primaries. Candidates now are nominated at the primaries.

Predictions of victory were voiced today by Democratic and Republican campaign leaders, including Charles R. Frederickson, Coshocton, and Thomas E. Dye, Urbana, chairman of the Republican and Democratic state campaign committees respectively.

"Presidential Bolt"

wash him from the national arena.

Even more closely political eyes are on Massachusetts, where President Coolidge injected himself into the campaign in behalf of his friend, Senator William M. Butler. If Butler is defeated by former Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, the leaders undoubtedly will view it as a direct blow to possible Coolidge aspirations for a third term.

In Ohio, the "home state of presidents," there is interest in Governor Vic Donahey's race for a third term and in the contest between Senator Frank B. Willis, Republican, and former Senator Atlee Pomerene, Democrat, for the senatorial toga. A Donahey victory or a Pomerene victory, would make either or both men available in 1928 for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Charlie Bryan Attempts Come-Back.

Down in Maryland, the effort of Governor Albert C. Ritchie to shatter all precedents by winning a third term in the gubernatorial chair, likewise attracted attention. Ritchie's race overshadows the fight between Senator O. E. Weller, Republican, and Representative Millard E. Tydings, Democrat, for a seat in the senate. If Ritchie wins, he too becomes "available" for the Democrats in 1928.

Out in the corn belt, Democrats were casting a wary eye on "brother Charlie" Bryan's attempt to return to the Nebraska governor's mansion.

The Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania elections attracted other political eyes because of the Ku Klux Klan and slush fund revelations brought out by Senator James A. Reed's senate committee. National leaders watched the Indiana race particularly to learn exactly what effect a Ku Klux Klan denouement can have upon a senatorial contest, as both Senators James E. Watson and Arthur R. Robinson, Republicans have Klan backing in their races for re-election against Albert Stumpf and Evans Woolen, Democrats.

OLD AND YOUNG GO TO BAPTIST CHURCH ALTAR

Many Reconsecrated After Rev. Mel Morris Speaks.

INSPIRING TALK

Marion Ball Sings "The Old Fashioned Religion."

Their countenances illumined, tears streaking the faces of several, a large number of persons experienced reconsecration at the First Baptist church revival on Fifth street last evening following a compelling sermon by Rev. Mel Morris, Maryland evangelist, on the so-called little gospel: "For God So Loved the World That He Gave His Only Begotten Son That Whosoever Believeth in Him Should Not Parish But Have Everlasting Life."

Inspired by the analytical and vigorous discourse of the visiting minister the old, young and middle-aged of the congregation commingled at the altar in a period of prayer that left them renewed and eager to aid in every manner possible the further work necessary in the evangelistic campaign.

In attendance aiding the pastor, Rev. A. H. O'Brien, were Dr. F. A. Dean, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church and Rev. George Westlake, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. The latter made the invocation preceding the sermon and the former offered prayer during the after service.

A delegation of members of the Pleasant Heights Mission of the church was present in a body and sang "He Ransomed Me" during the musical prelude. The official staff and workmen of the American Porcelain company, it was announced, would attend tonight's service in a body.

Using in conjunction an ukulele Marion Ball, the director of music, sang, "The Old Fashioned Religion," "The Blessed Bible" and "Do You Wonder Why I Love Him," the preliminary singing being concluded with "When They Ring the Golden Bells."

Three-Cornered Race in Illinois.

A three-cornered race in Illinois threw some doubt on the outcome there as "slugh" revelations handicapped the race of Frank L. Smith, Republican, against George E. Brennan, the dripping-wet Democrat. Near the close of the campaign, Hugh Magill, an independent Republican, entered the race to further complicate the situation. The "slush" charges were expected to have more bearing there than in Pennsylvania, where there is an out-and-out fight between Representative William S. Vare and William B. Wilson, a Wilsonian Democrat.

In Washington and Oregon, where "slush" charges were raised recently, similar fights were staged. There is a three-cornered race in Oregon, between Frederick Steiwer, Republican, Bert E. Haney, Democrat, and Senator Robert N. Stanfield, Independent. In Washington, there was a straight out race between Senator Wesley L. Jones, Republican, and A. Scott Bullitt, Democrat. Slush charges may also figure in the Arizona contest, where Senator Ralph H. Cameron, Republican, is opposed by Representative Carl Hayden, Democrat. Cameron raised the charges.

Three Autos Stolen.

Theft of two automobiles were reported to the local police last night.

A 1924 model Willys-Knight sedan, belonging to B. W. Clark, Daisy alley, was stolen while parked near the corner of Second and Union streets at 8 o'clock. The machine carried license number 241-112.

Ford touring car, 1925 model, belonging to Raymond F. Duncan of Chester, stolen while parked near the Standard pottery on Broadway at 10:50 o'clock, was later recovered. The machine is believed to have been taken by "joy riders" who afterwards abandoned it.

ALBERT CLARK IS HONORED AT CHURCH DINNER

Masonic Emblem and Other Gifts for Choirmaster.

Prof. Albert Clark, organist and choirmaster at the St. Stephens Episcopal church, who leaves today for Evansville, Ind., where he has accepted a similar position in St. Paul's Episcopal church, was the guest of honor at a dinner given by mothers of the choir boys at the parish house, at 6 o'clock last evening.

About 75 persons, including members of the choir, vestry, officers of the church and friends of Clark, attended the affair. Mrs. Thomas Kind was chairman of the score or more women who prepared and served the dinner.

The tables, arranged in the spacious dining hall of the parish house, were decorated in a color scheme of green and red, large bouquets of fall flowers gracing the tables.

W. C. Lynch, Chester, was toastmaster. Each of the 30 or more choir boys who attended the dinner, spoke briefly, answering Mr. Lynch's question: "Why I am sorry to see Professor Clark leave?"

Short talks were made by Herbert Goodwin, Bert Watkins, Carl Krug and Rev. Russell K. Caulk, rector of the church, who voiced a plea for harmony and co-operation not only among members of the church but among the entire parish membership.

On behalf of A. M. Burns, who was forced to leave before the program was completed, C. E. Nelson presented Clark with a Masonic emblem. Mrs. Thomas Kind, spokesman for the mothers of the choir boys, presented the honor guest with a framed testimonial from the mothers of the youthful vocalists. Prof. Clark was next presented with a beautiful silver trimmed baton by members of the choir, the presentation speech being made by Alfred Jewell.

Clark, in expressing his thanks for the gifts, explained his work since coming to this city a little less than three years ago. He also lauded members of the church and choir for their loyalty.

FOR Acid Stomach

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

Try a 25c Bottle

Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

LANGDON NOW COMEDY KING

Sad-faced Comic Scores in Film Hit at American.

Mayor Benedum probably wouldn't sanction a midnight showing of "The Strong Man," the current feature at the American theatre.

The riot of laughter that Harry Langdon provokes in this six-reel comedy would be heard all over town and keep the good citizens awake.

This man Langdon is a genius. And that doesn't do him justice. There is no use of reviewing "The Strong Man" in print. In the words of that grand old showman, it simply 'Must be seen to be appreciated."

Well, if you insist!

Harry as a Belgian ex-soldier(and you see some good battle burlesque), comes to America in search of a girl who wrote him "Buddy" letters. There is a "wow" of a sequence when he arrives at Ellis Island, the sad-faced comic looking for all the world like a lost child. There is a riot of fun when he becomes an assistant to a German weight lifter in a vaudeville act. And there is absolute pandemonium when he is nabbed by a voluptous vamp. Harry is at his funniest in the role of a pure-minded youth who doesn't know what all the shouting is about.

Langdon last night gave a most astounding performance of sorrowful mimicry. When they make more comedians like Langdon, who can give you a comedy that chokes off its chuckles in deep-seated sobs, then comedy will become the main fare of motion picture audiences. In "The Strong Man" there was quite enough pathos to satisfy the most exacting sentimentalists.

WELLSVILLE CASTS LARGE VOTE BEFORE NOON

B of First Ward Sets Pace With Total of 81.

Fourth Ward Electors Drop 147 in Boxes.

With the usual morning vote exceeded today by probably a third or more in practically every precinct of the city, indications were strong at noon that the ballot boxes would show an unusually large total when tabulations are made tonight on state, county, district and local issues.

With more than a nominal concern in the balloting as a result of local tax issues and interest in at least one of the county fights, electors here were getting out early.

At noon, 501 votes had been cast in the nine precincts of the city, with the polls at the Central garage—Precinct B of the First ward—leading with a total of 81.

Both of the First ward precincts, in fact, were up in the figures, the A precinct showing a vote of 52.

Seventy-one had been cast at the fire station—2 B—and 69 at the companion precinct.

The Fourth ward had turned in a total of 147.

Here are the precinct figures:

First Ward.

Precinct A—52; Precinct B—81.

Second Ward.

Precinct A—69; Precinct B—71.

Third Ward.

Precinct A—35; Precinct B—42.

Fourth Ward.

Precinct A—49; Precinct B—65; Precinct C—33.

Some Frank Words on Catarrh

Because catarrh is unpleasant, few like to discuss it. Yet all know its prevalence. Many think "It will go away of itself." But it never does. Some ignore it until catarrhal deafness sets in. Yet to endure the constant raising of mucus, the clogged nasal passages, the offensive breath of catarrh is today inexcusable. Thousands have proved that Hall's Catarrh Medicine drives away catarrh because it tones and strengthens the mucous membranes. When the inflammation of these delicate linings of nose, throat and head is reduced, catarrh vanishes. You owe it to yourself to try Hall's Catarrh Medicine today. At all druggists. Or send 85c to F. Cliff Orr's 90-Yard Run Gives Muskingum Grid Fans Big Thrill

Local Youth Big Factor in "Muskie's" Success; Vernia Makes Touchdown Against Heidelberg Eleven.

Two Wellsville boys, former high school athletic stars, are proving potent factors in the march of the Muskingum college football team toward the Ohio conference championship.

Victors in four conference contests to date, the Muskies rank along with five other conference rivals at the top of the heap, all boasting clean records.

No small part of the credit for the achievements of the Black and Magenta to date is due to Clifford "Rex" Orr and Ted Vernia. Orr is playing his second year at halfback on the Muskingum eleven and Vernia broke into the limelight in recent games as an end.

It was up to Orr to make one of the most brilliant plays recorded in years on a New Concord gridiron when he reeled off a 90-yard run from kickoff for a touchdown against Heidelberg. The Muskies defeated the Heidelberg outfit by a 19 to 6 score.

The "Black and Magenta," Muskingum college paper, tells about the play as follows:

"The first half was hardly ten minutes old before the initial Muskie touchdown was registered. After an exchange of punts, the Langmen took the ball on the Heidelberg 43 and with the aid of a 28-yard pass to Taylor, finally marched over the last white mark. Clark scored the touchdown on a quarterback sneak and also added the extra point with a placement kick. Heidelberg then opened up with a powerful offensive, scoring several first downs. Their touchdown came, however, when a punt which had been accidentally touched by a Muskie was recovered and turned into six points.

"But the suddeness of the Heidelberg score was only a preliminary to the greatest thrill which has even been experienced in the Muskingum stadium.

"Spectators had hardly sat down after the enemy's successful try for the extra point when Orr received the kickoff, and by a sensational piece of open field running, threaded his way through the entire opposing team for 90 yards and six more points. The 15-second dash was more thrilling than all the rest of the game. It seemed to demoralize Heidelberg, too, for a few minutes later, as the gun cracked, Vernia took a pass over for another touchdown.

"The second half was devoid of thrills and only Heidelberg's desperate attempts to turn the tide of battle with forward passes interested the spectators.

"The offensive work of Orr and Mintier and the defensive play of Ballantine were features."

Muskingum has piled up 90 points to their opponents' 15 during the season to date, beating Ashland, 6 to 0; Hiram, 19 to 0; Capital, 28 to 7; Ohio Northern, 6 to 0; Heidelberg, 19 to 6; and Otterbein, 12 to 0.

Their next three games are with Kenyon, Denison and Marietta, in order.

Orr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Orr, of Broadway. Vernia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Vernia, of Broadway.

TWO BOYS, GIRL, ARE ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

Girl Admits Leaving Husband in Indiana, Pa.

HELD BY POLICE

Husband Had Warned Youth in Letter, Authorities Say.

Two boys and a girl, claiming Indiana, Pa., as their home, arrested here yesterday afternoon in an automobile by Chief of Police John Fultz, are being held at the city hall pending receipt of information from Pennsylvania authorities.

The trio includes Mrs. Holly Jones, Raymond Risinger and Earl Laney.

Fultz observed the Pennsylvania license as the machine went down Main street yesterday and noticed a number of tires in the rear of the car.

Acting on the theory that it was possible the occupants of the machine were tire thieves, Fultz followed the car down Main street and stopped the three a short distance below the fire station.

Questioning them, Fultz asked the girl if she was married and the girl asserted that Risinger was her husband. She said she and Risinger had been married four months.

Suspecting both the girl and Risinger of concealing information of some kind, Fultz searched the latter and, he says, found a letter written by James Jones, alleged to be the girl's real husband, and addressed to Risinger. The letter, he said, was a warning from the girl's husband to Jones, admonishing the latter to stay away from her.

The three then admitted their identities and were taken to the city hall.

Arrest of Scaccuto In Detroit Marks Seventh In Kenney Death

Authorities Believe Latest Suspect to be Taken Can Furnish Information Concerning Case.

With the arrest at Detroit, Mich., of Antonia Scaccuto, seven men, all natives of Ifaly, are now in the county jail as the result of the murder of Patrolman James Kenny, at Wellsville the morning of May 17th last. The arrest by Chief of Police John Fultz and Sheriff George Wright, at Detroit, of Antonio Scaccuto may have considerable bearing upon the case when it is called to trial, as he is being held as a material witness.

Scaccuto, who was working at the Ford plant at Detroit, was also soliciting funds at Detroit, it is claimed, to be used in defending his cousin, Nick Scaccuto, who was indicted by the September grand jury on murder in the first degree.

When Sheriff Wright received a tip about what Antonio Scaccuto was doing in Detroit, he and Chief of Police Fultz, arranged with the Detroit authorities to arrest him. When Sheriff Wright and Chief Fultz arrived at Detroit, Scaccuto was then in custody, and it was also learned that he was arranging to leave the United States for Italy.

Scaccuto admits that he is acquainted with Mike Scola, who was arrested at Cleveland 10 days ago, but when first questioned about his acquaintanceship, denied knowing Scola. He has also admitted being in Wellsville about the time Kenney was killed, and that he was soliciting funds at Detroit to be used in defending Nick Scaccuto.

"Scaccuto had his trunk packed and was ready to 'pull out,'" Sheriff Wright declared when he returned to the county jail. "He agreed to return to Ohio, and while he did very little talking, we are of the opinion that inasmuch as he was soliciting money in behalf of the cause of his cousin that he knows more or less about the Wellsville murder."

Nick Scaccuto was the first to be arrested and held in connection with the death of Patrolman Kenney. An indictment was returned against him. Then followed the arrest of Joe Fusco, and the September grand jury continued his case.

Mike Zionno and Mike Scola were next arrested at Cleveland and have been charged with murder. They are now being held at the county jail without bond for their appearance before the next grand jury.

Soon after these two men were locked up, Rocco Carbicello and his brother, Bennie Carbicello, were arrested and also charged with murder in this case. These two men are also being held for action by the next grand jury.

Rocco Carbicello was arrested following his trial with Frank Fusco on an indictment charging him with bribery, that of having offered Sheriff Wright $390 to "lay off" further investigation into the death of Patrolman Kenney, this money being given the sheriff the afternoon of September 16 last. A jury convicted the two men after five hours' deliberation, and then counsel for the defendants filed a motion for a new trial.

Antonio Scaccuto makes the seventh to be in the county jail now, as a result of the death of the Wellsville officer.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruity laxative for stomach, liver, bowels

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm children and they love it

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals 'California Fig Syrup" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious, "fruity laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside cleansing." Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by "The California Fig Syrup Company."

How I Keep My Waves

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My hair is ever-wavy, with never a Marcel. It always has a glow. The reason lies in a hair dress which experts made for me.

I apply it on a brush twice a week. To fluff my hair I comb it backward, and the fluff remains. For a curl, use combs or fingers in the usual way, and the curl will last. It keeps a permanent wave in the same way. Or it keeps hair sleek and smooth for those who want it, and does it without grease.

This remarkable hair dress is now supplied by all toilet counters. It is called Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. The price is 75 cents.

No girl or woman will go without it when she once sees what it does. It multiplies the beauty of the hair and keeps it in the style one wishes. You will be delighted with it.

CRISP, WHOLESOME Fried Foods —without smoke or odor

FOUR TESTED RECIPES BY Winifred S. Carter

Crisco Cheese Balls

2 cups grated American cheese
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce
4 egg whites well beaten

Mix in the order given. Form into balls lightly with the fingers. Make them about the size of a small egg. Then roll in bread crumbs using fresh bread. Drop in deep, hot Crisco (375 to 385 degrees F.) or when a piece of bread browns in 40 seconds. Fry until a golden brown. Drain on soft paper and serve hot.

This recipe will make ten balls.

Crisco Apple Fritters

2 cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 tablespoon melted Crisco
½ cup milk
6 ripe apples

Peel and core apples. Cut in quarters. Beat eggs, add Crisco, then milk, then all dry ingredients sifted together. Dip each piece of apple in the batter and fry until soft in deep kettle of Crisco heated to 375 to 385 degrees F., or when a small piece of bread browns in 40 seconds.

Crisco Potato Cakes

These cakes are delicious with chops or cold meat and it is a good way to use left-over mashed potatoes, or even to cook more than enough and save cooking potatoes the next day.

To every three cups of cold mashed potatoes add one well beaten egg. Shape into flat cakes about one inch thick. Put enough Crisco into a frying pan to cover the bottom well. When hot, put cakes in and brown on one side. Add more Crisco if necessary. Turn with pancake turner and brown on the other side.

Three cups of potatoes will make nine or ten cakes.

Crisco Apple Griddle Cakes

2 cups bread broken in pieces
2 cups hot milk
2 eggs separated
1 tablespoon Crisco
1 cup flour
2 tablespoons baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped ripe apples

Soak the bread and milk together over night or until soft. Then rub to a paste. Add the Crisco, sugar and salt; then the egg yolks beaten until light. Add flour and baking powder sifted together. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Stir apples into the batter with a fork. Drop by spoonfuls on Criscoed griddle. Cook until partly done and then turn and finish cooking. Turn only once.

Gas Spoiled Sleep, Made Her Dizzy

"For years I suffered from gas on the stomach, bloating and constipation. Used to get headaches and dizzy spells. The first dose of Adlerika gave me relief. Now I rest well and the gas is gone."—Mrs. Blanche Brinkley.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In East Liverpool at the Economy Drug Store, and other Druggists.

First Big Tilt For County Scholastic Football Title Looms

THREE CONFERENCE TEAMS FACE TESTS

Muskingum To Meet Tarter In Kenyon

By Stanley D. Koch.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—While the Floradora sextet is now relegated to the time when a boy's long pants came from his father's old suit instead of the tailors, the Ohio conference gridiron sextet has three of its members threatened with similar oblivion.

Of the six undefeated teams, Oberlin, St. Xavier and Dayton do not play, while the other trio face contests that threaten their unstained record, Muskingum, expecting a Turk in Kenyon, may find a football Tarter, Ohio Wesleyan hopes to regain some of its lost laurels at the expense of Wittenberg, while the 1926 model of the Wooster machine might encounter a puncture in the Denison eleven.

The latter seems best fitted or opposed to keep its undefeated strain clear, for Denison, instead of being a red wave has shown itself only a crimson trickle. The game is scheduled for Granville and Coach Livingston's squad is still no set-up on its own home ground, but the Wooster drive plus that beautiful defense of the Black and Gold indicates another prospective triumph for Coach Murray.

Kenyon Down To Business.

At New Concord, the Muskingum outfit plays Kenyon. The Episcopalians have gone through all the disruption of a Russian revolution, but now seem to be down to business. Kenyon has the potentialities of a good team and with the factional and fraternity mixups out of the way, Coach Wipers may have evolved a sufficiently formidable eleven to tear down the Magenta from its pianacle. The Muskies haven't met much strong opposition so far and the two touchdown win over Otterbein wasn't very impressive. True, the field was nasty, but even then, there was little outstanding class to the victor's game.

In the other big game, in fact the biggest contest of the week, a rather bedraggled Ohio Wesleyan eleven clashes with a justifiably cocky Wittenberg team. The Lutherans have scored 21 touchdowns in five games this season as opposed to nine in all of the nine games last year. In "Dutch" Miller, the center, they have a bulwark of strength on defense and a keen diagnostician of plays. With Mauer and Schroeder as ball carriers, Wittenberg has a hard driving threat with which Coach Godfrey has mixed a nice aerial attack.

Wesleyan Favored.

Against this, Ohio Wesleyan must match its only fair forward wall but as equally strong backfield. In Blickie, Glancy and Swain, the battling Buckeyes have a powerful attacking crew and if the line can hold its own, Wesleyan can win. But so far the Black and Red forwards haven't looked very strong, so the slight odds favor the Springfield team. The contest is set for Deleware.

In the other league games, first comes the Ohio-Ohio Northern melee at Athens. This is one of those football classics that give thee winner more pleasure and glory than the other games of the season. Last year, the Norseman copped, 6-0, and in 1924, 12-7, but this season the worm appears to be a boa-constrictor and to have turned not just slightly but several complete somersaults. Ohio university appears to have a great eleven, while the Norseman have an off year and unless all football is worth a little less than waste paper, the Green and White will win easily.

At Akron, the Western Reeserve aggregation will present the Iowa shift attack to the probable discomfort of the Zippers. The one weakness of the Pioneers is the loss of a capable forward passer, and Coach Locke is trying to find one. If he succeeds, it will mean that the Akron secondary defense will have to be trotting back and forth trying to outguess the Red and White quarterback, for Reserve has a terrrific drive and that mixed with an aerial threat is—to say the least—rather unpleasant for the opponents.

Case, in meeting Hiram at Cleveland, should have little trouble, and Coach Fletcher will have the opportunity of giving his reserve strength some game experience.

"Babe's" at Home.

The conference babes are entertaining at home, this week-end, when Marietta takes on Otterbein in a hit-or-miss affair, which promises to be interesting in that Marietta may win its first Ohio conference game. The Westville squad is a slight favorite, but not enough to affect the final score.

At Tiffin, Baldwin-Wallace meets Heidelberg and is given the edge, chiefly due to the annual custom of the Bereans to win the last games of the seasons after dropping the first few.

The northern part of the state opposes the southern end when Mt. Union travels to Oxford for its perennial meeting with Miami. Here are two elevens that are overflowing with offensive power but none too strong on thedefense and unless something unusually occurs, it will be a high tally game, with the Miami crew slightly the choice.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 381 N Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation

PERSSON MAKES GREAT SHOWING WITH GORMAN

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Having forfeited his membership card in the benevolent and protective order of Volunteer Pallbearers, this writer cannot consistently predict, without endangering his amateur standing, that the heavyweight championship of the world is due to go on a long journey. But, after what happened at Madison Square Garden last night, he will venture to recognize this calamitous event as a distinct possibility. I don't mind admitting that I wandered out into the night greatly enamored of Harry Persson, Sweden's entry in the heavyweight sweepstakes.

Harry didn't win, at that. Suffering from a rush of authority to the head, Referee Jimmy Crowley disqualified Persson in the fifth round and awarded the fight to Bud Gorman on a foul. It was the only way Bud could have won, barring a flat iron in either hand.

The blow that killed father obviously was low. So was the one that immediately preceeded it, for Harry had much in common with old Cy Morgan, of the Athletics. He had plenty on his fast one but no more control than a skate without a foot.

Offhand, I would say that Jimmy De Forest must impress his man with the fact that it is against the intercollegiate rules to tackle below the knees. He has taught him everything else, except the matter of an adequate left hook. De Forest almost kidded Firpo into the title but, in a few short months, he has brought Persson further along than the man with the bearded chest ever was or will be.

The Swede looked the part and no mistake. He head-slipped Gorman's opening barrage of lefts and then rocked Bud with three rights shot straight from the shoulder.

This, apparently, is Persson's best punch, although his right to the heart, in close, was a fearsome thing to hear and look upon. He almost ruined Gorman with this attack in the second round, Bud scoring only with a left hook to the jaw.

The third round was much like the second, except that Persson was warned about low punching. The same warning also had been issued in the opening round.

Gorman came out for the fourth with the idea of carrying the fight to Persson but the Swede again crossed two rights to the jaw and Bud thought better of it. Persson, meantime, had been boxing cleverly. He picked off plenty of Gorman's left leads and slipped a lot more with his head. He was very cool and won every round but the fifth. That one was hardly under way long enough for him to win it, merely long enough for him to lose it—and the fight as well.

The customers disagreed violently but to no purpose. A customer, you see, has no right except at the box office. With rare presence of mind they give him the right of way here.

BISONS PRIME FOR W. & J. TILT

Confident They'll Hold Presidents to Low Score.

BETHANY, W. Va., Nov. 2—With the annual classic with W. & J. only one week hence, and with the chance of regaining their real standing among the bigger schools in the gridiron sport, which to date has been far from satisfactory, the Bethany Bisons will go into special training so as to be in the pink of condition for the battle at Washington. Every year the Bison-W. & J. game is the feature game on the Bison card, and the season is usually concluded successful if W. & J. is held to a low score.

Last year, the Presidents came down to Wheeling with a wonderful team as is the usual custom there, and the Bisons, although outweighed, held the big Washington team to a 20-0 score. The score at the end of the third quarter was 7-0, proving that the Green and White was in the game up to their necks, and that the defeat was due mostly to the supreme advantage in avoirdupois held by the W. & J. team.

This year, however, is no exception, as the W. & J. gridders are even bigger and far more superior in team play than they have been in past years. Built around "Big Bill" Amos, monstrous fullback, forward passer, punter, and ball carrier extraordinary, the Presidents sport an evenly balanced eleven. "Whooty" Wilde, Heisel, Pauly, Day, Carlin and others round out a line machine which Coach Dave Marrow is grooming for the eastern collegiate championship. Decisive wins have been gained by W. & J. over Carnegie Tech, Fordham and Rutgers, which would make things all the better for Bethany if the smaller West Virginia gridders can hold the Presidents to a low score.

Much interest is attracted also by the fact that Coach Furman L. Nuss, Bethany mentor, is a former star of W. & J., while Dave Marrow, W. & J. coach, was formerly coach of the Big Green eleven which tore through class A colleges and gave real battles to the ones they didn't beat.

The Bethany regular eleven, although some of them were battered up in the Duquesne game, is expected to be rounded out into the best of condition by Wednesday. Scrimmage will be held every day in preparation for this classic at Washington.

INSIDE GOLF

By CHESTER HORTON,
Maker of 51 Golf Champions. "Golf's most successful teacher," says "Chick" Evans.

If when addressing you find that the club, when you cause it to hang downward from the point of the right shoulder, points to a line through the right foot instep, your balance is right. The head of the club, thus suspended might point as well to a line between the instep and the toe, but if the clubhead plainly hangs to a point in front of the right foot your balance is too far forward. If your tendency is to be forward this way you will really be surprise at how far back on your heels you appear to be the first time you push back so that the clubhead, suspended from the shoulder, will point to the instep. But it is well to be back this way for solid hitting.

OLD ATHLETIC RIVALS BATTLE ON TURKEY DAY

Newell and Chester Grid Teams Arrange Game.

Chester and Newell athletic warfare, temporarily stilled after Newell's late summer baseball victory, will be resumed on Thanksgiving day when football teams representing the two West Virginia towns will battle at Smith Field, Chester, for supremacy in the gridiron world.

Manager Joe Dickey, head of the Laughlin China company's football club, today announced negotiations for the big battle had virtually been completed with the exception of minor arrangements.

In all probability the contest will be staged on Thanksgiving morning to avoid conflict with the East Liverpool-Wellsville high school game billed here in the afternoon.

It was decided to stage the event on the Chester lot because of the fact that Smith field is, without exception, the best athletic layout in the district at the present time.

In the meantime, both the rivals will probably book in a couple of games in order to keep in shape.

DELANEY GETS CHICAGO BOUT

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Jack Delaney, light heavyweight champion of the world, has been signed by Promoter Neils Vierup for a ten-round decision match at the Coliseum here Nov. 26, it was announced today. His opponent has not yet been selected.

The fight will be an "added attraction" for visitors here to see the Army-Navy football game, the boxing show being staged on the eve of the great service classic.

Johnny Risko, of Cleveland, looms as the most likely opponent of Delaney. Bud Gorman, of St. Paul, and Harry Persson, of Sweden, also are being considered.

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK—Bud Gorman, of Kenosha, Wisconsin, won on a foul from Harry Persson of Sweden, fifth round.

Yale Okun, of New York, won decision over Little Boy Blue, of St. Paul, Minn., 10 rounds.

Art Weigand, of Buffalo, N. Y., won decision over Murray Fitlitz, of New Haven, Conn., 10 rounds.

George Godfrey, of Leiperville, Pa., won on foul from Jack Townsend, of New York, sixth round.

AT LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Mike O'Dowd, of Columbus, O., knocked out Battling Furrell, of the Philippine Islands, in the fifth round.

Bill Meyer, of Indianapolis, knocked out George Gehrig, of Louisville, in the third round.

AT HARRISBURG, Pa.—Joe Reno, of Trenton, N. J., and Vince Forgione, of New York, drew, 10 rounds.

AT CHICAGO — Joey Sangor, of Milwaukee, won decision over Johnny Hill, of the Philippine Islands, 10 rounds.

AT MINNEAPOLIS—Johnny O'Donnell, of St. Paul, won decision over Pal Moran, of New Orleans, 10 rounds.

Ernie Fligel, of Minneapolis, won decision over Chuck Rychell, of Chicago, 10 rounds.

Highs To Clash With Undefeated Salem Gridders Saturday

Coaches Kidder and Cox Working Overtime This Week on Defense Formations for Use Against Fast, Tricky Red and Black.

ON to Salem and the Columbiana county football championship.

This is the slogan of East Liverpool high gridders and their followers today as the first game of the series of three crucial battles looms this week.

Undefeated this year, winners by decisive scores in practically every contest in which they have played, the Red and Black machine stacks up as a powerful combination, probably the toughest proposition the Blue and White has faced during the season to-date.

The north countians are feeling justifiably chesty over their last Saturday's victory over Alliance high, old opponents, and imbued with no small degree of confidence as a result of this conquest, will make a mighty effort to take the measure of the Ceramic contingent.

Can they do it? Eighteen or 20 battling Blue and White gridders will tell the world they can't and expect to convey a similar message specifically to that part part of the world inhabited by the Red and Black, next Saturday.

Salem triumphed over Wellsville recently at Wellsville but was unable to do anything with the Wellsville line. The visitors caught the Orange and Black flat footed on a tricky pass formation. Salem, in the opinion of the locals, may as well mark that oone off the books for the Blue and White is set for it and, besides, the local mentors are working overtime on additional defense formations.

The Salemites will have a slight advantage in view of the fact that the game will be played on the home lot, but realization of the fact that a victory in this contest would put them on the top of the pack should key up the East Liverpool eleven to such a point that any home ground advantage would be overcome. It's going to be one of the best scholastic battles in eastern Ohio next Saturday.

OFFER STATE PARK TENDERS

$37,500 is Appropriated for Guilford Sites.

Tenders were offered today and will be offered Wednesday to property owners whose lands have been included in the survey for the new State park at Guilford. The last session of the state legislature appropriated $37,000 for the purchase of this property, and in the event the tenders are not accepted, condemnation proceedings will follow.

It has also been announced that as soon as the deeds have been turned over to the state, the department of highways and public works will immediately advertise for bids for the construction of the dam, an appropriation of $15,000 having been set aside by this department for this project.

Plans for the new construction work were completed by County Surveyor Lloyd C. Kirk early in the summer, and forwarded to the department of public works. Estimates have also been worked up for the construction work. With contracts awarded for construction work within the next 45 days, and should an open winter prevail, it is said by Mr. Kirk that building would continue as long as weather permitted.

Here's my smoke-platform

A JIMMY-PIPE with an ample bowl. A tobacco that is mild and mellow, yet not "mollycoddle," if you get me—and you do. You know what I mean . . . mild, yet with plenty of body to let you know you are smoking. A tobacco that smokes cool.

A tobacco that is fragrant in the package, to whet the appetite, and equally fragrant as you smoke it. A tobacco that does not bite the tongue or parch the throat. A tobacco so wonderfully satisfying that you are kept busy smoking and reloading, all day long.

There's only one tobacco in the whole wide world that I know of which meets this platform. Its name is "Prince Albert" and I claim it really is the prince of smokes. More men smoke this tobacco than any other brand, which is important and likewise true.

If you are still outside the fold of contented jimmy-pipers, buy a tidy red tin of P. A. today. No matter how satisfied you appear to be with your present brand, try Prince Albert. I promise you a smoke-experience that will be new and delightfully different.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

DON LANNING AS STAGE STAR

From mold runner to star would make a nice title for a Horatio Alger tale which would about fit the case of likable, laughing Don Lanning, who walked out of the pottery here seven years ago and joined a traveling musical comedy company owned and operated by Jimmie Hodges. He comes next week at the Ceramic theatre as star and owner of his own company of musical comedy entertainers.

Through his own endeavors he came rapidly to the front and was featured in several road attractions, including such well known musical comedies at "Very Good Eddie," "Top Hole," "Irene" and "Buddies." After a few worth while real estate investments and turning them loose at the height of the boom in Florida, he made arrangements with Hodges' former manager, J. E. Eviston, to organize and open his own company in Miami last season. Since then he has played with great success through the south and over the Wilmer and Vincent theatre circuit in Pennsylvania.

Don will stop just one week in his home town and will present while here three shows which have enjoyed Broadway runs. Monday and Tuesday he will offer the New York Princess theatre musical comedy success, "Very Good Eddie," in which he has the role of lisping Eddie Kettle. On Wednesday and Thursday he will stage "Top Hole" which ran all of last season in New York following its success in London with Ernest Glendenning and Clare Stratton in the featured roles. Don will be seen in the dual role portrayed in the metropolis by Glendenning. Friday and Saturday he will present what is conceded to be the best of American musical comedies, "Irene."

Besides Lanning, well known musical comedy performers with the company are Mildred Robinson, Emily Ross, Nelle Walker, Edna Jacques, Patsy Cullen, Milton Reick, Lew Hampton, Rafe Poulliott, Jack Barbee, Bartley Cahill, Thomas Findlay, Emmett Merill and Fred Brigman.

Of special consideration is its gorgeous girls, its dancing grace, its glowing costumes, and its warmth of music, myriads of bewildering delights.

For beauty, delivate and fantastic, in which John Murray Anderson always exalts, he has devised new revels in the exotic, which excells in splendor any of the elaborate creations of the proceeding "Greenwich Village fairy tale, "The Happy Prince." It is a piece of enchanted loveliness, with its poetic episode laid in the center of an antique and rustic palace square. Its presentation is the acme of grace and beauty. Then there is "The Garden of Use to Be" equally as exquisite. But these are only two, and there are any number almost as lovely that help toward the composite loveliness of the "Greenwich Village Follies."

Superlatives are exhausted in an attempt to extel the John Murray Anderson stage-craft wizardy. Suffice is that the latest edition of the "Follies" to be here is the most brilliant and artistic of the series.

The revue boasts of plenty of good comedy and an excellent cast to interpret the varied comedy skits.

McIntyre and Heath, two of the best known comedians on the American stage head the cast as featured comics. Their reputation for negro comedy character action is world-famed, and in their new negro skits and negro songs and negro dances there buffooners are a hilarious treat. Other revue notables are Janet Winters, Leonard Sillman, Bob Brandies, Bud Williamson, Miriam Meade, James Cushman, Elsbeth Holman, Dorothy Cadwell, Elsie James, Eva Scase and a chorus of forty vivacious dancing beauties contribute much to the success of the production.
